A Broken Wedding Ring

By Bertha M. Clay

Harbury when it was known that Doris Hutton had married the young demagogue, whose appearance had created a local whirlwind.

"What could she see in him, a pretty sensible girl like Doris?" people asked each other.

Few understood to attraction that such a girl would have for a romantic, sentimental girl. Doris might not do in the world one-half so brilliant as hers.

Amos Hutton was a heart-broken man. He had but two children, and he loved them with the deepest possible love. His son Arthur, a handsome, spirited boy, eight years older than his sister, had chosen the army for a profession; and quite early in his career he had received an excellent military appointment in India, where he was rapidly accumulating fame and fortune.

Doris, his fair daughter, was the very pride of his heart. For her the old lawyer had worked and toiled, only to see himself forsaken for a man whom he hated and despised. His heart was bitter, and his wrath was great.

He wrote to his son in India, telling him what had happened, and bidding him to drive all memory of his father from his mind. Then Amos Hutton made another will, in which he left all his property to his son; and when he spoke of Doris it was as of one dead.

—plane, books, pictures, clothes, ornaments—all that he had after her. In the lawyer's pleasant, old-fashioned house in Harbury no trace was left of the daughter once so beloved. He faded after that.

The three years that followed his marriage were perhaps the most brilliant of Martin Ray's life. The worship and adoration of his young wife stimulated him. He positively began to believe himself what she imagined him to be. He began to think of himself as a true philanthropist, one born to help the poor.

He began to imagine himself a martyr—by all En-land to read and the wishes of his wife.

Corrected by "Fruit-a-lives"

St. MARTIN'S, N.B.

constant pains after eating; pains down the sides and back; and horrible bitter stuff often came up in my mouth.

"I tried doctors, but they did not help me. But as soon as I started taking 'Fruit-a-lives', I began to improve and this medicine, made

Get the Habit of Drinking Hot Water Before Breakfast

Says we can't look or feel right with the system full of poisons.

Millions of folks bathe internally now instead of loading their system with drugs. "What's an inside bath?" you say. Well, it is guaranteed to perform miracles if you could believe these hot water enthusiasts.

There are vast numbers of men and women who, immediately upon arising in the morning, drink a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it. This is a very excellent health measure. It is intended to flush the stomach, liver, kidneys and the thirty feet of intestines of the previous day's waste, sour bile and indigestible material left over in the body which if not eliminated every day, become food for the millions of bacteria which infest the bowels, the quick result is poisons and toxins which are then absorbed into the blood causing headache, bilious attacks, foul breath, bad taste, colds, stomach trouble, kidney misery, sleeplessness, impure blood and all sorts of ailments.

People who feel good one day and badly the next, but who simply can not get feeling right are urged to obtain a greater potency of limestone phosphate at the drug store. This will cost very little but is sufficient to make anyone a real crank on the subject of internal sanitation.

Just as soap and hot water act on the skin, cleansing, sweetening and refreshing, so lime-stone phosphate and hot water act on the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels. It is vastly more important to bathe on the inside than on the outside, because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, while the bowel pores do.

THE MAKING OF
A FAMOUS
MEDICINE

How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound
Is Prepared For Woman's Use.

A visit to the laboratory where this successful remedy is made impresses even the casual looker-on with the reliability, accuracy, skill and cleanliness which attends the making of this great medicine for woman's ills.

Over 500,000 pounds of various herbs are used annually and all have to be gathered at the season of the year when their natural juices and medicinal substances are at their best.

The most accurate scientific methods are used to extract the medicinal properties from these herbs.

Every utensil and tank that comes in contact with the medicine is sterilized and as a final precaution in cleanliness the medicine is pasteurized and sealed in sterile bottles.

It is the wonderful combination of roots and herbs, together with the skill and care used in its preparation which has made this famous medicine so successful in the treatment of female ills.

The letters from women who have been restored to health by the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound which are being continually publishing attest to its virtue.
