Vertical Writing

BY A. NEWLANDS AND R. K. ROW

LESSONS

* * *

"FROM the Kingston Public Schools there is a small exhibit of Vertical Writing, which attracts the attention and meets the approval of nearly all the visiting educators. Though this system has been in use only a few months the work shown is considered by competent judges the freest writing on exhibition from elementary schools." From the Toronto Globe's report of the educational exhibit at the World's Fair.

DON'T DON'T WHAT?

If you are on the point of ordering a supply of Fluid Ink for the winter—DON'T. Be advised to order a supply of "DUCKETT'S DRY INKS" (Cold Water Ink Powders) instead, then the last half gallon of your stock will be as good as the first, which to your sorrow you know is not the case with Fluid Ink. NOT SPOILED BY FREEZING. NEVER MOULDS. NO DREGS.

School officials should at least give these new inventions a trial.
