DEATH OF IRVING COURT PRECEDENT

Victim's Estate is Retarded by Brother.

The dispute over the will of the late William Naulis and his wife, who perwilliam Nauls and his wife, who perished in the Emprezs disaster, was taken up yesterday by the surrogate court, and it was contended by John Nauls, a brother of the deceased, that whereas it is to be presumed that Mrs. Naulls died before her husband, owing to the greater, physical strength, the to his greater physical strength, the portion of her husband's estate mentioned in the letters of administration. and claimed by the two stepsons, could not be included as her property. Court Settlement of Empress Will Occupy Three Sites While in City-Street Parade Every Morning.

> Gentry Brothers' trained animal shows, which met with success in Toronto two years ago, are coming back for another visit of one week. The shows when last here spent the entire week in Dufferin Park, but this year they will occupy three locations in Greater Toronto. Their first home here will be at Queen street east and Greenwood avenue, where there will be two performances on Monday and a like number on Tuesday. Wednesday the shows will be at Broadview and Danforth avenues. Thursday, Friday and Saturday they will spend at Dufterin Park.

HEAVY DAMAGE BY !NSECTS.

OTTAWA, July 17.—That damage to the extent of fifty million dollars is done to Canadian crops every year by insects is stated in a bulletin of the conservation commission. Birds and paradites are the natural enemies of these destructive insects, as many as 3000 being found in the stomachs of a single bird.

Canadian cross Despatch.

LONDON, July 17.—The British Admiralty Court today found the British steamer Indemore responsible for the serious collision on June 17 with the North German Lloyd steam-ship Kaiser Wilhelm II., just after the liner had left Southampton for Cherbourg and New York.

Sir Bargrave Deane, the judge, in giving a signal that she had stopped when as a matter of fact she had not done so. This, he said, had misled those on board the Kaiser Wilhelm II., and had caused the collision, which occurred in a thick fog and resulted in considerable damage to the German vessel.

It is as useful as written arithmetic, while in commonschool education it is of fundamental mportance. It comes home to high and low, rich and poor, farmer and mechanic. And while it is an eminently practical study, mental arithmetic also has the highest educational value. One purpose of education is quick and concentrated attention: this mental arithmetic calls for. Another is mental training: this the study of mental arithmetic serves in a wonderful degree. The tremendously greater vitality that exists in oral work over written work is naturally present in mental arithmetic. The mechanical emphasis that invariably goes with written work is absent, and in its place is the emphasis on the logical side that comes with nental training. It makes for mental order: for earnest effort. It is interhow in one study we can find almost all the elements of a successful nental training.

UNFORTUNATE GIRL WILL BE RETURNED TO PARENTS

Discouraged because she was un-able to get work, Christina Emerson, a nineteen-year-old English girl at-tempted to commit suicide a couple of weeks ago by turning on the gas and going to bed. After several hours she was found and sent to Grace Hospital, where she has been up to yesterday, when she appeared in the police court to answer to the charge of attempting suicide. She explained that her room ent was in arrears and was told she would have to get work or get out, so she decided to put an end to her life. An effort will be made to send her back to her parents in England, so she was remanded for sentence.

Is the Kitchen Waltz More Harmful Than the Tango?

VERY newspaper and magazine is overflowing with remarks, interviews and outerviews on the harmfulness of the tango and the moral obliquity of the maxixe; but new zest to the argument can be lent by introducing the subject, the harmfulness of the kitchen waitz—its effect upon the woman in the home, and why it should be put Parbleu! you have not heard of it? Impossible! While the tango is danced by comparatively few of society's elite and others, the kitchen waltz is indulged in daily by thousands of women all over the country who are their own chief cook and bottle washer.

This is the way it is done: A woman decides to make an omelet. She trots gracefully to the left to the icebox, removes the eggs and flits hastily twenty feet across the room to the kitchen table. Here, after a proper pause, during which time she beats the eggs, she advances carefully (carrying the bowl) to the kitchen stove. Another pause at the stove, and she reverses twenty feet back to the pantry to get a platter, makes one more trip of twenty feet back to the table, and at last the kitchen waltz is finished—her omelet is complete.

Yes, day after day women take any number of steps, and go thru any

Yes, day after day women take any number of steps, and go thru any number of figures and convolutions in the different tasks they do about the kitchen—from stove to table, to pantry, across to the sink and back to the stove, and so on in an endless series and figures, which is more complex than any maxixe we have seen

All this movement solely because the equipment of the kitchen is poorly arranged. What points in common have a sink and the kitchen stove? And will anyone explain why they are obstinately set down next to each other in hundreds and hundreds of kitchens, small or large?

Motion studies have been made showing the amount of time and steps taken by a woman as she works under average kitchen conditions, and it is appalling the amount of waste motion and time that has been consumed in kitchen work. From patient, scientific analysis of the way work is done in the kitchen it can be shown that the equipment of the kitchen must be arranged in a definite order so that work may be "routed," and waste steps and time avoided.

There are two processes in all kitchen work:

(1) Preparing a meal.

Each of these processes covers distinct equipment. The equipment of the first, of the preparing process, is in its order: (2) Clearing away a meal. (1) Refrigerator or storage.
(2) Kitchen table or preparing surface.

(3) Stove or cooking apparatus. (4) Table or serving surface.

The equipment of the clearing away group is:

(1) Stack surface to right of sink.

(4) China shelves and pot closet. Thus the storage, table and stove must be arranged in one group; sink and china and utensil shelves in another group. If this is done every kind of a cooking task can proceed in a definite order of "routed" work without cross stepping and waste motion. If the equipment is badly arranged and not grouped scientifically, the result will be all the involutions of the kitchen waltz with its harmful effects of fatigue, foot weariness and that "all tired out feeling."

Who will resolve with me never to dance the kitchen waltz and to standardize her kitchen conditions, so that we can work without waste motion and fatigue?

To Discard Freckles Tan, Pimples, Wrinkles

The use of creams on the face sometime causes hair to grow. You can avoid the risk of acquiring superfluous hair by avoiding cosmetics and using mercolized wax instead. There is nothing better for any condition the skin, as the wax actually absorbs the offensive cuticle. The latter is naturally replaced by a clear, smooth, healthy complexion. placed by a clear, smooth, healthy complexion, full of life and expression. It's the sensible way to discard a freckled, tanned, over-red, blotchy or pimpled skin. Get an ounce of mericolized wax at any druggist's and apply nightly like cold cream, erasing in the morning with soap and water. It takes a week or so to complete the transformation.

The ideal wrinkle eradicator is made by dissolving an ounce of powde 4 saxolite in a half pint witch hazel. Bathing the face in the solution brings almost instantaneous results.

CRAP SHOOTERS WERE FINALLY CAPTURED

While taking his Sunday afternoon constitutional in the neighborhood of St. John's Cemetery, Inspector Miller happened upon a band of youthful gamesters in the midst of a friendly game of crap. The lads stood not upon the manner of their going, but went. All escaped but one, who fell into the toils of the law and was duly fined $10 and costs. Not content with the ap-prehension of one of the culprits the inspector presumably got someone to turn "King's evidence," with the result that the remainder of the band were rounded up, and, upon confessing, were let off with a fine of $1 and costs

Some Insecticide and Fungicide Remedies

There have been so many anxious enquiries of late concerning the proper solutions to use on various plants that it will be advisable to deal with the subject generally.

If our amateurs will learn certain main points about plant diseases and their remedies the matter of proper sprays will clear itself up in a wonderful manner.

And first, let me warn all that for most cases where it is possible to use the simple garden hose early and late, your plants will be healthy. But a garden hose is not always possible, as in the country, for instance. And again there are a few diseasec that absolutely demand medicated sprays. Now, first two points: Never apply insecticides or fungicides when fruits are in bloom. Such sprays kill the bees and so affect pollination. And: "Application of insection
