

come technically within the language of the Section, were not cases in which any action ought to have been taken. There is no desire, on the part of the Child Agencies, to prosecute adults for adultery or for any other form of vice, unless where by so doing, children can be rescued from evil surroundings and placed with their natural parents, in reestablished homes.

MEIGHEN PAPERS, Series 5 (M.G. 26, I, Volume 191)

PUBLIC ARCHIVES
ARCHIVES PUBLIQUES
CANADA