

MOVIES OPEN TO NEW GENERATION

Sons and Daughters of Several Stars Make Good in The Ranks

HOLLYWOOD, Cal., Nov. 11.—The second generation of motion picture players with familiar names is making its appearance on the silver screen. At least eleven children of movie actors, the parents of some being stars, have made their debut on the screen. They are Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., Ralph and Virginia Bushman, Lincoln Steadman, Richard Walling, Edward Fiel, Jr., Rita Carewe, Ann Rork, Lambert Hillier, Tim Holt and Dolores Costello.

Young Walling is the 20-year-old son of William Walling, stage and screen actor. He had taken up commercial art and was working as a helper and studying photography in the Lasky studio laboratory when he was "discovered." His only previous experience in acting was at the age of six as "Jimmy" in "Salvation Nell" played by a stock company in San Francisco.

Ralph Bushman also recently made his initial appearance in the movies and immediately was placed under contract for another picture. He thus is competing for a place among the Kluge lights such as that of his father, Francis X. Bushman, Virginia, Ralph's sister, was married after her screen debut.

OPIMUM SMUGGLING METHODS REVEALED

Can Thrown Over From Incoming Liner and Then Picked up by Motor Boat

VICTORIA, B. C., Nov. 10.—How thousands of dollars worth of opium is smuggled into Canada through Pacific coast ports every month, after being thrown into the sea and picked up by speed boats, was revealed in recent drug prosecutions here. These followed the efforts of the Canadian Mounted Police to smash an Oriental dope ring which has been supplying the drug users of a large part of America. The methods adopted by the smugglers to defeat the vigilance of police and customs officers are complicated and extremely difficult to fight, the recent court actions show. As liners approach this coast from the Orient, confederates of the smugglers toss large tightly-sealed cans of opium overboard near a point agreed upon. The cans are attached to wooden floats, but are sunk far below the surface of the water by heavy weights. To all appearances the floats are pieces of driftwood, but below them is suspended their valuable burden.

After the liners have passed up the coast on their way to port, men in speed boats follow them, searching for the wooden floats. These are marked with peculiar Chinese characters which would escape the average eye. To those who are looking for them, the floating pieces of wood are easily distinguishable from the usual flotsam and jetsam on the water's surface. When there is no danger of detection, the smugglers haul up the opium and convey them ashore under cover of night.

After police officers had discovered these wily methods of smuggling, they dragged Vancouver harbor and the waters near the Canadian quarantine station here. Their haul included hundreds of cans of drugs intended for distribution all over this continent. On board incoming liners they discovered caches of opium concealed in the furthest recesses of the hold, where Chinese cabin boys had hidden it, out of the reach of the ship's officers, and ready to be cast overboard at the favorable moment.

Men of Trinity Arrange For Supper Gathering

Organisation for an every member canvass of the parish was made at the much enjoyed supper gathering of the men of Trinity congregation held last evening when George D. Ellis was chairman and there were about 70 present. A committee of ladies from the W. A. and the Young Women's Guild, convened by Mrs. E. A. Schofield, served the excellent feast and the supper table was very attractively decorated with bowls of fruit and candles. A hearty vote of thanks was tendered to the ladies on the motion of Lieut. Col. W. H. Harrison, seconded by Geoffrey Stead. During the evening short addresses were given by H. E. Craven, Bernard Collier, W. Shives Fisher and Rev. C. Gordon Lawrence, the rector. The work of organisation was entered into enthusiastically and captains for the teams were appointed.

CAR OFF THE TRACK TWICE IN NIGHT

Street car No. 116 on the East Saint John route proved a source of trouble last night. While on the track to Red Head, the car left the rails, the cause being attributed to a loose wheel. After considerable time the car was placed on the rails again and was ordered to the barn for repairs. While proceeding along Pitt street, near Queen, the car once more left the rails and before coming to a stop had crossed the street. It took about one hour and a half before it was moved and taken to the repair shop. In the meantime it was necessary for passengers to transfer.

SCREEN INVENTION IS GIVEN TESTS

Arthur Maude Believes He Can Secure Illusion of Depth For Pictures

NEW YORK, Nov. 11.—A new theory of lighting in motion pictures which gives the illusion of depth on the screen has been developed by Arthur Maude, screen director, who is now making a series of two-reel dramatic productions in natural color carrying the results of his research to the screen. He "shoots" through an area of darkness at the front of a scene towards the actors near the back, his lights being placed at both sides in the rear of the scene. This lighting, coupled with the unusual color effects obtained by Technicolor Process, produces the third dimension effect in his pictures. Director Maude calls this new lighting the theory of darkness. Many directors strive to eliminate shadows about them, for he contends that the lighting should be used to develop the full power of a scene instead of soiling the fire, so to speak. He explains that all corners of a room in actual life are not brilliantly lighted—and he employs the same reasoning for his picture.

Keeping Your Schoolgirl Complexion

By FRANCES Noted Beauty Adviser

Copyrighted 1926 by P. O. Beauty Features

Wash Face?—Yes

But mind what sort of soap you use

Take care that you use only such soap as is made solely to protect the complexion, then always according to this simple rule.

FOREMOST skin authorities agree washing the face regularly as essential to natural complexion clearness. But all urge greatest care in selecting the kind of soap one uses.

Risking a precious complexion to an unproved soap is a folly. The only kind of soap to use on your face is a soap made solely to safeguard the complexion. Launder and cleanse with any soap you wish. But when beauty is at stake, take care.

The accepted skin care of today starts largely with Palmolive, a soap made of rare cosmetic oils, a soap made for one purpose only—to be used freely and lavishly on the skin.

The rule in skin care
Expect more from this
Wash your face gently with Palmolive Soap, massaging it softly into the skin. Rinse thoroughly, first with warm water, then with cold. If your skin is inclined to be dry, apply a touch of good cold cream—that is all.

Do this regularly, and particularly in the evening. Use powder and rouge, if you wish. But never leave them on over night. They clog the pores, often enlarge them. Blackheads and disfigurements often follow. They must be washed away.

Get real Palmolive
Do not use ordinary soaps in the treatment given above. Do not think any green soap, or represented as of palm and olive oils, is the same as Palmolive. It costs but 10c the cake—so little that millions let it do for their bodies what it does for their faces. Obtain Palmolive today. Then note what an amazing difference one week makes. It BEATS... as it Sweeps as it Cleans

"Positive Agitation"
As accomplished in the new Hoover is heating—the time-consuming requirement of thorough rug-cleaning—reduced to an exact minimum. This is achieved by means of a totally new appliance—the exclusive and patented Hoover Agitator illustrated here. Section lifts the rug from the floor and beats it on a cushion of air while the Agitator gently butters out all the embedded grit as the strong suction draws all dirt into the dust-bag.
