SUFFRAGE AWAKENS HER SISTERS WITH A BUGLE BLAST; YOUNG WESTERN WOMAN SYMBOLIZES THE "CAUSE."

"SUFFRAGE" IN SCULPTURE AND MISS ELLA BUCHANAN WHO DESIGNED IT.

The comprehensive composition in sculpture, "The Suffragist Arousing Her Sisters," by Miss Ella Buchanan, has become a bond of sympathy and effort between leaders of the cause in New York, Chicago, San Francisco, St. Louis, Cincinnati and Louisville. Pretty casts from it, in ivory-like statuettes, are on sale as also post card prints.

TWO ST. JOHN EMPLOYERS FAVOR SHORTER HOURS

To the Editor of The Standard. Sir—As a reader of your valued paper who enjoys especially your editorials which are always instructive to the everyday workman, I make bold Ella Buchanan comes of a newspaper and literary family. On the paternal side, she is an artist and writer. For some years her father was an editor in Springfield, Ill. Then the family moved to Pittsburg, Kan., where the father became prominent in state journalism and politics.

The young sculptor is still a resident of the Kansas town although she spends the larger part of each year in Chicago. Miss Buchanan tells a significant story in her suffrage group, "Suffrage" is the central figure, calling upon her sisters with the bugle at her lips. Leaning upon "Suffrage" is the wage earner; the other figures represent prostitution in the dust, vanity and convention.

The New York suffragists plan to have the group produced in bronze in heroic size.

explaining that he himself was willing to grant the nine hour day, but that as the Montreal wire-nail factories were working ten hours a day, he did not think the factory here could compete with them if a nine hour day was put in force here. The employees of the other wire-nail factory also intervened, their manager, and the same answer was given them. The manager of this factory offered to pay the wages and expenses will be away of a delegate picked by the men to go to Montreal and interview the managers there with the object of bringing about a universal nine hour day, provided the manager of the other factory would do the same. The manager of the other factory has agreed to this.

These managers deserve the respect and confidence of their employees, and it is to be hoped their competitors in Montreal will show a similar interest in the welfare of their employees.

The delegates have been chosen by the men and are expected to start for upper Canada in a few days. If their mission is successful and the nine hour day adopted it will be of mutual benefit to employer and employee. The men would have more time for recreation and I am sure would be grateful to their employers, and so exert themselves during the nine hours that when the shareholders counted their dividends at the end of the year, they would need a microscope to discover the shortage caused by granting the nine hour day.

Thanking you for your valuable space, St. John, N.B. NAILER, Successful Concert.

The concert held last evening in the Tabernacle United Baptist church was well attended. The programme consisted of an anthem by the church choir; selection, North End male quartette; reading, Miss Jessie Burns; mixed quartette, Mrs. Coggan, A. H. Paterson, Miss D. Belyea, Robt. McEachern; reading, Miss Florence Williams; reading, Mr. Wolfe; piano solo, Mr. Bond; reading, Mrs. S. Willis; duet, Miss Mary Owens and Mrs. Coggan; reading, Miss Wolfe; reading, Miss D. Oram. The pastor of the church, Rev. J. D. Wetmore, occupied the chair.
