GIG AT IMPERIAL; MME. FURLONG-SCHMIDT AND FINE PICTURES

ending Bill of Week an Excellent One, With Very Attractive Features. he crowds who visited Imperial Theatre yesterday were regaled with some quite different in the line of up-to-date entertainment. J. Warren Keane, who proved to be as fine a magic act as graced St. John boards in many an air of refinement pervaded the minutes of mysterious doings the piano obligato played by Miss White throughout this period enlivened the act wonderfully, making entertainment exceptionally bright. Keane, whose wondrously amused every eye, invaded the audience as the curtain took up to his hair-sundry array of value belonging to patrons, to amusement of everybody else but the termination of those whom they engaged. Many new tricks were used and some of the popular old ones. It is safe to assume that Keane and his musical partner will be a great attraction throughout the remainder of the week. It is certainly very Keith act and maintains the tone excellence which has marked the Imperial bills to date.

Madame Kathleen Furlong-Schmidt, who recently returned after some time in Europe, was pleasantly received, and sang "My Little Persian Boy" from the song-cycle "A Persian Boy," with a fine appreciation of poetic qualities of the number. Madame Schmidt, who governs herself very fully, has a number of new songs for engagement. The full feature of current delight in our part Kalem detective story end, "The Riddle of the Tin Soldier," Miss Alice Joyce playing the strenuous lead. It is a fiction in which two of a wealthy capitalist are kidnapped, the boy soldier proving a convenient ferret out the thieves; the girl of which is prosecution for one of the most stirring risks and mix-ups ever in films, with beautiful Alice in the thick of it. "Alkali Lake" was a fine foil for this excellent act, and sent the people from the sea laughing until their sides ached.

Acid stomachs are dangerous because acid irritates and inflames the delicate lining of the stomach, thus deranging and preventing the proper action of the stomach, and leading to many nine-tenths of the cases of neck trouble from which people suffer. Ordinary medicines and medical treatments are useless in such cases, for they leave the source of the trouble, the acid in the stomach, as dangerous as ever. The acid must be neutralized and formation prevented, and the best way for this purpose is a teaspoonful of Epsom's magnesia, a simple anti-acid, taken in a little warm or cold water after eating, which not only neutralizes the acid, but also prevents the formation from which acidity is developed. Foods which ordinarily cause acid distress may be eaten with impunity if the meal is followed with a liberal quantity of magnesia, which can be obtained from any druggist, and should always be kept handy.
