GREAT GALE

Two Canadian Steamers Reported to Have Ridden the Lake Storms Safely.

Harbor Beach, Mich., Sept. 18.—The Canadian steamer Bannockburn was released from the beach yesterday noon. She is leaking slightly in one compartment. She will resume her voyage this morning.

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., Sept. 18.—The Canadian steamer Athabasca, which was sheltered under Keeneaw Peninsula yesterday, arrived down yesterday afternoon. The captain reports that a large number of ships were in shelter with him, and at White Fish Point. The gale on Lake Superior was lasting somewhat last night.

Fort William, Sept. 18.—The overland steamers City of Collingwood and Manitoba got here last night after going through one of the worst storms ever seen on Lake Superior. The Collingwood laid up under Keeneaw Point on Sunday morning, and stayed there until eight o'clock yesterday morning. The Manitoba, after plunging in the teeth of the storm for several hours on Sunday, making only one knot per hour, laid up at Michipicoten Island. Capt. Bussell, of the Collingwood, reports coming through a quantity of wreckage during the afternoon, amongst which was a bottle containing a slip of paper, but the sea was too high to lower a boat. The wreckage consisted of the bulworks and part of the cabin of a freight steamer.

U. S. CABINET

All the Members Accept Reappointment Tendered Them by the New President.

Washington, Sept. 18.—It was stated on excellent authority to-day that all the members of the Cabinet had accepted the re-appointment tendered by President Roosevelt yesterday. The manner in which the President made the tender rendered it almost impossible to take any other course, as the members were already in the positions and could not decline, but must resign their portfolios themselves if they desire to leave the Cabinet. More than this, they all believe in the sincerity of the president in desiring their services, and in return they wish to assist him to the full extent of their powers to carry out the policies of former President McKinley, which Mr. Roosevelt has adopted for his administration. Another feature of the relations with the new President with the last administration became known to-day, to the effect that Mr. Roosevelt had been fully advised and had approved of the negotiations in progress relative to the proposed Canadian Canal treaty with England.

New York, Sept. 18.—A Washington special says:—It is announced that in order to carry out the wishes and promises of McKinley, President Roosevelt will appoint Dr. Rixey as surgeon-general of the navy, and W. B. Ridgely, of Illinois, as comptroller of the currency to succeed Charles D. Dawes, whose resignation goes into effect on October 1.

W. E. Rispien is advertising usual rates for Annual Western Excursion on Sept. 29th, 27th and 29th, to Detroit, Saginaw, Bay City, Chicago and other points, tickets good to return until Oct. 14th. Intending westbound passengers would do well to call on him.

ROYAL TRIUMPHAL TOUR CONTINUES THROUGH CANADA

Magnificent Reception Tendered Duke and Duchess of York in Montreal—Proceed to Ottawa To-day.

Montreal, September 18.—The Duke and Duchess of Cornwall and York journeyed from Quebec to Montreal to-day and were greeted with another affectionate demonstration from the people of Canada. They departed from Quebec at 9.30 o'clock in the morning and the last sound that fell upon their ears was a cheer from the people banked around the Canadian Pacific Railway depot. They had spent the night aboard the royal yacht Ophir and came ashore shortly after 9 o'clock.

The royal special was preceded by half an hour by another special train which carried Lord Minto, Governor-General; Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Premier, and members of the Dominion Cabinet. The people came for miles to give a greeting or wave a flag at the fleeting trains.

The welcome at Montreal, which was reached at 3 o'clock, was an ovation. Thousands of visitors had crowded into the city to reinforce the residents, and they all seemed to be massed in the neighborhood of Place Viger station and the streets designated for the course of the royal couple to the house of Lord Strathcona, which had been placed at their disposal.

The party proceeded first to a beautifully decorated stand in front of the depot, where, under a banner inscribed: "God prosper our united empire," Mayor Prefontaine read an address of welcome.

THANKED THE SOLDIERS.
The Duke in reply referred to his own two previous visits to the city and that of his father, King Edward, in 1890, and expressed his thanks for the kindly reception given to him. At the conclusion of the address 140 veterans of the South African war were called into the stand and presented with service medals. As the Duke handed each man his medal he briefly thanked him for his patriotism and valor.

The crowds behind the long lines of troops cheered wildly as the rewarded soldiers filed from the stand. At the conclusion of the ceremony at the depot the royal party were escorted to their carriages and under guard of a strong military detachment were driven to the home of Lord Strathcona.

The progress of the royal party through the thronged streets was a prolonged ovation. The municipal reception which was planned for tonight in honor of the Duke and Duchess was abandoned on account of the death of President McKinley, but the city was brilliantly illuminated and there was a torchlight procession and a display of fireworks.

As a further mark of respect to the American people in their mourning, there will be no public functions to-morrow. The Duke is to receive a degree at McGill University, and he and the Duchess will make a number of private visits.

REMAINS OF MARTYRED PRESIDENT BORNE TO HIS OLD HOME

McKinley's Casket Viewed by Thousands at Canton—To be Temporarily Placed in Vault—Later Will Rest Beside Children.

Canton, Sept. 18.—Tenderly and reverently those who had known Wm. McKinley best to-day received his martyred body into their arms. They had forgotten the illustrious career of the statesman in the loss of a great personal friend who had grown dearer to them with the passing of the years. They hardly noticed the President's flag-draped casket which contained the body of their friend and fellow townsman held all their thoughts.

He had left them two weeks ago this very day in the full tide of strength of a glorious manhood and they had brought him back dead. Anguish was in the heart of every man, woman and child. The entire population of the little city and thousands from all over Ohio, the full strength of the National Guard of the state, eight regiments, three batteries of artillery, the battalion of engineers—5,000 men in all—and the governor, lieutenant-governor and a justice of the Supreme Court, representing the three branches of the state government, were at the station to receive the remains. The whole town was in deep black.

The only house in all this sorrow-stricken city, strange as it may seem, without a touch of mourning drapery was the old familiar McKinley cottage on North Market street.

SADDED CITIZENS.
The scene as the procession bore the body to the court house where it lay in state this afternoon could not compare with the infinite sadness of that endless double line of broken-hearted people who streamed steadily through the dimly lighted corridors of the building from the time the coffin was opened until it was taken home to the sorrowing widow at nightfall. They stepped softly lest their footfalls wake their friend from his last long sleep. Tears came unbidden to wet the bier.

Perhaps it was the great change that had come upon the countenance which moved them more than the sight of the familiar features. The signs of disfigurement which appeared upon the brow and cheeks yesterday in the rotunda of the capitol at Washington had deepened. The lips had become livid. All but two of the lights of the chandelier above the head were extinguished in order that the change might appear less noticeable, but everyone who viewed the remains to-day remarked the darkened features and the ghastly lips.

When the body was taken away thousands were still in line and the committee in charge of the arrangements was appealed to, to allow a further opportunity to view the remains to-morrow morning before they are taken to the church. But this had to be reluctantly denied to them and the casket may never be opened again.

SERVICES BEGIN AT 1.30.

The funeral services will take place at 1.30 p.m. at the First M. E. church, of which the martyred President was a communicant and trustee. They will be brief, by the expressed wish of the family. Rev. O. M. Milligan, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, in which President and Mrs. McKinley were married thirty years ago, will make the opening prayer. Dr. John Hall, of the Trinity Lutheran church, will make the first scriptural reading, and Dr. E. P. Herbruck, of the Trinity Reform church, the second. Dr. C. E. Manchester, pastor of the late President's church, will deliver the only address. A quartet will sing "Beautiful Isle of Somewhere," and another quartet will render Cardinal Newman's hymn, "Lead, Kindly Light."

An imposing procession consisting of many of the G. A. R. posts in the state, the National Guard of Ohio, details of regulars from all branches of the service, fraternal, social and civic organizations, and representatives of commercial bodies from all over the country, the governors of several states with their staffs, the house and senate of the United States, and the cabinet and President of the United States, will follow the remains to West Lawn cemetery, where they will be placed in a receiving vault, awaiting the time when they will be laid in the grave beside the two dead children who were buried years ago.

There will be a short service at the receiving vault, West Lawn cemetery, consisting of prayer and a scriptural reading by Dr. C. E. Manchester and Bishop I. W. Joyce, of Minneapolis. A selection will be sung at the vault by a quartet from Pittsburgh Commandery No. 1, Knights Templar.

The number and beauty of the floral tributes which are arriving surpass belief. Flowers are literally coming by the ton. The hot houses of the country seem to have been emptied to supply them.

CROWD CAN'T BE CARED FOR.

The facilities of the little city of Canton are entirely inadequate to care for the thousands who are here, much less the other thousands who are on the way. Although the local committee is doing everything in its power to provide food and shelter, many of the officials from Washington are obliged to sleep in the cars they came in and tonight hundreds are walking the streets seeking food and places to sleep. The population of Canton is about 81,000, but it is expected that over 100,000 people will be here to-morrow.

During the afternoon the President walked over to the McKinley residence to inquire after Mrs. McKinley. He was informed that she had stood the trip from Washington bravely, but, in the opinion of her physician, it would not be advisable for her to attempt to attend the services at the church to-morrow. The other cabinet officers and the generals and admirals composing the guard of honor are also at private residences. President Roosevelt remained quietly at the Harter residence this evening and received no callers.
