Book Friends.

By RUTH CAMERON.

Is there anything in the world more marvelous than our sense of the reality of people's lives? Don't you occasionally catch yourself wondering who among your friends said such and such a thing, and then remember that it was somebody in a book? It is especially wonderful to me to find how slight a character can have this reality to us. In one of Margaret Deland's latest books there is a "Kate" who does not actually appear in the story at all. One of the characters has been in love with her ten years before the book opens. She is referred to occasionally by him and by the other people in the book. That is all. And yet I had a self conceived idea of what Kate looked like and such a powerful sense of her existence that I found myself wondering, as I finished a chapter, what she thought of the things that had happened in it. When "The Door Is Shut In One's Face," I have really suffered positive homesickness sometimes when I laid a good book down for the last time and knew that the door had been shut—however gently—in my face and that I couldn't know what happened to those dear friends of mine, what further adventures befell them, whether they were happy though married.

Everyday Etiquette

"While going to the street car I met a boy friend with whom I am slightly acquainted. We had quite a conversation while waiting for the car. Should he have paid my fare when entering the car?" asked Maude.

"You should have paid your own fare; but if he handed the money to the conductor, you would make yourself too ridiculous by arguing the matter," was her mother's reply.

THE PROMISSORY NOTE.

The promissory note is a scrap of paper which draws interest from the first and sometimes draws blood at the last.

The most sublime mission of the promissory note at the present writing, is to enable people to buy a perishable, red-wheeled automobile and run the same for a year without worrying about the condition of the money market. There is no easier or more satisfactory way in the world to secure a new automobile containing an eight-day clock and a ninety-day guarantee than to sign a small, unobtrusive promissory note which falls due a year later with a retort like firing a toy cannon in the cellar. The nonchalant intrepidity with which thousands of men who are only two jumps ahead of a mechanic's lien buy touring cars with an 8 per cent. note and a hopeful look shows that when it comes to raw-boned courage America has no competition.

Of all the methods of staving off cash payment in the hope that death will ensue in the interim the prom-people who would rather help the bank accumulate a surplus than have one of their own. The banks do not encourage the reckless and indiscriminate use of the promissory note unless there is some collateral in sight besides a mission oak dining table and a solemn promise.

Some men prefer to give a promissory note to some life insurance company, so that when they die and pass hence their wives will have nothing left but a fragrant memory. Others would rather sign a note for a near relative who is in poor health and may never be able to collect the interest. Any kind of note, however, is equipped with ball-bearing running gear which causes the interest dates to whirl around the tract faster than the winner of the 3.02 pace.

GONE TO SEED.

With other graybeards I recline beneath my fig tree and my vine, when sounds the evening bell; we gossip, and we're all agreed that this old world has gone to seed, that nothing now is well. "The children of these modern days, pursue their idle, trifling ways. 'Old Gaffer' blithely cries; 'they scoot around in motor cars, turn right to day, smoke rank cigars, and dance, dad bing their eyes.' And ever since the world was new, this sort of mournful howl has come from the ancient bore; no doubt old Noah talked that way, when he reposed, at close of day, beside his houseboat door. I well recall when I was young, how every village Solon flung this kind of bunk around; we youngsters were a ribald crew; when we grew up, the graybeards knew, in prison we'd be found. No doubt the tired and crippled steed, so old it cannot chew its feed, regards the colt with scorn; why does it gambol and prance? Why does it run and kick and snort? It should be powing corn. The old man's tired of play and fun; his eyes are on the setting sun, sad thoughts disturb his soul; so he assembles at the store with other graybeards, three or four, and springs his rigmarole.

THAT DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS CURE RHEUMATISM.

Harold D. Bertram Had Inflammatory Rheumatism and One Box of Dodd's Kidney Pills Cleared It Out of His System.

Southampton, Ont., April 27th.—(Special.)—That rheumatism is caused by disordered kidneys and that Dodd's Kidney Pills will cure it is again proved by the case of Harold D. Bertram, a young man well and favourably known here. He had inflammatory rheumatism for two months. Dodd's Kidney Pills cured him.

"The doctor said my trouble started with the gripe," Mr. Bertram states. "My hands and feet were badly swollen and the doctor did not seem to be doing me any good. My grandmother, Mrs. G. Grasser, advised me to take Dodd's Kidney Pills. I took one box of them and I haven't been bothered since. I am clear of the rheumatism." That Mr. Bertram's trouble came from his kidneys is shown by his other symptoms. He had stiffness in the joints, was tired and nervous, and there were flashes of light before his eyes. He had a dragging sensation across the joints, was always thirsty and felt heavy and sleepy after meals. Rheumatism is caused by uric acid in the blood. Cured kidneys strain the uric acid out of the blood. Dodd's Kidney Pills cure the kidneys.
