

The Legend of the Roses.

BY S. M. R.

The heart of Joseph was full of thought As toward he is weary foot-ward turned;

Then, hastening in, his heart with wonder full, He called to Anna, his beloved spouse;

Shall We Know Our Own in Heaven.

It is an extraordinary thing that men should doubt the resurrection of Christ, or the resurrection of all men at the last.

For a woman to enter the church in a décolleté gown. For bridesmaids or guests to go into the presence of the Blessed Sacrament without a covering on their heads.

For a bride to be giddy at her wedding reception. For guests to manifest their good feeling by imbibing too freely if wines are provided.

Some years ago Phillips Brooks was recovering from an illness, and was denying himself to all visitors, when Robert Rogers called.

"There are at present," says the Missionary, "340 young men studying in the Seminary Rue de Bac, Paris, the famous missionary nursery of the Society of Foreign Missions."

"Some three thousand Catholic ladies," says the Oakes, "are now devoting themselves to teaching Catechism in Paris and the suburbs, their pupils numbering over thirty thousand."

Pains in the Back

Are symptoms of a weak, torpid or stagnant condition of the kidneys or liver, and are a warning of an extremely hazardous neglect, so important is a healthy action of these organs.

"I was taken ill with kidney trouble, and became so weak I could scarcely get around. I took medicine without benefit, and finally decided to try Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Cures kidney and liver troubles, relieves the back, and builds up the whole system.

For a Wedding

IT IS NOT THE CORRECT THING To neglect a suitable honorary for the officiating clergyman.

To endeavor to introduce unusual or un-Catholic ceremonies in the church.

To fall in procuring the necessary disposition in cases of mixed marriages.

To give any but the true family name, even when a person for some reason may be known by another.

To begin congratulations before the parties have left the church.

To forget that the late Council of Baltimore prohibited the celebration of weddings in church after five o'clock in the evening.

To omit going to confession and Communion before receiving the Sacrament of Matrimony.

To ask for a dispensation as to the prohibited times of the solemnization of marriages without some exceedingly grave reason.

To be niggardly in offering to the priest. Clergymen make a practice of accepting nothing from those in poverty.

For a woman to enter the church in a décolleté gown.

For bridesmaids or guests to go into the presence of the Blessed Sacrament without a covering on their heads.

To laugh, talk, or whisper in church.

For those invited who cannot afford the expense to send costly presents.

For a bride to be giddy at her wedding reception.

For guests to manifest their good feeling by imbibing too freely if wines are provided.

It is this way," said the bishop: "I feel confident of seeing my friends in the next world, but this may be my last chance of seeing you."

The Pope and France.

Rome, March 31.—The Secret Consistory which the Pope held at the Vatican on Sunday morning was of special importance to the world at large, inasmuch as he took this occasion to refer to the religious persecution which the Government of France is waging against the Church in that country.

The Pope, turning to the Cardinals who surrounded him, said: "Venerable Brothers—In addressing by the duty of our office your great assembly for the third time, it grieves us exceedingly to have once again to treat the questions which do not bring joy, but confirm sadness."

"The Old Man" and "The Kid." (From the Catholic Universe.)

Treated by Three Doctors

for a Severe Attack of Dyspepsia, Got No Relief From Medicines, But Found It At Last in Burdock Blood Bitters.

Mrs. Frank Hutt, Morrisburg, Ont., was one of those troubled with this most common of stomach troubles. She writes:—"After being treated by three doctors, and using many advertised medicines, for a severe attack of Dyspepsia, and receiving no benefit, I gave up all hope of ever being cured."
