

The St. Andrews Standard.

PRINTED BY A. W. SMITH.

ARTIS SUMMUM EST OPTIMUM.—Cic.

[12. 6d. PER ANN. IN ADVANCE]

No 37.]

SAINT ANDREWS N. B. WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 25, 1861.

Vol 28

European Intelligence.

Arrival of the "Europa."

THREE DAYS LATER FROM EUROPE.

HALIFAX, Sept. 18.

The "Europa," from Liverpool, 10 a. m. arrived at Queenstown on the 14th, and at Southampton on the 15th, and at New York on the 16th, giving the great satisfaction of the British Government, and the great pleasure of the people of New York.

The "Europa" is a fine ship, and is commanded by Captain

James Smith, who is a

very experienced and

able officer. The ship

is well equipped, and is very comfortable.

The "Europa" is a fine ship, and

is commanded by Captain

James Smith, who is a

very experienced and

able officer. The ship

is well equipped, and

is very comfortable.

The "Europa" is a fine ship, and

is commanded by Captain

James Smith, who is a

very experienced and

able officer. The ship

is well equipped, and

is very comfortable.

The "Europa" is a fine ship, and

is commanded by Captain

James Smith, who is a

very experienced and

able officer. The ship

is well equipped, and

is very comfortable.

The "Europa" is a fine ship, and

is commanded by Captain

James Smith, who is a

very experienced and

able officer. The ship

is well equipped, and

is very comfortable.

The "Europa" is a fine ship, and

is commanded by Captain

James Smith, who is a

very experienced and

able officer. The ship

is well equipped, and

is very comfortable.

The "Europa" is a fine ship, and

is commanded by Captain

James Smith, who is a

very experienced and

able officer. The ship

is well equipped, and

is very comfortable.

The "Europa" is a fine ship, and

is commanded by Captain

James Smith, who is a

very experienced and

able officer. The ship

is well equipped, and

is very comfortable.

The "Europa" is a fine ship, and

is commanded by Captain

James Smith, who is a

very experienced and large force in that vicinity. The position of affairs at Munson's Hill remains unchanged.

No large force is visible from this side of the entrenchments. The rebels are evidently burning the woods in that direction around their fortifications. Nearly all the regiments in the neighborhood of Arlington Heights and the Chain Bridge, were out under arms during all last night. The artillery practice is daily continued at the forts.

In a skirmish last night near Ball's Cross Roads, it is feared that a Lieutenant in the 3d Vermont Regiment and a few men were taken prisoners, as they are missing.

Major Lemon, of the New 32d Regiment, commanding the picket post at Bailey's Cross Roads, reports today that negroes were seen performing picket duty for the rebels.

Last Friday afternoon, at the time of the burning of the Unionists at Ball's Cross Roads by the rebels, Samuel Birch, wife, daughter and three sons, residing two miles to the right of the forks of the roads, were captured by the rebels. It is supposed their property was destroyed, though nothing regarding this is positively known.

The above are all the facts that could be gleaned from a journey from Chain Bridge to Alexandria.

Capt. Kerrigan, of the New York 25th Regiment, arrived yesterday at Ball's Cross Roads, a gentleman who was engaged in legitimate business, and in possession of a pass from Gen. McClellan. He was sent under escort a distance of three miles to the headquarters of Gen. McDowell, who promptly ordered his release.

The Lincoln Cavalry, composed of two companies from Pennsylvania, one from Michigan, and one from New York, is now thoroughly organized, and its field and staff officers having been sworn.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 15. A detachment of Col. Young's cavalry, under Capt. White, arrived three days yesterday near Fort Tobacco, Maryland, and brought them to Washington. On their persons was found tobacco and other contraband designed for transmission to the enemy from that neighborhood so conspicuous to the Virginia shore and of the advantages of which the secessionists have long availed themselves.

REAR, Walker, of Brooklyn, the Washington correspondent of the New York Express, went to Fort Tobacco on Friday afternoon with a despatch of Col. Young's cavalry, on a scouting tour, and aided by a guard of two soldiers captured an active secessionist, who was placed in confinement at a house near the place of his arrest. The guard having been obliged to attend to their horses and other business, the prisoner, while Mr. Walker was taking minutes of the conversation with him, suddenly drew a knife and plunged it into the latter's bowels, and rushing from the house made his escape before one of the guards, who were outside, could have a shot at him.

Boston, Sept. 19.

Communications between the British Government and its Consuls in the Rebel States will hereafter by the consent of the Federal brig Timandra, Amoor river; 80th, frigate Satanas, from Panama, and will go into dry dock at Mare Island. Sailed 28th, brig

Martha Washington, for Valparaiso; 28th, ship Sackett, London.

Ship Franklin Haven is loading wheat for England; camp is being established near San Francisco, where volunteers under the new call for 50,000 troops are to be quar-antined, until after the election, when more volunteers from the interior will leave for San Francisco, as they want to save their votes.

There is much hostility in Tehama against the Spaniards on account of the murder of two men by them and burning and plundering their victims' houses. Many Spaniards are obliged to flee.

A telegram from Preka of the 26th, states that the report, massacre by Indians of an emigrant party on the Northern routes is confirmed by the arrival of only one survivor, who reports that there were fourteen families, numbering one hundred persons, and the whole company of men, and women and children were inhumanly butchered.

POETRY.

The Sea is England's Glory.

BY J. W. LAKE.

The sea is England's glory,

The bounding wave her throne.

For age-bright history,

The ocean's her own.

It was the first the first,

Her banner leads the brave,

In peace she reigns as queen,

The Empire of the wave.

There is England's splendour,

Her wealth the sea's glory,

She is the world's defender,

The feeble to sustain.

Her gallant sons in story

Shine brightest of the brave,

Oh, England's strength and glory

Are on her Ocean Wave.

Thou loveliest land of beauty,

Where dwells domestic worth,

Where loyalty and duty

Shine each heart and hearth.

Thy rock is freedom's pillow,

Thy rampart of the wave,

Oh, England's strength and glory

Shine on her Ocean Wave.

From the London Illustrated News.

The Female Blondin.

The success which has attended the performances of Blondin has had its natural effect in producing rivals in his line of business. On Monday night a female Blondin displayed the extraordinary exploit of crossing the Thames at Cremorne on a tight rope; and had it not been for an accidental defect in the fixing of the rope the exploit would, there is little doubt, have been quite successful. The lady ascended from the Surrey side, and had achieved three-fourths of the distance across when she was observed to falter. The moment was one of painful suspense. She made her way backward, however, and in a short time again assayed the ascent; again she stopped when a considerable way across, and down she came to the people below, as if to cast up a rope to her. Ultimately, she let herself down by a rope to the surface of the river, and was taken up in a boat. The absence of guilpoties to steady the main cord is stated to have been the cause of her failure. These guilpoties had been attached to them; and it was understood the ropes were cut away by some thieves. The courage displayed by the lady under the above trying circumstances created almost a greater amount of admiration than would have been produced had the artist walked all the way from Battersea to Cremorne. The interest exhibited in this performance was immense, and both sides of the river were densely thronged.

The deficiency in the arrangement of the rope across the Thames at Cremorne having been remedied, the Female Blondin made her second attempt on Monday, and with a success which showed that the failure last week was in the appliances. The daring equilibrist began her exhibition of skill an hour earlier than on the first occasion, starting, as then, from the Battersea side of the water. She stood forth in the light of the declining sun, her gold-broidered dress and white pole gleaming resplendently. Her progress was firm and at times rapid, the whole distance being traversed in seven minutes.

Thousands of people lined the banks of the river the bridge, and every spot where a view could be obtained; and the gardens themselves, owing to the excellent opportunity the esplanade offers of seeing the performance, were crowded. Every one seemed delighted at the lady's success, and as she proceeded on her way towards the garden, steadily but confidently she was greeted with loud and prolonged cheering.

Fanny Fern on Sons-in-law.

[Fanny Fern (Mrs. Par on) having lost her dear daughter in marriage, makes the following remarks by her rather significant. When she penned them, "Dusticks" (Mr. Thompson) had probably just declared his intention.]

How any young fellow can have the face to walk into your family and deliberately ask for one of your daughters surprises me.

That it is done every day does not lessen my astonishment at the sublime impudence of the thing. There you have been, eighteen or twenty years of her life, combing her hair and washing her face for him? It is lucky the thought never strikes you while you are doing it, that this is to be the end of all.

What if you were married yourself? That is no reason why she should be wretched away into a separate establishment just as you begin to lean upon her, and feel proud of her or at least it stands to reason that after you have worried her through the measles, the chickenpox, scarlet fever and the whooping cough, and had her properly baptized and vaccinated, this young man might give you a short breathing time before she goes. He seems to be of a different opinion; he not only insists upon taking, but upon taking her immediately, if not sooner. He says, well about it—very well; you have no objection to him, not the least in the world except, when the world is full of girls, why couldn't he fit his eye on the daughter of somebody else? There are some parents who are glad to get rid of their daughters.

Blue eyes are as plentiful as berries; why need it be this particular pair? Don't she have meat, and bread, and clothes enough to say nothing of love? What is the use of certainly is a mother, and you can never have but one