OBE
, B. C.GROCERS' PICNIC
WAS A SUCCESSTWO THOUSAND PEOPLE WENT OUT TO SIDNEY

Enjoyable Day Spent by All—A Long List of Attractions and Sports

(From Friday's Daily.)

Never before in the history of the Vancouver Grocery, Retailers and Wholesaler's Association has a more successful picnic been held than that of yesterday. Nearly two thousand persons from all over the city attended the picnic which was held at the favorite spot, Pagan park, Sidney. The whole population of Sidney and the surrounding districts turned out in full force, and the picnic was a tremendous success.
The V. & S. line presented a merry sight, the thousands of pleasure seekers leaving on the place.

Every train which left the city was crowded with grocers and their friends, who intended to celebrate the annual picnic in loyal style. While all returned rather tired after a strenuous day, they nevertheless voted this picnic as the most delightful one they have yet attended. The first train left at 8.30 in the morning, and the last one returned at midnight. The committee in charge arranged for a late train so that after witnessing the sports and other amusements during the day the celebrators would be able to enjoy a few hours dancing in the big pavilion. Bant's orchestra furnished the music.

Upon the shoulders of the following committee rested the success of the day, and great credit is due to the members for the capable manner in which they arranged things, not only to make the picnic a success, but also to make it a profitable one. The committee in charge arranged for a
enjoy a few hours dancing in the big pavilion. Bant's orchestra furnished the music.

Early in the morning teams representing the retailers and wholesalers met at the base ball game on the diamond there. For several seasons there has been an out-standing doubt as to which of these teams is the superior.
Last year the wholesalers won, but the grocers would not acknowledge the defeat as one which settled the doubt.
After the result this time the retailers will have to bow down to the truth.
The game was a very close one, in favor of the wholesalers. It was a keenly contested battle, as the closeness of the score indicates.

In the afternoon the lengthy programme of races and other events was held. All the races had numerous entries, and the competition was keen.
Simultaneously with the sports a baseball game was played between the Capitals, of this city, and the Sidney aggregation. This probably was the feature of the day's entertainment. The game was a very close one, in favor of the wholesalers. It was a keenly contested battle, as the closeness of the score indicates.

The baby show was one of the interesting events of the afternoon. The gramme, R. Toner, J. D. Jay and W.
H. Smith were selected to judge the numerous entries, but they were bashful and did not like the idea at all.
After a great deal of coaxing they finally accepted the honored position.
They had a hard time in deciding the winners. They, however, awarded the prize for the best baby girl to Mrs.
Dan Peden's child and for the best baby boy to Mrs. Percy Cudlip's boy.
The winners of the lucky tickets can be seen at the Saunders' Grocery Co.'s store, Johnson street, where their prizes.

Mrs. Medina won the prize for the most comical and sustained character in the grounds. Little Mary had an old colored lady in ragged clothes.

to make it a profitable one. The committee in charge arranged for a
enjoy a few hours dancing in the big pavilion. Bant's orchestra furnished the music.

Early in the morning teams repre-
met at the base ball game on the dia-
which of these teams is the superior.
feat as one which settled the doubt.
After the result this time the retailers
will have to bow down to the truth.
keenly contested battle, as the closeness of the score indicates.

gramme of races and other events was
tries, and the competition was keen.
Simultaneously with the sports a baseball game was played between the
of the wholesalers. It was a
keenly contested battle, as the closeness of the score indicates.

gramme, R. Toner, J. D. Jay and W.
H. Smith were selected to judge the
numerous entries, but they were bash-
ful and did not like the idea at all.
finally accepted the honored position.
prize for the best baby girl to Mrs.
Dan Peden's child and for the best
baby boy to Mrs. Percy Cudlip's boy.
prizes.
