CONSERVE THE RESOURCES AND PEOPLE THE COUNTRY

W. H. Rowley Gives Some Useful Information Concerning Canada's Best Policy

W. H. Rowley, president of the E. B. Eddy Co., Hull, Quebec, was in the city yesterday after a trip thru western Canada as far as the coast. Mr. Rowley has been going and coming across Canada for the past quarter of a century. No one is a keener observer and the result of his observations are always interesting.

In conversation with The World, Mr. Rowley delivered a dissertation on our national waste, how to prevent it and utilize our resources, extend our industries and increase our population. "The great west is filling up with population, but the older provinces need more people. In some parts of Quebec there is a falling off, as the latest returns show that in eighteen districts out of sixty-five there was a loss of population," said Mr. Rowley.

"Nearly half the counties in the Maritime Provinces have by the last census actually lost not only the natural increase of 2.4 per cent, but a further percentage, drawn away by the attractions offered by the great west, or the industrial centres of New England."

"Loss of population is always a symptom of decadence and how that is to be arrested is a question of deep importance to the country and of interest to every public-spirited citizen. All artificial inducements, such as subsidies, bonuses, etc., offer only a temporary stimulant and ought to be put aside as valueless."

Wonderful Resources. "From Lake Superior to the sea east, the country possesses natural resources as great as the vast wheat prairies and stock lands from Lake Superior to the Rocky Mountains and a hundred times more diversified. This belt of country, more than a thousand miles in breadth, possesses immense forests, fisheries, stretching around hundreds of miles of coast line, minerals of all kinds, coal and iron, great fruit, dairying and stock raising lands, and above all, a superb climate for developing the human animal to its greatest perfection. No country is more richly endowed. What more necessary for the creation and development of a nation? Still it has a great lack of people; the country needs more people and we do not have them because under the ordinary laws of supply and demand there is not profitable employment for them. How is employment to be provided for workers? The only way is to work up the natural resources of wealth—our forests, fisheries, farms, minerals. These are the only true bases of the future activities, and wealth of our people. Provide employment by working up raw materials, of which our country is rich, into finished products, ready for consumption. For example, take our forests. Shipping abroad logs and wood, to be worked up by foreign labor and returned to us in a finished product, is a reckless waste of national extravagance, as it transfers to another country both the population and capital required in manufacturing, as well as the higher profits created."

First Law of Nature. "We wish the United States well, but

Alfred Wilson & Co.
 98 QUEEN WEST

We have to look out for ourselves. We have no need to ask them to manufacture for us goods made from our own natural products. We want the workers this side of the line—not south of it. We want people to fill up our towns and villages, make new homes, earn money, spend it, develop new lines of trade, industry and manufacturing. With more population we will be less dependent, more powerful, more wealthy and more important in the world's affairs. We will give a concrete example of the labor value of even a rudimentary industry—that of barking or "rossing" pulp wood. It is taken from the report of the United States Committee on Pulp Wood, Etc., lately published. A witness who is a pulp wood operator in the Adirondacks and ships "rossed" wood to Watertown, and also to Niagara, gave evidence that he paid for stumpage $3.00 per cord. The labor of cutting and carrying to the mill is $4.50 per cord. The labor cost of "rossing" is $1.50 per cord. The mill burned the refuse. The freight to the pulp mill is $1.75. The overhead charges 30c. The price at the mill the present year is $15.50, so that the profit was $1.06 per cord.

Significant Facts: "Therefore, the labor employed received $3.70 of the $15.50. The witness did not give evidence as to the two succeeding steps, namely, converting the wood into pulp, and from that into paper, but his evidence was sufficient to show the labor value of even so rudimentary a process as peeling the wood. His output of barked wood is 25,000 cords a year. The labor cost of this outside of stumpage would be over $200,000.00. That sum at $500.00 per year, per man, would afford employment to 400 hands; suppose half of them were married, that would represent a village of 1200 people, all demanding the requirements of civilized life and augmenting the general well-being and prosperity of Canada, but not altogether applicable to Canada, but if one "rossing" mill producing 25,000 cords, can give so much profitable employment, what would be the result if all the half a million cords of pulp wood annually exported to the United States, were "rossed" on this side? The labor earnings would reach into millions and extra workers employed and their families would add tens of thousands of people to our population."

"But take a step further and suppose the wood, instead of being exported was converted into pulp on this side of the line, one could hardly compute the value of such a huge industry and the greatest source producing pulp wood country in the world, wood pulp itself is only one in the catalogue of Canadian assets, that ought to be utilized to bring workers, prosperity and wealth to our country. The question now is will each province undertake to conserve its great resources of natural wealth to the use of its own people in order to attract to Canada all industrial people that will increase our population of consumers and taxpayers, develop the internal trade and enrich the whole country with the results of new productive energy?"
