And the cool of winter makes the use of different breakfast foods almost imperative for some people. For this hot weather try rolled wheat. It is a rich, nourishing breakfast food and not as heating as rolled oats.

CALLED HOME

Demise of Rev. F. M. Baldwin at Ridgetown This Morning.

Has Had a Long and Painful Illness—Leaves Wife and Three Children.

(Special to The Planet)

Ridgetown, July 23.—Rev. F. M. Baldwin, rector of the Episcopal church here and nephew of Bishop Baldwin, passed away this morning after a long illness. He leaves a widow, formerly Miss McLaron, of Chatham, and three children to mourn his loss.

The deceased clergyman has been in poor health for a long time. Some years ago he underwent an operation in Montreal, and more recently was taken to the Public General Hospital at Chatham for similar treatment. On examination, however, the physicians deemed the operation useless.

The deceased was beloved and esteemed by his congregation here. The funeral arrangements have not yet been announced.

ACCIDENTS

Three Occur Near Tilsonburg all about the Same Time.

Tilsonburg, Ont., July 22.—Three accidents, two of which may prove fatal, occurred in this vicinity late on Saturday afternoon. Mr. Gardner, of Guyaboro, was thrown from his buggy in a runaway and so seriously injured that it is feared he will not recover.

Almost at the same time the boiler of an oil burning machine on the Hatch farm exploded, slightly wounding M. Thompson, who was standing close beside it. Two other men miraculously escaped injury. The boiler was carried bodily 165 yards.

A young man named Smith, of Brownsville, while helping to erect a windmill on the farm of Mr. Chaney Smith, a few miles west of the town, fell from a scaffold 25 feet high, and has not regained consciousness.

CRICKET TOUR

A Suggestion From One of the Players as to Ways and Means.

The proposed cricket tour is being much talked of lately both by the members of the local club and also by a number of enthusiastic citizens. There are none who are more in favor of the tour or would do more to push it forward to a successful issue than W. J. Kenny.

"The question of the tour," said he to The Planet this morning, "is all right, yet we must consider the enormous expense, and who is going to pay it. There are four or five members of the club who are in a position to pay their own expenses, but there are other young fellows who would consider it a hardship. What we need is for some one to get up a subscription list and let the people take it in hand. If the enthusiasts subscribe and help it along the tour will be a success, otherwise it will not."

"It is a very difficult matter to keep up a cricket club in Chatham. The Chatham citizens have never given it the support it deserves, and the expense has fallen on a few."

"I am greatly gratified to see that The Planet is advocating the tour, and it is a pleasure to see the good old game upheld by that paper."

The club is certainly deserving of great praise. During the last few years many new players have been developed and the club is now in better condition than it has been for some time.

BROTHERS DROWN.

Caledonia, July 22.—About one o'clock yesterday, Charles and George Crosswell, aged 11 and 10 years respectively, went swimming in the Grand River, a short distance from the home of the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. Crosswell, who reside about two miles from Middleport, and both were drowned. Charles and George were floating on a large plank. The plank gradually drifted quite a distance into the river, and the boys became very much frightened. They shouted for help, and Wilfred, a third brother, who is a boy 14 years of age, started to their relief.

In the meantime Charles had left the plank, telling George to hang on, and he would swim to shore for help. George, however, disobeyed the command, and sprang after Charles, throwing his arms around his neck. Charles tried to free himself, but could not, and before help could reach them both sank never to rise again.

WILL ESCAPE ANOTHER TRIAL

Authorities Will Not Hold Epperson for Jail-Breaking.

The Convict Tells How Nearly He Was Caught by the Posse at Fletcher.

The escaped prisoner, Andrew Epperson, recaptured in Windsor, was brought to this city yesterday afternoon by Deputy Sheriff Beeson and Constable John Carpenter. When he was being brought to Chatham the officers in charge of the prisoner asked him if he had been in Fletcher, on the night the posse went out after the three escaped prisoners.

"Yes, we were there," was the dogged reply. "I suppose that Salvation Army man told you that."

He was inclined to smile in his own way at the clever manner in which he considered that they had eluded the officers in pursuit. He admitted knowing that the Salvation Army man had recognized them. The three then feigned pursuit had left the 6th concession and crossed over to Jeanette's Creek. They had then taken a freight to Windsor, where they separated, each looking out for himself. Epperson refused to tell anything further about the escape and he didn't know what had become of the others.

He enquired about Abram and wanted to know if he had been captured. Epperson's story, so far as it goes, bears out the accounts already published in The Planet and the details of the trial the runaways took precisely as given in this journal are proven to be correct.

Epperson is very sorry now that he made his break for liberty, and is very penitent.

The authorities are not inclined to try Epperson for jailbreaking. He already has five years to serve, and they would have to keep him here till the fall assizes.

Epperson passed the lumber yard of John Piggott & Sons, going out Douglas avenue, Windsor, about 7:05 yesterday morning. Bert Piggott and Napoleon Freedom were standing in the lumber yard. Freedom, formerly of this city, recognized Epperson, and called to him and asked him if he wanted work. The escaped replied that he didn't. Freedom then took the grey team and followed the runaway, while Bert Piggott notified the police. Epperson returned to the centre of the city and entered a small refreshment store, where he was arrested by Constable Elliott. The officer went in with his gun cocked and ordered Epperson to throw up his hands. The runaway did so and was immediately ironed by the policeman.
