

"Id best go and see that they are put back properly, or they'll be spoiled, sir," Dawes said. But it was of the apples he was speaking, not the children, as Mr. Johnson at first supposed. "Good evening, ma'am, and I hope you'll not forget your promise to punish them." This time the children, and not the apples, were meant.

"Didn't we pay him out beautifully, mother? wasn't he in a rage and a fright?"

In issue of Dec. 1st: for Chapter III.—"Peeping Back," read Chap. V.—"Paying out Dawes."

MAGAZINES.

The Christian Year Kalendar for the People (for 1887); Wm. Egerton & Co., 10 Spruce street, N. Y.; price 50c. This Calendar is done up in sheets, mounted on roller, and commences with the Church's year, viz: from Advent 1886 to 1887. Each sheet contains a week and gives the Lessons: the special antiphones—explanations, very full of the different seasons, and Holy Days of the Christian year; of the symbolical meaning of the various colours and vestments used in the services of the Church, and such a perfect volume of information as is not generally found in a Calendar. Those who desire an ornate or even easily "arranged" service will find in this Calendar full instructions and explanations; and those who do not aspire to this perfection will nevertheless obtain much information regarding the Church, her history and services.

The Girl's Kalendar, Prepared by the Girl's Friendly Society for America, (Cambridge, Mass.), for the use of its own members and other girls and young women of the Church, and ready for delivery on December 1st. The Kalendar consists of twelve pages, aid lines, and cartoon, &c., with a very tasteful cover. The texts for each month illustrate different Articles of the Creed, and on each page after the first are selections spiritual and practical, bearing on the lives and difficulties of young women. From such examination as we have made we find it excellent, churchly in character and tone, and we commend it to the Clergy and workers of the Church for use among the young women and girls of the Church. The cost is only fifteen cents a copy, ten cents if taken in numbers of not less than twenty-five. Single copies may be ordered through E. & J. B. Young & Co., New York, and in large quantities from Miss L. M. Hoppin, 469 Broadway, Cambridge, Mass.

Littell's Living Age for 1887.—The standard magazine is issued weekly and gives over three and a quarter thousand large and well filled pages of reading matter yearly. For over forty years it has kept its readers fully informed in the most valuable literature of the day. Its frequent issue and ample space enable it to present, with a completeness and freshness at tempted by no other publication, the ablest essays and reviews, the choicest serial and short stories, the most interesting sketches of travel and discovery, the best poetry and the most valuable biographical, historical, scientific and political information from the entire body of foreign periodical literature, and from the pens of the ablest living writers.

Its pages contain the productions of such authors as Prof. Max Muller, Jas. A. Froude, Prof. Huxley, Richard A. Proctor, Rt. Hon W. E. Gladstone, Edward A. Freeman, Prof. W. Goldwin Smith, Prof. Tyndall, Frances Power Cobbe, Francis Galton. The Duke of Argyll, Wm. Black, Mrs. Thackeray-Richie, Mrs. Muloch-Craik, Teo. MacDonald, Mrs. Oliphant, Mrs. Alexander, Jean Ingelow, R. D. Blackmore, Thos. Hardy, Laurence Oliphant, James Bryce, W. E. H. Lecky, Alfred Russell Wallace, Matthew Arnold, W. H. Mallock, P. G. Hamerton, W. W. Story, Ruskin, Tennyson, Browning, and many other most eminent writers of the age in all departments of literary and scientific work.

Furnishing thus the only satisfactorily complete compilation of an indispensable literature, The Living Age is obviously invaluable to every reader. It forms four large volumes a year. It supplies the place of many magazines, reviews, and papers, and alone enables the reader at a small expenditure of time and money, to keep fully abreast with the best thought and literature of the time.

The subscription price ($8 a year) is cheap for the amount of reading furnished, while the publishers make a still cheaper offer, viz: to send The Living Age and any one of the American $4 monthlies or weeklies, a year, both post-paid, for $10.50; thus furnishing to the subscriber at small cost the cream of both home and foreign literature. The publishers also offer to send to all new subscribers for the year 1887, remitting before Jan. 1st, the weekly numbers of 1886 issued after the receipt of their subscriptions, gratis. Littell & Co., Boston, are the publishers.

The Pulpit Treasury, (E. B. Treat, 771 Broad Way N. Y.) for December is on our table. This Magazine, like some noble tree, bears excellent fruit every month, and none richer and more abundant than that of this number, with which the year is closed. The preacher and Christian worker will find in this monthly a continuous supply of fresh, timely, suggestive matter for every department of their work. The illustrations in this number are the portrait of Dr. Phillips Brooks and a view of Trinity Episcopal Church, Boston, of which he is the rector. A characteristic sermon by Dr. Brooks accompanies his portrait, and a faithful sketch of his life by an Episcopalian clergyman. Other notable sermons are by Dr. Geo. L. Taylor on Christianity contrasted with Earthquakes; a Christmas Service by Rev. J. Hall Melville, and a New Year's Service by Dr. Jesse B. Thomas. Amongst leading Thoughts of Sermons is an extract from Dr. M. Dix on the Mystery of Godliness. There are many other papers interesting also in this number. (Yearly, $2.50. Clergymen $2.00. Single copies, 25 cents.)

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS

TENDERS will be invited in a few days for the construction of the Section of the Cape Breton Railway extending from the Grand Narrows to Sydney, a distance of about 45 miles. This preliminary notice is given in order that Contractors desiring to tender for the work may have an opportunity to examine the location before the winter sets in.
