

CHAPTER IV.

Author placed in charge of Oakinagan—Erects new buildings there—Musquitoes—Sagacity of the horses—Rattlesnakes good food—Sarsaparilla—Black snakes—Climate—Whirlwinds—Handsome situation—Character of the tribe—Manner of trading—Extraordinary cures of consumption . 68

CHAPTER V.

Author nearly blinded by hawks—Foxes—Great number of wolves—Their method of attacking horses—Lynxes—Bears—Anecdote of a kidnapping bruin—Ingenious plan of getting off bear-skins—Account of the horses on the Columbia—Great feat performed by one . . . . 84

CHAPTER VI.

Letter from the proprietors—Author winters at Oakinagan—Letter from Mr. Mackenzie—A number of horses stolen—Successful Plan to recover them—Description of soil, climate, productions, &c. of the lower part of the Columbia . 102

CHAPTER VII.

Description of climate, soil, &c. above the rapids—Sketch of various tribes—The Chohoptins—Yackamans—Oakinagans—Sinapoils—Spokans—Anecdote—Pointed-hearts—Cause of war—Cootonais—Kettle Indians—Kamloops, &c. 121

CHAPTER VIII.

Ascent of the Columbia—Its lakes—Dangerous navigation—High water—Arrive at the mountains—Melancholy detail of the death of six of the party . . . . 142