BREATHES THERE THE MAN.

Breathes there the man with soul so dead Who never to himself hath said, This is my own, my native land ! Whose heart hath re'er within him burned, As home his footsteps he hath turned From wandering on a foreign strand? If such there breathe, go, mark him well; For him no minstrel raptures swell; High tho his titles, proud his name, Boundless his wealth as wish can claim, Despite those titles, power and pelf, The wretch concentred all in self, Living, shall forfeit fair renown, And, doubly dying, shall go down To the vile dust from which he sprung,
