[LIMITED]

"The Sign of the Four Dials."

Since time immemorial precious gems of various kinds have always carried a certain fascination for the human race.

Some love the glittering, brilliant diamond.

Some the soft, rich, pure lustre of a perfect pearl.

Some the dusky, sombre, mysterious beauty of the sapphire.

While others worship at the shrine of the radiant beauty of the emerald.

All gems have their worshippers, and realizing this we have studied to adorn our temple with as fine a collection as we could afford from the world's mart, and our invitation is to one and all to come and view the result of our endeavors.
