the Telegraph endeavours to make in reply to our last article on the subject of the Forestry Exhibition, we shall add merely a word, in recapitulation. The New Brunewick Land and Lumber Company were the parties who first formed the idea of having this Province represented at the Forestry Exhibition. They employed Mr. Jack, who spent most of the past winter in preparing information for all visit to Edinburgh. When the matter had been thus originated, the Government stepped in, to co-operate with the company, and it was understood that Mr. Jack should Agent General, did any trouble appear. The Telegraph does us an injustice, when it alludes to the FARMER succeing at Mr. Cornwall. What we stated was, that Mr. Cornwall could not be expected to possess much information regarding the Province, having lived in St. John but a few years as an Insurance Agent, which is not at all discreditable to that gentleman. There are plenty of men who have lived all their are plenty of the rumor that Sir Charles to his place in the House to give his vote to the Government. Our educational system is generally supposed to be the most liberal and free in the whole world, and there are none but the very newest settlements but what have ample school accommodation; our taxes paid annually, are a mere nothing; all the religious doctrines generally conformed to in England have their representatives here; our laws are liberal and equitable: crime and pauperiem are almost unknown in our communities; every man meets his fellow on an equality; wealth, of course, has its influence here as elsewhere, but the invidious caste prejudices which exist at home are not known here." The Canadian Gazette, published in London, an excellent journal, that is doing good service for the Dominion, reproduces Mr. Edwards' intelligent and readable letter in its widely circulated columns.
