international project of this kind, under cortain limitations, would be extremely beneficial to both Canada and the United States.

It is united States would a profit more by a strong matter that would take time to figure out. The United States would profit more by a st. Lawrence ship canal than Canada would. The United States would profit more by a st. Lawrence ship canal than Canada would. The United States would mean a revolution in the carrying business for us. We would prefer to see the work undertaken by Canadian and English capital, the Americans being left out of it entirely. We would then command the situation and could fix the toils to suit ourselves. The completion of a 20-foot waterway from Montreal to Lake Eries would bring an immense quantity of Americanshipping down the St. Lawrence. The large 20-foot vessels that now make Buffalo their castern terminal would go right through to Europe without breaking bulk, and for a return cargo they would ge right through to Europe without breaking bulk, and for a return cargo they would take freight direct to the inland cities of the great lakes. What an advantage it would be to Chicago to become a seaport in direct once with every other seaport in the world. It is surprising to us that the people of that on the project, but a score of other cities in the project, but a score of other cities in the project, but a score of other cities in the project, but a score of other cities in the project, but a score of other cities in the project, but a score of other cities in the project, but a score of other cities in the project, but a score of other cities in the project, but a score of other cities in the project, but a score of other cities in the project, but a score of other cities in the project, but a score of other cities in the project, but a score of other cities in the project, but a score of other cities in the project, but a score of other cities in the project, but a score of other cities in the project, but a score of other cities in the project, but talks about. Not only is Chicago interested in the project, but a score of other cities are equally concerned, cities like Cleveland, troit, Buffalo, Duluth, Milwaukee, Grand Haven, etc. In regard to our own cities, Toronto would become a seaport with prospects of rivalling Montreal in a way she cannot expect to do under present condi tions. Winnipeg would be but 300 miles distant from a seaport at which vessels would ship the grain of Manitoba and the Northwest for Europe direct. Advantages like this would bring relief to the Northwest farmer that no tariff reductions can ever effect, It is a good sign to see an interest being taken in this question on the other side of the line. sink into the humble place to which her flagrant military weakness and the gross in-adequacy of her resources to the maintenance of a world-wide empire must, at no distant day, condemn her. The struggle between England and America for commercial preponderance, and for the primacy of the English-speaking race, is as unavoidable as was the contest between Rome and Carthage for the mastery of the Mediterranean; and that is why the maxim, "Delenda est Carthago".—England must be broken down—lies at the root of all patriotic and far-sighted American statecraft. There is no sentiment more deeply planted in the hearts of native Americans, as well as of their naturalized fellow-citizens, than hostility to Great Britain.
