Death of the Old Reform Leader.

Hon. Alexander Mackenzie is dead. Early Sunday morning his pure spirit passed peacefully away.

He lived to see the vindication of his fair name and fame from every suspicion and stain by his political enemies. From 1873 to 1878 he ruled our country wisely and well, but being a man of sterling principle he refused to grant to the manufacturers the tariff concessions they demanded, and was defeated by the N.P. advocates in 1878.

On Sunday morning Rev. Dr. Thomas, pastor of the Jarvis street Baptist church, of which deceased was a worthy member, paid the following tribute of respect to the departed premier.

His was a name, he said, of which Canadians had good reason to feel proud. Through all the years of his public life he had exhibited the highest qualities of Christian manhood.

In every position of trust that he had ever filled he had maintained a reputation for integrity and honesty that even his political opponents could not venture to question.

He served his country with all the ardor and fidelity of a patriot. And with the unselfishness of one who had no other thought than the divine ideal he would go down to posterity with a name fragrant in the memory of this generation, and which the generations coming would mention with enthusiasm.

He was one of whom it could be said that he loved his Master, and governed his life by the strictest principles of righteousness.

The remains of the great Reform leader will be interred in Lake View Cemetery, Sarnia, at 2.30 p.m. on Thursday.

COUNTY NEWS. INTERESTING LETTERS FROM OUR STAFF OF CORRESPONDENTS.

A Budget of News and Gossip—Personal Intelligence.—A Little of Everything well Mixed up.

NEW DUBLIN. SATURDAY, April 16.—Mr. John Kendrick finished setting out his bees yesterday, numbering about 300 stock.

Mr. Cadwell's mill is kept busy preparing material for cheese boxes, sawing etc.

Our singing school carried on under the able management of Mr. McConnell of Glen Buell closed on Thursday evening. Dublin is now to the front in matters of singing.

Our enterprising farmers have commenced operations in their spring work.

Our sugar making this year proved of short duration.

The old cheese factory, which is to be fitted up for butter making is undergoing necessary repairs.

LYN. MONDAY, April 15.—The large amount of snow has disappeared with the least frost ever known here.

Hogher has been here a week. The meeting last evening was largely attended, especially by persons from the surrounding school sections, where revival services have been going on during the winter.

Strange and mysterious manifestations are a common occurrence. So mysterious that criticism is heard for the present.

A visit to the Eyre Mig. Co. works shows quite a change in the manner of doing business. To-day all hands (some fifteen) are busy shipping a large order of harnesses, besides other goods.

They are so pressed with orders that they are running quarter overtime. The new proprietors are much encouraged by the manner in which the business opens up.

Everybody in the village hopes that it may continue.

MCINTOSH MILLS. SATURDAY, April 16.—Long neglected, but not forgotten—a boy at Mr. Fortin's.

Three of our best boys, Geo. and Mosie Leeder and John Flood left a short time ago to seek homes for themselves in the far West.

Mr. Ed. Bolger reports his supply of "summer sugar" to be small.

Mr. John Leeder is ever ready to meet and welcome his customers and they are not few.

Mr. John Leeder across the street, is gone. Where? Will we see him next week?

ROCKPORT.

This renowned river location is materializing the romantic dreams of the days that are gone, that hung like a rosy cloud over its future.

In the interim of the building of the new office, Mr. Dixon is located in the post office where he attends to the duties of customs officer in a manner pleasing and just to all concerned, enlightening the same by now and again firing off a good, amusing joke—a habit he seems addicted to.

The post office and general store, under the careful management of Mr. Frank Fitzsimmons, is steadily increasing in business.

Mr. P. is a general favorite with the boys. In the evening the P. O. is literally thronged with those who have a leisure hour to spend.

They gossip a little, exchange local news items, discuss questions of the day in a very quiet and respectful way—a fair ideal for a chapter in romance.

The telephone with its delicate ear and mysterious whispering mingles its wondrous tones with the company.

Mr. P. is a general favorite with the boys. In the evening the P. O. is literally thronged with those who have a leisure hour to spend.

Mr. Daily and Mr. Cornwall are pursuing the even tenor of their way as usual.

Not long since some fifty turnouts attended the Catholic service. That edifice stands where it not only attracts but commands attention and admiration.

What it remains it will be a lasting monument to Father Kelly's choice of location and in a future generation will form the nucleus of a world renowned retreat.

A phenomenon is brought to view in the ice vanishing suddenly on the 8th of this month. The ice was very thick, but there has been no floating ice.

Mr. Hunt says the like has not been known for fifty years. 1800 ice went out on the 1st of April, 1891, on the 27th April; this season it was supposed it would go on the 1st of May.

On account of the low water last fall, the present many pier and waterwork improvements around the islands have given much additional employment to the islanders.

Nien Point, where Mr. Andre Casse's handsome cottage stands (attached to the Hunt farm), is receiving a great addition to its convenience and beauty in the fine substantial pier built by Messrs. David and Henry Hunt.

These young gentlemen have charge of some of the prettiest cottages and islands in the Bay. Locally, they have a thorough knowledge of all that belongs to the tourist's pleasure, and have won a high reputation for integrity and worth.

Mr. Casse, of New York, is a Parisian and belongs to the old school of gentlemen, and is the soul of honor.

Mr. Dixon says that many letters have been received at the Bay intimating that quite a few of the guests will open their cottages early in May, and that the prospects on the river are unusually bright.

The Choctaw Friends have organized here. They have built a fine hall and include fifty members with many more members coming in.

This organization must possess great vigor to increase with such rapidity while yet so young. Numerous as legitimate secret societies are, we believe there is a broad and ample field open all.

We must be more cautious than before, because love and benevolence form the basis upon which they are built. Athens will require a representation in this matter, as she has missed no order from the most eminent Egyptian to the present day.

Not to mention those that existed during the earlier Chinese dynasties 10,000 years before creation's first ray dawn. But, truly, modern Athens wears the graceful mantle that has fallen on her from bygone ancient mother right royally.

Mr. Mack Bolton and family have moved into the village. He intends leaving shortly for the North West.

Some of the boys are doing "stall" fishing at Thompson's Bay, with hook and line. As many as ninety-three bass shiners have been reported for an afternoon's catch.

We are afraid this number exceeds the number allowed by the new Fish Regulations.

Enslavement for Cattle. Mr. Isaac Simpson considers enslavement the cheapest and best food for cattle.

Last year he built a silo on his farm lot 11, con. 6, Township of Kingston. The tenant filled it last autumn, and has been feeding the cattle with ensilage and is very much pleased with the results.

He says he can afford to pay $100 a year more rent than heretofore, the increased value being caused by the great saving in cattle food, the increased milk production, and the better quality of butter produced.

WESTPORT.

THURSDAY, April 15.—A fine new iron gate has been erected at the entrance to the walk leading to St. Edward's R. C. Church from Beak Bay.

Mr. Fredenburgh has rebuilt the dam between West Tidewash and Sand Lakes. It was destroyed by fire last fall.

Mr. George Haskin now has his chess box factory completed, and will soon be turning out the boxes by the thousand.

A disastrous fire occurred on Monday evening about three miles west of town. It was on Mr. Edward Myer's farm. Richard Green, who is working on the farm, lived in an extra house on the place.

When all the family were away to the sugar bush, the house took fire from a defective chimney. The smoke was soon seen but the wind being high and the house old it burned very quickly and nothing in the house of any account could be saved.

A stable close by was also consumed and the barns were saved only by the shifting of the wind. This should be a warning to people who are careless about old chimneys. "Fire is a good servant but a poor master."

W. A. Dier and his sister Clara are home from Ottawa for a few Easter holidays.

The Kichapagos left by the Saturday morning express for Gananoque.

A phonographic concert will be given in the town hall on Monday 18th inst., on behalf of the Methodist choir.

We nearly missed Captain Carnegie and his fine $2000 cottage, which stands on an eminence at the end of Rockport. The facade of this cottage is charming.

The location is one of the most conspicuous and attractive as seen from the river, and commands one of the most extensive views to be found.

The Capt. was none too soon with the cottage, as he recently married the lady of his choice, which caused a sort of feminine flutter, as the Captain was deservedly a favorite with the ladies.

And the Island Queen will find a formidable rival in his affections and will take second place hereafter. And the thousands who have whiled away many a happy hour on the Island Queen, amidst the picturesque scenes strewn in the blue waters of the St. Lawrence from the lavish hand of Deceit, will have a hearty good-will, and a long live Captain Carnegie to enjoy his new home, his bride and the Queen.

There is many a legend hidden under the moss on these ancient rocks—many a weird, unwritten tale of love that the little caverns and holes will yet echo back—and many a thrilling story of adventure and darkness that some gifted "Wizard of the North" will paint when the romances of the Thousand Islands are written by a future genius.

W. S. HOGAN.

Oh, What a Cough! Will you heed the warning. The signal perhaps of the sure approach of that terrible disease Consumption.

Ask yourself if you can afford for the sake of saving 50c., to run the risk and do nothing for it. We know from experience that Shiloh's Cure will cure your cough. It never fails.

DULSEMAIN.

MONDAY, April 18.—Miss Ada Lillie of the Athens high school is spending her Easter holidays with friends here.

Mrs. Herb Leacock has been very ill, but to-day is thought to be a little better.

Miss Rachel Webster of the Taylor Settlement is the guest of her cousin Miss C. Sitter.

Will and A. E. Sitter are improving their premises with new buildings.

Mrs. Scott of Addison is staying with her daughter Mrs. Leacock, while Lizzie and Minnie return to their homes in Brockville to-day (Monday).

Melbourne Stringer has gone to his chess factory near Brewer's Mills, and his brother Byron goes to his this week near Merrickville.

Ernest McCready is sick with Dr. Webster in attendance. We hope to see him about soon.

FRONT OF YONGE. Mr. Warren and Mr. Weeks will soon start their portable saw mill in Juntown, at which place there are a large quantity of ash and pine logs.

The Rev. Father Kelly drives the finest carriage team in Wexford.

Concealed weapons are now the order of the day in Mallorytown since the gun accident.

The Yonge Front correspondent was very sorry to know that the Mallorytown reporter of the Athens Reporter had occurred to personalities in order, as he supposed, to down said gentleman. Now, by reason of the inclement weather, that knight of the quill had unceremoniously allowed his capillary appendages to become offensive to some short haired gentleman whose tonsorial appliances at certain times were highly necessary by reason of microbes, aphid, or other vermin.

The Yonge Front reporter is now well stricken in years and his long silver locks should be honored by old and young. This was the case in older times, as was clearly proven in the case of the good old man mentioned in the little volume which had fallen from his cranium, at which some foolish children, like unto the Mallorytown scribe, thought it right and proper to make sport of said old man.

And the consequences was that the Lord allowed some old she bears to come down from the wilderness and devour these naughty children for their conduct.

Look out, Johnny, for bears and get your gun out.
