HIGH SCHOOL ENTERTAINMENT

LAST FRIDAY EVENING

Yes, it was an entertainment indeed, and did credit to the promoters of this scheme to raise funds to enlarge the public library of Athens.

The effect on the cultured, appreciative, fine-appearing ladies and gentlemen present was transitory pleasure compared with the pleasure and profit the boys and girls of Athens will derive in coming years from the books thus added and brought within their reach, the ripples of which will ever widen and multiply.

It was also one more evidence that Mr. Massey lends his influence and discriminating judgment only in matters that promote the interest of his associations and elevate the Athens High school to the high plain in which it now moves. He has remained head master of this superior institution many years with credit to himself and honor to Athens. The graduates of this famous academy of learning receive an impulse here which send them into lucrative positions; many of them stand high in all the learned professions of the world. The work of the zealous founders of Athens High School and its early promoters did a fine thing for the young people of this day, and the accumulating force of these efforts will be more operative in future years.

The above is no disparagement of the deserving gentlemen who in the past held the same high trust now reposed in Mr. Massey.

Mrs. Annie Don Cochrane is from Toronto, the hub of Canadian refinement, wealth and learning, and as a professional holds a high position in her class—teacher of vocal music in a conservatory. Her voice is of great compass and power. We were informed that she was capable of rising above three octaves. She closed her last fine illustration with undiminished force. She was often warmly thrilling.

Miss Irene Mallory comes from Boston, the hub of the U.S., to which the elite, the nobility, the savants of the world gravitate. Her merited praise has been so well and often sung that her admirers have left little to say. Her rare culture pleasantly envelopes every thought, enrobes every sentence she expresses, and each shade of sensation, emotion, impression, excitement or passion is clearly outlined as only trained elocution can do.

The evening was a constant and rapid alternation of songs that moved the heart and eloquence that delighted the mind. Wit, imagination, humor and pleasantry sparkled in their utterances. Their enthusiasm at times beamed with pathos and tenderness. Sometimes the muffled gleam of sarcasm gleamed a moment while love and hate had their fling.

These ladies were called and recalled again and again, never weary but ever ready to give pleasant surprises in their well chosen responses.

Miss Taplin, accompanist, with her piano, and Mr. Manhardt with his trombone handsomely filled in the only vacant places on the program.

We were carried back to childhood's earliest memories—through the heather-bloom, along the Don, and in fancy from the top of Old Ben-Lomond looked down once more on Scotia's picturesque beauty and grandeur. Just such an evening as we may all ways expect in the classic hall of the Athens High School.

W. S. HOUGH.

BROCKVILLE vs. ATHENS

A representative baseball team from Brockville defeated the Athens team in a very close contest on Saturday afternoon last by a score of 6 to 4. Following were the players:—

Brockville—Mervin, Curry, Romeau, Yerdon, Davidson, Williams, P. Graham, *Ripley, W. Graham.

*Leaped Brockville by Athens.
 Athens—Barber, B. Green, Johnston, Whaley, Alguire, Roddick, Parish, McIntosh, F. Green.

Score by innings:—
 Brockville . . . 0 0 5 0 0 1 0 0—6
 Athens 0 0 4 0 0 0 0 0—4

Summary—Three-base hit, B. Green; struck out, by Yerdon 2, by Romeau 6, by Roddick 6; left on bases, Brockville 6, Athens 8; time, 1.40; umpire, H. Simpson, Brockville; attendance, 400.

MARSHALL-YATES

A very pleasant event took place at the residence of Rbar Yates, Esq., of Frankville, on the 2nd inst., when his youngest daughter, Miss Ethel, and Mr. Claude Marshall, of Toledo, were united in matrimony.

The ceremony was performed at four o'clock by their pastor, Rev. Oliver, of Frankville, in the presence of only the immediate relatives.

About six o'clock the happy couple left for Brockville to take the boat for an extended honeymoon trip on the St. Lawrence and Rideau.

SWEET-BELL

A very pretty event took place at the home of Mrs Sarah Snider, Addison, when her niece, Miss Geneva Bell, eldest daughter of James Bell, Sweet's Corners, was united in holy wedlock to Mr. Gordon Sweet, a prosperous young farmer of that place. The ceremony was performed at 11 o'clock by the Rev. Mr. Burnett, of Addison.

While Miss Agnes Booth played the sweet strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march, the groom took his place under an arch of evergreens and roses, followed by the bride, who was gowned in cream luster. She was assisted by her sister, Miss Maude, and Mr. H. Hutcheson, of Alexandria Bay, acted as best man. Little Ruby Burnett carried a basket of sweet peas and assisted as flower girl. After the ceremony all sat down to a sumptuous repast. The young couple drove to Smith's Falls where they will spend a few days before returning to their future home.

KERR-ELLIOTT

A very pretty wedding took place at the residence of the bride's mother, Mrs C. H. Elliott, when her only daughter, Winnabel, one of Athens' clever and popular young girls, was united in marriage to Mr. Wm. F. Kerr, of Toronto. The Rev. G. N. Simmons, B.A., pastor of the Baptist church, officiated, and the couple were united before an altar of ferns and white asters in the presence of about sixty of the nearest relatives and friends of the contracting parties.

The bride looked charming in a gown of white crepe du chene, trimmed with mure silk, and carried a bouquet of white roses. Miss Lillian Layng, of Smith's Falls, was bridesmaid, attired in pale blue, and carried pink roses, while Mr. W. F. Ferguson, of Oxford Mills, ably supported the groom. Little Marion Blanchard, dressed in white organdy, was maid of honor, Master Hayden Hayes was ring-bearer and her uncle, Mr. Fred Hayes, gave the bride away. Miss Ethel Brown, of Phillipville, played the wedding march.

After the ceremony, the bride and groom received the congratulations of the guests and all sat down to a recherche wedding supper. The toast to the bride and groom was given by Mr. E. Cameron, B.A., of McMaster University; to the hostess by Mr. Bishop, B.A., of Athens; and to the ladies by Mr. W. T. Ferguson.

The bride's traveling suit was of Thibet cloth, trimmed with medallions, and waist of cream silk. The happy couple left amidst showers of rice for Montreal, whence they sail for Liverpool by the S.S. Tunisian.

The wedding presents were unusually numerous and valuable, coming from a large circle of relatives and friends, including many gifts from college associates of McMaster University with whom the bride and groom were deservedly popular. The groom's present to the bride was a substantial cheque, to the bridesmaid and maid of honor sapphire rings, and to his attendants pearl scarf pins.

We wish them bon voyage on their trip and also through the journey of life.

The Proper Treatment for a Sprained Ankle

As a rule a man will feel well satisfied if he can hobble around on crutches two or three weeks after spraining his ankle, and it is usually two or three months before he has fully recovered. This is an unnecessary loss of time, for in many cases in which Chamberlain's Pain Balm has been promptly and freely applied, a complete cure has been effected in less than one week's time, and in some cases within three days.
