School Boots

Boys and Girls

The one department on which we spend much time and thought is that of school boots.

In addition to good appearance, our School Shoes are made for service. Our most critical customers are the boys and girls. They want neat appearing shoes, and they want them to fit. The parent, while susceptible to style, is most anxious for wearing quality. Here is where our School Boots excel. They combine both.

RED CROSS ENDORSATION

By Head Office at Toronto—
Letter to St. John From Mrs.
Depew Tells of Gratitude For Help and of the Great Need
For Aid

After quoting from one of Mrs. Depew's letters, the Red Cross headquarters at Toronto adds the following:
An Urgent Appeal.

This is a letter from a lady who, situated a short distance from the fighting lines, is seeing the real and true realities of war. It cannot fail to very deeply impress all who read it and will perhaps be the means of inspiring many in this country to do their share on behalf of the brave men who are doing their work so nobly and suffering so greatly. We cannot begin to realize the horrors of this terrible war until we are near the zone of fighting and see day and night the constant stream of wounded and maimed men, many of them in the prime of life, being brought in from the trenches after a hard fought fight.

These men are fighting to keep inviolate our homes and liberty and our very national existence. It will not be enough to thank them and cheer them when they return but the time to assist is now when they are bearing the privations and misery of this dreadful conflict without a murmur and always with a smile. They are doing much for us; they are giving all they have, their very lives, that we may rest secure and emerge from this world war greater than ever. What are we doing for them? Can we do too much?

This country has risen splendidly to the occasion and in every part of the Dominion our women are making great sacrifices for the soldier men, in high positions and with great responsibilities, are devoting their time to the work of the Red Cross and patriotic associations as well as giving of their wealth that the work may be carried on with greater energy as the war continues and as our Canadian troops take their place in the battle line. He that gives now, gives more.

(It may be asked by our readers how the socks from Nova Scotia reached the Monrovia? Probably in this way. The Nova Scotia branch sent them to the Canadian Red Cross in London. From there they were sent to the British Red Cross and from there to the Paris depot. From Paris they probably went to the Chateau d'Annem (now Allies' Hospital) recognized under the British Red Cross.)

In a letter received by Mrs. Carrell, referring to the tea to be given by the ladies of the French club in aid of the Allies' Hospital, Mrs. Depew says:

"I was so pleased to receive your letter and I cannot tell you how it touched me and how good I think you and your friends are to send me anything. I am sure I assure you we need it, although the Americans have been wonderful, sending supplies in huge quantities; still the expenses of equipping and running this place are awfully heavy, and we need money more and more every day. We keep a list of the money received and the donors will be told just what was done with the amount sent them. We have been working very hard and have had about 400 fearful cases, for they send us none but those who are so frightfully wounded that they cannot be taken farther, and the death rate has been under 20 per cent."

"The life is tragic and exhausting, but I would not be anywhere for the world. Some day I hope to write a few memoirs which will give you a little idea of what we are living through."

As I write, the cannon are booming away, but we are quite used to it. I cannot tell you how much I shall appreciate any help St. John will give. Excuse brief letter, my correspondence is simply enormous, but I just had to tell you right away, myself. Address letters as usual. I cannot head this because of Censor.

Money may be sent to the Allies' Hospital Fund, Morgan & Grenfell, London, England, and supplies to the American Relief Clearing House, Paris.

CANADA'S SHAME

Condemnation of the scandals revealed by the enquiry at Ottawa as to the purchase of boots, horses, and other army supplies was freely voiced from Toronto pulpits on Sunday of last week.

"The revelations during the past week should cause every true Canadian to hang his head in shame," said Rev. J. W. Aikens, of the Metropolitan Church.

"No matter who the guilty man may be, put his photo in the rogues' gallery," counselled Rev. J. S. Speer at North Parkdale Methodist Church.

"Punish him as a man ought to be punished who puts such a handicap on our boys going out to fight for us."

"The bandit who robbed the man on the Jericho road was not nearly so great."

Old Ways Merely Quieted The Corn

The New Way Ends It

Some folks still cling to liquids, to inefficient plasters, or to merely pering corns.

They wrong themselves.

Their own friends keep free from corns by using Blue-jay plasters.

They apply one in a jiffy, then forget the corn. In 48 hours, without pain or soreness, the entire corn comes out.

A famous chemist found this way which makes corns out-of-date. One can't prevent them easily, but to keep them is folly.

Millions of people know that.

a danger to the Roman government as were these men who have endangered Canada's safety by providing our soldiers at the front with inferior equipment," declared Rev. W. L. F. Rowland, at New St. Andrew's Church.

"We see the disease of modern business life in its most acute form in these melancholy revelations at Ottawa," said Rev. Robert Law at Bloor Street Presbyterian Church. "These men are like the vultures which scent a carcass from afar."

"These are vices which are eating our life out," declared Rev. W. A. Cameron. "It is the frantic shamelessness of a race for wealth which will traffic in the blood of Canadian sons. These fumes which have reached us from the capital city are nauseous, and should cause every high-minded Canadian to blush for shame."

UNITED STATES REPLY TO BERNSTOFF'S PROTEST

Secretary Bryan has forwarded the United States reply to Ambassador Bernstoff's protest against the sale of munitions and other war supplies to the Allies, as a breach of neutrality. The reply said that the U. S. government does not intend to place any embargo on the exportation of munitions, but buy who wish, and to refuse to sell to England and her allies would be a breach of neutrality.

TWO MILLION TONS OF INDIAN WHEAT

Enormous Quantity For Export Under Government Arrangements

London, April 22—Under arrangements by the Imperial government for controlling the sale of Indian wheat, exports to the enormous amount of two million tons will be sold under government auspices. This is probably the largest transaction of the kind on record. The first cargo has been sold at 67 shillings a quarter. Assuming that an average price of 65 shillings is obtained, the whole amount involved will reach about $145,000,000.

The firms engaged in the trade are made government agents and the maximum price is fixed and will be gradually reduced as the season advances. Any profits accruing on the sale will benefit the Indian revenue.

ILLINOIS VOTERS HIT SALOON BLOW

Eleven Towns Added to Dry Column And All Previously Dry Territory Held

Chicago, April 21—Results of local option elections in twenty-six towns and villages in Illinois yesterday are claimed as a victory by anti-saloon leaders. Eleven towns went into the dry column, abolishing about eighty saloons, and all previously dry territory was retained.

Figures provided by the anti-saloon leaders showed that there are now fifty-five entirely dry counties, forty-six partially dry, and one entirely wet. Seventy county seats are dry, and thirty-two wet.
