REACTION IS IMMINENT IN MARKET

(By Associated Press.)

New York, N. Y., Aug. 4.—The stock market has to contend with the growing conservatism of stock commission houses, which is voiced in the warnings contained in advices to customers, to buy high level of the market and the danger of reaction. The number of successive days of advancing prices was cited today with increasing frequency as an evidence that reaction was imminent. The professional element acted on that prospect by putting out short sales and attempting to force the reaction at various new points. This demonstration of resting power in the market was accepted as renewed proof of the control held by large financial interests of the course of the market. The news continues to indicate enhancing values of securities and the only question in the speculation is of the technical position and whether prices have had already more advance than they are entitled to. The immunity of the call loan market from any influence of the shifting tide of the currency movement makes a bulwark for the speculative position and encourage the holding of securities, many of which still pay a material higher investment return than can be secured in the money market. The crop news comes of cheering purport day after day; the publication of the net earnings for June and of the fiscal year for the Harriman lines was signalized by an advance in the price of Union Pacific to a new record price. The industrial specialties were the favorites in today's show of strength. Reports of increasing purchases of equipment by the railroads imply increased value for stock in that group. The coppers had the benefit of a higher price for the metal in London and also of rumors reported from London of a big merger of the largest companies now concerned in the mining, smelting and sale of copper.

Stocks were irregular. Total sales, par value, $6,022,000.

U. S. fours registered declined 3⁄4 per cent. on call.

CLOSING COTTON LETTER.

By direct private wires to J. C. Mackintosh & Co.

New York, Aug. 4.—The Liverpool market came 5 points higher than expected from last night's close, but the sentimental effect of this improvement was counteracted by a decline of 12 points in the foreign spot market. Our market opened unchanged, but from the first reacted in a manner to illustrate that the technical position had been measurably impaired. This appeared to give big bear interests courage and under organized selling prices dropped about 35 points, catching heavy stop-loss orders on the way down. It was urged that one big bull interest had been liquidated under 12 cents when this pressure was removed the leading options rallied 20 points and showed about 15 to 17 under last night's final. The decline was doubtless accelerated by reports from Texas of cloudy weather in that state, with the likelihood of rain. Today's liquidation has improved the technical situation and there is little doubt the underlying conditions augur high prices later on, unless there should be a radical appreciation of the condition of the crop plant, which seems unlikely, but for the time being the bull position seems vulnerable, and we would not be surprised to see further drives before the trend turns definitely upward.

CLOSING STOCK LETTER.

By direct private wires to J. C. Mackintosh & Co.

New York, Aug. 4.—Despite the withdrawal of support by good interest and the appearance of realizing in considerable volume followed by a reactionary trend of prices, the action of today's market was not such as to alter the upward movement on prices had culminated. Reading, the Steels and other prominent issues, which had been recent speculative leaders, sold off from 1 to 2 points in morning hours, but the strength of the industrial group persisted, particularly in the public utility and the railway equipment shares. Another rise in Jersey Central to 308, a new high record, mopn stopped the pressure in Reading and that stock led the rise during the afternoon. At the close the average of prices was lower than yesterday, but in view of the fact that prices have enjoyed several days of continued advances this recession was not surprising.
