238 THE HISTORY OF

LETTER CXXIV.

To Miss MONTAGUE, at Quebec.

Montreal, April 14.

IS it poffible, my dear Emily, you can, after all I have faid, perfift in endeavoring to diffuade me from a defign on which my whole happiness depends, and which I flattered myself was equally effential to yours? I forgave, I even admired, your first fcruple; I thought it generofity: but I have answered it; and if you had loved as I do, you would never again have named fo unpleasing a fubject.

Does your own heart tell you mine will call a fettlement here, with you, an exile? Examine yourfelf well, and tell me whether your averfion to ftaying in Canada is not ftronger ft R ea M thi ret ete wh pro con fan ind thin

em idea mir

ړ you