HOME AND CREENS

Oh there's a power to make each hour As sweet as Heaven designed it. Nor need we room to bring it home. Though few there be that find it! We seek too high for thines close by And lose what nature found its. For hife hull here no charms so deat As Home and Friends around us?

We oft destroy the present joy
For lature hopes—and prace them;
Whilst flowers as sweet bloom at our feet
if we'd but stoop to raise them;
For things afar still sweeter are
When youth's bright spell hath bound us
But soon we're taught the earth has naught
Lake Home and Priends around us!

The friends that speed in time of need, When hope's last reed is shaken. To show us still, that, come what will, We are not quite forsaken: Though all were night—if but the light From friendship's altar crowned us, Twould prove the bliss of earth was this-Our Home and Friends around us!

DEATH OF AN IMSH PATRIARCH ON THE GAMBIA.—The following very enrious intelligence appears in the Limerick Chronicle: - Capt. Edward Lloyd, of Beechmount, near Limerick, died on the 17th of March last, having resided on the west coast of Africa during the incredible period of 42 years, having gone to that country in 1805, along with the celebrated African traveller, Mungo Park
He lived at the Gambia since 1816, where his then wigwam formed the nucle is of the present beautiful settlement of the splended stone and brick houses, now inhabited by a population of 300 onls.
The town can loast of a spacious school house,
thouse, now inhabited by a population of 300 onls.
The town can loast of a spacious school house,
which has cost about £20,000. He was recknoed the patriarch of the locality, living respected, and dying regretted, not only by his numerous children and grand-children, colonists, native chiefs, kings, but by the natives generally on the banks of the Gambia, far into the interior of that extensive continent. His word had so much influence among them, that it stayed many a sanguinary war, or shortened its duration. In the Egyptian expedition, in 1801, he was a captain in Abercrombie's army.

Manchesep, One of the profoundest writers

Manchester.—One of the profoundest writers on social politics of the present age, has justly remarked that few of us are aware of the value of Manchester in the present constitution of things: perhaps still fewer amongst us have an adequate en necessary of the ended of the grantic forces which as yet lie undeveloped in the system of which it is the representative. Manchester is the type of one grand idea—machinery—an idea that is new in the world; at least in that large sense in which its vital significance consists. The ancients had no conception of such an idea; and hence, the past can teach us nothing either of warning or of wisdom respecting it. The records of an eternal element of human society, which has begun to influence the alliers of nations, and in spires and promises soon to become the world-ruling power, does not occupy a single page in the history of civilisation. It is a new idea—a new power; and thus, ever and anon, as the lumen race advances in intelligence, are new powers evolved by the human intelligence, are new powers evolved by the human intelligence. This is that ever been. As men have been educated to receive new truths—moral powers, or new inventions physical powers they have been given.—People's Journal.

STATUR OF NAROLEON AT MARKNOO.—On Jun 11, the anniversary of the battle of Marengo, colossal statue of Napoleon was creeted on the field, to commemorate the victory of the Preus army. The statue, by one of the most skillful a tiets of Italy, has been creeted on a root which books down upon the field of battle, eppoche troad leading from Term to Genoa.

"Thou last of all the Romans, fare there well." Pressident Polk.—Mr. Bowden, Member of Congress for Alabama, addressing some of its constituents the other day near Montgomerry, in epcaking of Mr. Polk, termed him the "last of the Romans." "Well," said a countryman standing by, "I am tarnation glad to hear that the breed is so well high run out."—Hoston Transcript.

⁶ The world mest be propled."—The wife of Mr. William Tinker, a fisherman in New York, presented him, on Thursday, with three little female Trukers. A Mrs. Dunn, of Detroit, recently presented her loved and leying lord with three little Dunns. Mrs. B. F. Cannon, of New Salem, on Thursday night, presented her husband with figure little Cannons.—(Pennsylvanian).

FRANCE AND PRUSSIA SANDS' SARSAPARILLA.

THE fame of this preparation is not confined to the limits of our own country, but by its powerful agency in arresting and curing disease, has won its way successfully into different countries in Europe, as the following unsolicited testimonials from individuals of the highest respectability shows in the most conclusive and satisfactory manner. The same happy success has attended its use there, which has always marked its course where ever adopted, and diseases have yielded to its health-restoring influence which Medical Men of profound skill had pronounced incurable. The most potent simples of the vegetable kingdom are united in this preparation, and the combination is such that one modifies and improves the other, and under the name of Nands' Sarsapavilla, is presented a compound differing entirely in its character and properties from any other preparation, and unrivalled in its operation on the system when laboring under disease. Its approval by Physicians and mentof Science, and the uniform success which has marked its use, furnishes proof sufficient to convince every candid and discerning mind of its great superiority and value.

LEGATION UNITED STATES,

Messes, A. B. & D. SANDS:

Genllemen—Having seen your Sarsaparilla used in this City with great effect in a severe case of Scrofula, I have been requested to order three dozen bottles, which please send, on the payment of the enclosed draft on Messes, Hinchin & Unkhart with the least possible delay. I am inspired only by a feeling of philanthropy, in begging you to sublish this unasked testimony to the value of a medicine which, widely as it is known, is not known as it ought to be.

I am, goulemen,

Respectfully yours, &c.

I am, gentlemen,

THESE extraordinary Pills are composed of plants which grow spontaneously on our own soil; and are therefore better adapted to our constitutions, than medicines concocted from foreign drugs, however well they may be compounded; and as the INDIAN VEGETABLE PILLS are founded upon the

The citizens of New England are respectfully informed that in consequence of the great popularity which the above named Indian Vegetable Pills have earned by their sationishing goodness, in gang of counterfeiters are now industriously engaged in palming on the uneuspecting, a valueless and perhaps dangerous medicine, under the name of Indian Vegetable Pills.

This is to inform the public that all genuine medicine has on the boxes
