The Bay of Quinte yacht club regatta will be sailed to-day. The start takes place at 1 o'clock.

Trickett, with Harry Kelly, the English ex-champion, has arrived at St. Louis to prepare for his race with Fred. A. Plaisted. The famous yacht America is still so staunch that her owner, General Butler, has half an idea of some day crossing the Atlantic ocean in her.

Duncan C. Ross, the Canadian wrestler, has challenged Dick Pennell, the champion dumb-bell lifter, to wrestle a mixed match for $1000 a side.

The Madge is 45 feet 8½ inches over all, 38 feet 9½ inches on the water line; extreme beam, 7 feet 9 inches; depth of hold from under side of deck to throat of floors, 6 feet 2 inches; extreme depth, 6 feet inches; extreme draught, 7 feet 10 inches. There are ten tons of lead bolted to her keel by composition bolts, with nuts and washers on the inside. She is flush fore and att, with nothing to take up the limited deck room. Close the companion way, skylight and hatch, and seas that may be shipped run off the deck like water off a duck's back.

The club vessel was the Schemer, and the race from Fort Wadsworth, Staten island, around Spit buoy No. 160, to and around Sandy Hook lightship and return. The result of the contest was particularly gratifying to the yachtsmen who have advocated the building of cutters on this side of the Atlantic, as the Schemer was badly beaten without any "ifs," the Madge showing to greater advantage on almost every point of sailing. There were indications in the morning of light weather throughout the day, but outside the Hook there was wind enough and sea enough to suit the cutter and a trifle too much for the home boat.
