The guests were resmoking concert and progressive whist ceived in the sergeants' room from 8 to 9 o'clock, and from 9 to 10:30 progressive whist was played in the upstair parlors. Sergt. McKenzie, Seventh, won the first prize, a very nice briar pipe. The booby, a corn-cob, went to Sergt. Campbell, of the Thir-teenth, Hamilton. After whist an adjournment was made to the sergeant's room, which was very tastefully decorated. Here an elegant repast was provided. Owing to the absence of Sergt.-Major McCrimmon, who was confined through illness, Color-Sergt. Jacobs, president of the sergeants' mess, acted as toastmaster, and did so very ably. "The Queen" was given, and it was quite evident that loyal hearts beat under the Queen's uniform. "Canada, Our Home," was coupled with the names of Mr. T. H. The Liberty Bell in a Receiver's Hands

-Sheriff May Sell It. Chicago, Nov. 25.—The Columbian Liberty bell enjoys the distinction of having a receiver. Judge Gibbons today appointed the American Trust and Savings Bank to take charge of the bell, upon the application of Geo. S. Knapp, the custodian of the bell, which has been involved in a good deal of litigation. Knapp has a claim against the Liberty Bell Company for $5,000, and wants the court to order the bell sold at auction unless his claim is satisfied. Knapp also asks for an order restraining the sheriff from selling the bell and its truck under a levy which that official has made.
