

A NEED FOR EVERY SCHOOL HOUSE

Do All Your Scholars Know—

how leather is produced from hides, what produces light and darkness, the size of the average lion, why a magic lantern can project pictures, the kind of guns used in the wars, what produces a mirage, what is the highest mountain in the world, who "Old Hickory" was, the difference between a Cardinal Red Bird and a Scarlet Tanager, the operation of the telephone?

All these and thousands of other interesting educational facts are clearly explained in the 6 well-bound volumes of Appleton's New Practical Cyclopedia.
