JOHNSON'S JOURNEY TO END IN RUSSIA

Colored Fighter Says He Made No Pretences in Coming Into Canadian Terri-

Had No Intention of Outwitting Customs Officials-Will Return This Way. 2

MONTREAL, June 28.—(Special.)-What chance did Ketchell have against you?" was the question jovial said that he did not disguise himself Dan Galaghan, immigration officer of the Dominion of Canada, threw at big Jack Johnson, heavyweight pugilistic. champion of the world, aas the latter was awaiting the final signing of the official papers that would allow him to leave Canada for Havre, France tomorrow morning.

The scene was in the sanctum sanctorum of the Dominque immigration offices near Richmond square on St. Antoine street, and Johnson at the time was doing some signing himself. Some one had given given him a bunch of admission badges to Delorimier. Park for the races and he was distributing them with a free hand. Sud-denly one of those present, however, evolved the idea that the badges would be worth much more as souvenirs than as admission tickets to the races, and as admisison tickets to the races, and there followed a general demand for autographs on the pasteboards, which kept the big black fighter busy for about half an hour, even Mrs O'Hoolihan, the Dominion immigration agent, asking for one. It was during this time that Mr. Galaghan poised his question, to which the fighter replied.

Wouldn't Have a Chance.

"Not a chance in the world. Ketchell was an exceedingly good man and could beat rearly all the heavy-weigths in the country, but when a 'Well," said Mr. Galaghan, "you better turn up at the boat between nine and ten tonight as you promise to do or I'll take a fall out of you myself," and when this sally coused general laughter, Mr. Galaghan added as he stuck out a pretty hefty chest: "Oh, well, I weigh two hundred pounds." At this one of the men connected with the immigration bureau said: "We tried to get the chief to take a try at him." "Ah," said Mr. OHooligan, reflectively, as in memories of athletic provess of bygone days came back to him. "The best I could do now would be ta run".

Johnson, while his right hand, adorned at the third finger with a heavy ring of chased silver carving a scintillating stone, was kept busy signing Delori-mier Park passes, had been a careful listener to the conversation, now said smilingly: "I used to be a good runner myself at one time and have done the hundred in eleven seconds.

THE BEST YET

The not infrequent pessimistic reports regarding the outlook in the Dominion will die a matural death when the true import of the enormous crop which is promised in the Canadian west this year is realized.

Mr. D. R. Wilkie, president and general manager of the Imperial Bank of Canada, told The Sunday World Saturday that he had just received word from the general manager of the Weyburn Bank, that speaking from seven years' experience, from seven years' experience, he could say that the crop prospects in Saskatchewan had never been so bright before at this time. This will mean something like a hundred dollars for Canada.

he was out on bail and his case did not look rather bad for the watchfulness of the Dominion immigration officers along the Ontario border, for he swore that neither the customs nor immigra-tion officers or the palor or sleeping car conductor asked him any questions. He also stated that he was going thru to Russia on the understanding that he was to have two fights there, and when asked how he expected to get into the empire of the czar, con-sidering his court record, he smiled once and said, "That is all fixed."

meeting, will also see him and his wife on board tonight and the Quebec police will be instructed to see that he does no stop over there. Johnson, who has been keeping fairly well under cover while here, drove up to the immigration office in a cab with his wife and only accompanied by a colored friend. No one seemed to know what was coming, but when he left there was such a big crowd outside of the railing of the grounds surrounding the buildings that he had hard work pressing thru.

At the office of the United States consultaneously it was appropried that consul-general it was announced that they had no orders regarding Johnson's future movements.

AMERICAN WOMEN DIVIDED ON THE RIDING QUESTION

Many Admit the Old Way the More Graceful, But the New Way Is Safer.

WASHINGTON, June 28 .- (Special.) American women are divided on the question precipitated by King George, as to whether they should ride a horse astride or with a side saddle.

Prominent women questioned here admit opposition to riding astride, but there are many who would hardly think acw of riding the old way.

The daughters of President Wilson have different views on the question. Miss Margaret Wilson rides side saddle, while Miss Jessie and Miss Eleanor Wilson ride astride.

Mrs. Robert L. Owen, wife of Senator Owen of Oklahoma, when asked what her opinion on the subject was, said: "Oh. I'm for the cross-saddle every time. I not only find it more comfortable, but much safer." Mrs. Owen is a great horsewoman, and has had a cross-saddle made after her own dedmit opposition to riding astride, but

Socialists Attack German Justice

Censured Sentence of Five Years on Reservists For Taking Part in Saloon Fight.

BERLIN, June 28.—A violent attack on the crueities of the German mili-tary system of justice was made today by the Socialist members of the day by the Socialist members of the imperial cabinet.

It censured the terrible sentences pronounced by a court-martial at Erfurt yesterday, when five reservists were condemned to five years' imprisonment each, another to one year and a seventh of seven months for participating in a dispute in a saloon after the annual muster of men belonging to the army reserve. In the course of the row a couple of policemen were hustled.

the socialists pointed out that on any other day of the year the offence of that not even the torrid atmosphere the men, as private citizens, would have been punished by a light fine or a few days' confinement, but because from the job. they were under martial law for the whole day of the muster they had been treated in this severe manner. After an unsatisfactory reply from the German minister of war, the Socialists succeeded in obtaining the support of the whole house except the Conservatives, in demanding the immediate discussion of a resolution for the reform of military jurisdiction.

Congress May Adopt President Wilson's Recommendations and Enact Banking and Currency Law.

Special to The Sunday World, WASHINGTON, June 28.-Leaders n congress and the administration fear that the present session of congress will run into the late fall and possibly merge with the session that will begin the first Monday in Decem-

There are a few optimists like Re-presentative Hill of Tennessee, who see no reason why congress should not conclude its labors by the middle of October.

Representative Henry of Texas expressed the opinion today that congress probably would remain in secsion continuously until late in the summer of next year. Prophesies as to the duration of the session are based on the theory that congress will follow the recommendation of President Wilson and enact a canking and currency reform law.

Democratic leaders are in a position to force the passage of such a measure in the house, but in the senate, where any way to cut off debate as long as senators want to talk. Senators have broken talking records in the past currency debates and fear is expressed
