

countries, for which $250,000 will be set aside each year.

It was following on these developments that the Canadian Government decided to open Consulates-General in Bordeaux and Marseille. The choice of Marseille, the largest metropolitan centre in France after Paris, and Bordeaux, an important sea port, will permit a useful decentralization of the activities of our Paris Embassy.