

PROEM.

"I'M GLAD TO SEE YOU."

FOLKS are often glad to meet other folks, you know,
But they sometimes falter when it comes to saying
so;
Or they say, 'I'm glad t' see y'," O, so curt and low
That you wonder just how far their gladsome feelings go.

Say "I'm glad to see you," when you mean it. Speak
it out;
Don't bite off a piece of it and leave the rest in doubt.
Let your lips know what your soul is thinking most about.

It doesn't take an orator to say the sentence right;
It doesn't need much rhetoric to make you feel its might;
It has a hundred hundred tongues which tell its meaning quite.

You feel it when you're going home and catch the window light,
You see it in a sweetheart's smile, flashing warm
and bright,
