SCORE IN ATTITUDE

Persons on Submarine Question. However, Says Britain Not Yet Prepared to Put Defence Outside the Pale of Civilization—Root's Proposals for the Regulation of Undersea Boats.

(Canadian Press Cable.) London, Dec. 30.—Efforts at the Washington conference to curb the use of the submarine as a weapon, and France's claim for a large undersea fleet, continue to be the absorbing topic in England.

The majority of the editorial writers agree with the French attitude, which the Daily Telegraph says confronts the world with the possibility of the world wide orientation of naval policy away from the capital ships and towards the submarine.

The Daily News condemns France's isolation as "the disastrous debasing of a standard of international morality," and the Daily Chronicle says France's behavior cannot be regarded as other than unfriendly to Great Britain.

The Morning Post on the other hand rides the Liberal newspapers' criticism, and adds: "It is foolish, because France refuses to fall in immediately in the British proposal, to threaten with ostracism."

The Daily Mail thinks that Arthur Balfour expressed the general sentiment of the British nation when he regretted that an agreement as to submarine regulation had not been reached.

The Westminster Gazette believes the conference can hardly fail to accept the regulations and, referring to the whole submarine question, says: "The American people are not likely to accept defeat at the hands of one government."

DISCUSS ROOT RESOLUTIONS

New Rule Relative to Use of Submarine—Statement by Sir Robert Borden.

(Canadian Press.) Washington, Dec. 30.—Decision on the proposal to outlaw entirely the use of submarines against merchant craft was awaited today from three of the five powers—France, Italy and Japan—when the naval committee of the arms conference resumed discussion of the second Root proposal for a new rule in international law to accomplish that purpose.

The amendment was offered after the suggestion had been accepted by the Root as author of the resolutions, and the discussion ended for the day at that point without any expression of the five powers would agree finally among themselves to such prohibition without awaiting world assent to such a proposal.

The resolution was to be valued, Secretary Hughes declared during its discussion, as a reminder to any of the signatory nations between whom future differences might arise "that the weapons which they possessed were not as in the past to be used without reference to the laws of God and man."

Washington, Dec. 30.—Sir Robert Borden this morning declared himself confident that the naval conference would be highly satisfactory to the civilized world.

The Root resolution may be divided into three sections. The first declares it to be unlawful for any submarine to fire upon a merchant vessel without first calling upon said vessel to surrender, or to sink such vessel without first landing the crew and passengers in a place of safety. The second section declares that it is "obviously" impossible for a submarine to comply with such rules. It shall be unlawful for the undersigned to attack merchant vessels. The third section declares that "any submarine commander violating these rules may be hanged as a pirate by any country having him in custody. An amendment suggested by Mr. Balfour pledges the five great naval powers to refrain from using the submarine as an offensive weapon at least in the event of any war between themselves.
