

- Q. You didn't notice any excitement or tension in the hut?
A. There could have been tension.
- Q. A bit of unrest?
A. Yes, Sir.
- Q. When did you notice the unrest?
A. When I had just checked the roll.
- Q. Where had you been previous to coming on duty?
A. In my quarters.
- Q. Did you tell the Court that you recognized the accused as one of the 30?
A. Yes, Sir.
- Q. How many others did you recognize?
A. Quite a few. I knew practically every one.
- Q. How many could you name?
A. Quite a lot of them.
- Q. Could you name the whole 30?
A. Not the whole 30. I took the names of the ones left and turned the list into the Orderly Room.
- Q. How did you know the accused was one of the 30?
A. I seen him.
- Q. How did you recognize him?
A. They pushed right past me.
- Q. Did they run past you?
A. Some ran.
- Q. Did the accused run?
A. I don't recall.
- Q. Would it be fair to say that if they ran past you you would only get a fleeting glance of them?
A. No, I saw them perfectly well.
- Q. Fairly well. You did not know the exact number until you checked?
A. Not the exact number.
- Q. You didn't know just who went out?
A. I knew a number of them. I didn't know them all. After working in the hut for 3 or 4 months you get used to their names and faces.
- Q. How were you so sure that the accused was one of the 30?
A. He went out of the hut, he must have gone past me.
- Q. There are windows in the hut aren't there?
A. Yes, but there are bars on those windows.
- Q. You say that on the 9th May you saw the accused again?
A. That's correct sir.
- Q. Whereabouts?
A. In front of #6 Cell Block.
- Q. Where were you standing when you saw this?
A. Along between 4 & 5 Cell Blocks.
- Q. Were you in the passageway?
A. No, right in the corner between the two Cell Blocks.
- Q. I don't see a corner there?
