

Kingdom, or of any part of it, or of Canada or any province thereof, or in either House of Parliament of the United Kingdom or of Canada, or in any legislature, or in the administration of justice; or to excite His Majesty's subjects to attempt to procure, by lawful means, the alteration of any matter in the state; or,

(c) to point out, in order to their removal, matters which are producing or have a tendency to produce feelings of hatred and ill-will between different classes of His Majesty's subjects.

I would submit that anything outside of that was punishable without the amendment of 1919. So far as this section is concerned, I presume that we all have advocated constitutional changes—different methods of doing things. I think we should do well to place a little more faith in our fellow-citizens, and to restore the section in force before the amendment of 1919, which, as I say, was passed when the people were more or less excited, and when perhaps it was essential. But the world is moving; that time has passed; and in my opinion we ought, as far as possible, to forget the war and get back to the basis of trusting and confiding in our fellow-citizens.

The motion of Right Hon. Mr. Graham for the second reading of the Bill was negatived: contents, 13; non-contents, 16.

BUSINESS OF THE SENATE

Right Hon. Mr. GRAHAM: Honourable gentlemen, that is the extent of our Order Paper for to-day. Although I have tried, I have not been able to secure information as to when we may expect to prorogue. Discussion among some people seems to be somewhat elongated and difficult to curtail.

At 6 o'clock the Senate took recess.

The Senate resumed at 8 o'clock.

Right Hon. Mr. GRAHAM: Honourable gentlemen, as there is not a favourable report from the west end of this block, as to sufficient progress having been made to enable us to function to-night, I would move that when the House adjourns it do stand adjourned until 11 o'clock in the forenoon to-morrow.

The motion was agreed to.

The Senate adjourned until to-morrow at 11 a.m.

Right Hon. Mr. GRAHAM.

THE SENATE

Friday, June 14, 1929.

The Senate met at 11 a.m., the Speaker in the Chair.

Prayers and routine proceedings.

On the Orders of the Day:

Right Hon. Mr. GRAHAM: Honourable gentlemen, when we adjourned yesterday we thought it possible that the Supply Bill would be ready for our consideration by this time, but we have not received it yet. I suggest that we meet again this afternoon at 3 o'clock. If the Bill is not here then, we might adjourn during pleasure.

Hon. Mr. DANIEL: Does the right honourable the acting leader of the Government know of any legislation other than the Supply Bill to come from the other House?

Right Hon. Mr. GRAHAM: I have had no intimation that there is any other Bill.

At 1 o'clock the Senate took recess.

The Senate resumed at 3 o'clock.

PROROGATION OF PARLIAMENT

The Hon. the SPEAKER informed the Senate that he had received a communication from the Secretary to the Governor General, acquainting him that His Excellency the Governor General would proceed to the Senate Chamber at 5 p.m. for the purpose of proroguing the present Session of Parliament.

The Senate adjourned during pleasure.

After some time the sitting was resumed.

APPROPRIATION BILL NO. 4

The Senate adjourned during pleasure.

PROROGATION OF PARLIAMENT

His Excellency the Governor General having come and being seated on the Throne:

The Hon. the SPEAKER commanded the Gentleman Usher of the Black Rod to proceed to the House of Commons and acquaint that House that: "It is His Excellency the Governor General's pleasure they attend him immediately in the Senate Chamber."
