The thirty second annual distribution f medals and prizes at St. Joseph's codemy, St. Albans street, took place esterday afternoon. The ceremony was reach by a large attendance of clergy-sen, ladies and friends of the institution graced by a large attendance of cierty-mee, ladies and friends of the institution from all over the city. An excellent pro-gramme of music was stranged for the occasion, in the intervals of which the graduate of the year, Miss Lillian Way, and the medalists whose names are given below were laurested by His Grace Arch-blahop Walsh, who was assisted by His Lordship Bishop O'Mahony. Miss Way, received a golden-hued crown of flowers, to distinguish her from the others, whose erowns were silver-colored. This cere-mony was a very pleasing one. The names on the honor list were read out by one of the pupils, and the crowns, medals and prize were in turn placed in the hands of the presenters by half a dozen or so of young girls. The choral class and the elocation class did very well, display-ing considerable talent and fulss, and the instrumental music was deserving of much presse. The kindergarten class went through an intricate drill in first-class style in a scene put down on the prothrough an intricte drill in inst-class style in a scene put down on the pro-gramme as The Little Harvesters. Every wes tot carried a abasf of oaten straw and elaborate floral decoration. Their singing was exceedingly pretty, and four of their number executed a minust with consum-ate or and manity with consumnumber executed a minuet with consum-mate grace and gravity. Among the elergymen present were Vicars-General Rooney and Liurent, Dean McCann, Rev. Father O'Donohoe, Rev. Father Walsh, Rev. Father McPhillips, Rav. Father Vin-cent and Rev. Father Bergin.

"THE FRASER HOUSE," PORT STANLEY.

One of the grand features of the Cath olic Church which attracts the trusting confidence of the masses of her children in every storm of trouble and adversity, is her tender solicitude and vigilant watchfulness for their temporal as well spiritual needs. Her moral teaching is adapted to every condition and every relation in life, and, like the divine Faith of which she is the custodian and interpreter, it is uniform, consistent and unchanging. THIS FAVORITE SUMMER HOTEL, has not passed out of the hands of Mr. William Framer (who has conducted it for 19 years), as has been rumored. He is still as the heim, and will be pleased to meet all oid friends and as many new ones as can make it convenient to call. The house has been thoroughly renovated for the reception of yousts. Fine sandy beach, good bathing, coating, fishing and driving. Beauting a city hole. Sanitary arrangements perfect. All modern conveniences. unchanging. Recent utterances of the Church or

SIXTH SUNDAY AFTER PENTECOST.

The Feast of the Most Precious Blood of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ, my dear brethren, brings before us in the most forcible manner possible the infinite love of God. For what, my brethren, compelled (if we may use the word) God the father to give up His only Son to de for us? Love. What induced God the Son to leave the bosom of His Father and the dignity and joys of Paradise to offer Himself as a eacrifice for our sins? Love. God had no need of creatures. He is entirely sufficient for Himself. He made creatures, and especially angels and men, creatures, and especially angels and men, to share in some way His glory and happi-ness. Why? Out of love. And when they lost His favor and friendship by dis-chadrens. He has a some of the share of the state of they lost His favor and friendship by dis-obedience, He had no need to restore them to their former state. Yet He did it, and in a way in which we cannot fail to re-cognize His infinite love. Our Blessed Lord has taught us that a greater love bath no man than that he lay down his life for his friend. Almighty God, in the form of man, has "laid down " His life not only for friends, but enemics, in order to make them His friends.

not only for friends, but enemies, in order to make them His friends. Yes, my brethren, God Himself has set the example and given the lesson of love which we must learn, and that thoroughly, if we wish to be like Him. God is love, as the Aposite tike Him. God is love, as the Aposite tells us, and those who love partake in the nature of God. It makes them Godlike, it ennotles them, it purges away all the dross and imperfections belonging to our fallen nature, it makes them equal to the angels and gives them a foretaste of Paradize. Love is the most potent in fluence in

Paul, speaking of himself, eays, "I can do all things." This he said not from any-thing in himself, but through the love of God he felt be had. But, my brethren, how much of this love do we see in the world? Are we ready to sacifice ourselves and all we hold dear for the benefit of our neighbor? I am afraid these questions cannot re-ceive satisfactory answers. The explana tion is that we have not got the love of God in our hearts, at least, not in the tion is that we have not got the love of God in our hearts, at least, not in the measure we should have. Now this virtue belonge especially to the household of the faith. Catholics receive in baptism this precious gift. The Sacrament, as well as the other spiritual helps that our holy religion offers us, are all for the purpose of keeping alive and increasing this bap tiemal gift. Hence it follows that from Catholics a larger display is expected than from the rest of mankind. Ab i my brethren, the world would be vastly better in every way; life would be truly worth living; the burdens we have to carry would not be so heavy; the joys we sometimes experience would be

NEW STATIONS OF THE CROSS AT GRIMSBY.

Last Sunday, July 6th, was a memor-able day for the Catholics of Grimbey on account of the blessing and canonical erection of the new Statiors of the Cross. These Stations were procured by our pastor from the Oliographic Society of Bologne, Italy. They are oliographic copies of the Stations by the renowned Vincer Pacelli and considered as works

The Feast of the Most Precious Blood

Sacred Hearts of Jesus and Mary. The blessing was performed after the usual 10 30 a. m. Mass by the Rev. Father McInerney, Superior of the Re-demptoriste, of Toronto. Before the blessing the Rev. Father delivered a very eloquent and highly instructive discourse on the origin and object of the devotion of the Way of the Cross, pointing out, especially, the great love and sacrifice displayed by our Divine Saviour in His sourceful inverse and the saviour of His sorrowful journey and the return of love and sacrifice Oatholics are called upon to make in the practice of their faith. His words were listened to throughout with wrapt attention by the large gathering of Catholics and Protestants who filled every pew of the church. All the avail able space about the altar was beautifully decorated with natural flowers, and large bouquets of flowers were also placed in each window of the church by the two Misses Hand and Mrs. A. C. Cole, so that, when the Stations and other pictures were hung, the appearance of the church was really beautiful. The mem-bers of the choir, assisted by Miss T. Lally, of Smithville, sang well, as usual, appro-priate pieces both at Massand the devotions of the Stations, but the Communion hymn, "Lord I Am Not Worthy," deserves epecial mention for its pathetic rendition. I must not forget to mention that our pastor was enabled to make the above mprovement in our church through the munificence of Miss Mary Cahii, a former resident of this town, who donates $50 for that purpose.
