THE JOHN EATON FIRE.

Witnesses Testify to the Sacrifices Made on Bargain Days—No Signs of the End Yet.

The proceedings at Osgoode Hall yesterday opened with the testimony of Archibald B. McGillivray, who had been in charge of the carpet department. Nothing very material was elicited from the witness.

Abraham Bail, the next witness, was at John Eaton's on Feb. 10, and left March 8, 1897, in the carpet and house-furnishing department.

"What was the practice of selling stock without regard to bargain days, while you were there?" queried Mr. Blake.

"I want a particular point as to the method of sale," said His Lordship.

The counsel got down to such small items that His Lordship objected that at the present rate of progress the trial might last six months. What are you going to do?"

Mr. Osler: "My Lord, we propose to show that goods were sold for or below cost in all departments."

"Well, if you keep on, a new appointment will be necessary."

Mr. Blake averred his side wanted no other.

Witness, continuing, said goods were very rarely sold at market price, and at this time nearly every day was bargain day in carpets. Goods were sold 10 to 25 per cent. under market price. He didn't think there was any profit, but must have been loss.

The difference, witness explained, between J. Eaton's and Timothy Eaton's methods, was that in the former place prices would be reduced on goods and then advanced; in the latter they stayed at the reduction.

Victor Hall was in J. Eaton's employ from May 10 to December before the fire. From August till December, 1896, the reduction was more than usual, averaging between 15 and 20 per cent. He enumerated a lot of braces regularly sold at 25c, that went first at 7c, and a few at 9c a pair. They were British goods. Ribbed underwear, regular 49c, sold at 21c. Some Army and Navy German merino goods from 25c to 49c, were piled on a table and sold at 12 1-2c a garment, and the remainder cleared at 7 1-2c. Hats, marked from 50c to $1.99, were cleared at 25c each.

His Lordship thought a man who paid 25c for a 50c hat was discriminated against in favor of a man who got a $1.99 hat for a quarter.

Witness remembered 125 dozen collars, first sold at 2 for 25c, being cleared at 10c a dozen, and also 50 or 60 shirts, which went at 25c., generally sold from 49c to $1.25. A sample shirt was produced, which the Clerk of the Court gravely stamped and marked.

Isaac Pratt also gave evidence. He took part in the stock-taking, and thought $5000 an outside estimate in gents'-furnishing department. Witness said that as far as he could see there were no preparations for a spring trade. The stock was old and not very saleable.

Railway Men Will Dance.

IS GERMANY THE ARBITER?

English Newspapers on the Sending of Reinforcements to the East.

The Kaiser's Fleet Apparently Holds the Balance of Power as Between Britain and Japan on the One Hand and France and Russia on the Other—Russian Intrigue in India Shown Up—Cable News.

London, Jan. 26.—The newspapers here comment on French, Russian and German reinforcements going to the far east, while no corresponding addition is made to the British fleet, and say: "Happily, Great Britain has the countenance, instead of the hostility, of the United States. But the Japanese navy is a factor of uncertain value."

An article in The Pall Mall Gazette says: "The German fleet may be said to hold the balance between England and Japan and France and Russia. The position of arbiter is the very thing the Kaiser would desire, and, with the force he possesses in the far east, he can dictate terms.

"If the position is really critical, we run a grave risk in leaving our fleet weak. In fact, we prepare for an open contest by a retrograde move."

RUSSIA'S HAND SHOWN.

British Gunboat Seizes Arms Consigned to Russian Firms in Baluchistan, India.

Muscat, Gulf of Oman, Jan. 26.—The British gunboat Lapwing has seized the steamer Baluchistan, off here, and her cargo of arms and ammunition has been confiscated. Her cargo is held by the British Consul.

Oman is a kingdom of Arabia, between the Persian Gulf and the Arabian Sea, or Sea of Oman. Muscat is the capital of the Kingdom of Oman, and has an active trade with British India. The Sultan of Oman has despotic sway, and has a naval force at his disposal. It may be presumed that the cargo of arms and ammunition seized by the British warship Lapwing was intended for the use of the insurgents of Baluchistan who have recently been giving considerable trouble to the British. According to despatches from Calcutta from Jan. 22 on, there has been a serious outbreak in the Province of Mekran, the largest province of Baluchistan, and not far from where the steamer mentioned was seized. A British survey party was attacked and a number of the native guards were killed or wounded. Captain Burn, in command of the party, escaped on a camel, travelling 150 miles in 26 hours to Ormara, on the Arabian Sea. He reported that the whole Kej Valley was in open revolt, and the troops of the Khan of Kelat were holding Naslrabad, a military post of India, southeast of Ajmere, adding that Ford Pasni had been looted and that Ormara itself was threatened.

Where the Bear's Paw Shows.

The seizure of the steamer Baluchistan tends to explain the mystery as to whence the Afridis secured their arms. The owners of the Baluchistan say she has been released and has proceeded. They add that the arms were shipped to a dozen different Russian firms.

KLATT SAW A WOMAN.

She Might Have Been Mrs. Luetgert, But the Witness Could Not Say as to That.

Chicago, Jan. 26.—Otto Klatt, a bookbinder living at 991 West Chicago-avenue, was the most important witness in the Luetgert murder trial to-day. Klatt testified that about 11 o'clock on the night of May 1 last, while driving past the Luetgert residence in Hermitage-avenue, a woman came out of one of the houses which he believes is Luetgert's and crossed the street in front of his rig. Klatt says he heard a gate slam, and before he saw her the woman was almost under the horse's feet. "She reached her hand up to stop my horse," said Klatt, "and I called out 'Look out, or I'll run over you.' She made no reply, but went on across the street. The witness said that the woman had a package under her arm and was about his size. Klatt said he could not see the woman clearly enough to identify her, either personally or by photograph.

SMITH WANTS WARSHIPS

On the Lakes, and is Trying to Wiggle Round the Treaty of Ghent So as to Have Them.

Washington, Jan. 26.—Representative Smith, one of the Republican members of the House Committee on Foreign Affairs, called on Assistant Secretary Day at the State Department to-day. Mr. Smith's main purpose was to confer with the authorities on the modification of that feature of the treaty of Ghent, under which the building of warships on the great lakes had been prohibited. He is urging that the modification be brought about by negotiations through diplomatic channels, and after his conference to-day Mr. Smith expressed confidence that a modification of the treaty could be accomplished.

East Buffalo Cattle Market.

East Buffalo, Jan. 26.—Cattle—There was nothing doing, the fresh arrivals being consigned through. The supply is light, about steady for good to choice grades. Stockers and feeders—The receipts were not as heavy this week, only 25 cars all told, of which about five cars were natives and Michigans, the balance Canadas. The market was fairly active and stronger when buyers and sellers did get together and good to choice lots sold 10c to 15c higher. Canadian stockers and feeders—Feeders, good quality, $3.90 to $4.15; feeders, common to good, $3.50 to $3.85; stockers, light weights and prime selected yearlings, $3.60 to $4; common grades, stockers and feeders, $3 to $3.50; stock heifers, light, common to good, $3 to $3.25.

Hogs—Receipts 20 cars; market slow, buyers and sellers being apart in their views, and some early sales of Yorkers were at a shade lower prices, but later the market ruled stronger again. Prime to selected light Yorkers, $4.05 to $4.10; mixed packers' grades, $4 to $4.05; medium weights, $4 to $4.05; heavy hogs, $4 to $4.05; roughs, $3.35 to $3.60; stags, $2.80 to $3; pigs, $3.25 to $4.

Sheep and lambs—Receipts 20 cars; market strong and firm, with a good demand for all desirable grades of both sheep and lambs. Native lambs—Choice to extra, $5.85 to $5.95; fair to good, $5.50 to $5.80; culls to common, $4.75 to $5.40; yearlings, fair mixed to choice wethers, $4.50 to $5.25. Sheep—Choice to selected wethers, $4.65 to $4.90; good to choice mixed sheep, $4.35 to $4.65; common to fair, $3.90 to $4.25; culls to common sheep, $3.25 to $3.85.

Money Rates Tightening.

New York, Jan. 26.—The Evening Post's financial cable from London says: Politics restricted all the stock markets here to-day except Americans, which rose steadily and closed quiet at the best, almost entirely on New York support. New York Central and Ontario & Western led the rise. Other markets were featureless. Spanish securities were dull. Money rates are tightening still further, and more was borrowed to-day from the Bank of England.

ALL PETERBORO MOURNS.

The Tragic Death in Hamilton of Mr. R. D. Hamilton Was a Great Shock.

Peterboro, Jan. 26.—(Special.)—The news of the sad death of Mr. R. D. Hamilton last evening has caused a gloom to come over every home in Peterboro. At first the matter was thrown aside with discredit by Peterboro's business men, but when the deceased's brother, Mr. Peter Hamilton, left for Hamilton people began to realize that something serious had occurred. The deceased was one of the most popular men in town, taking a great interest in all matters of sport, and was looked upon as an authority in business matters. Mrs. Hamilton is confined to her room with grief over the sad affliction which has come upon her and her two children.

Apart from the sad and sudden manner of the death of Mr. Hamilton the mere fact of his death is a great shock to the community; where he was born, raised and educated, and where he has always been held in the very highest respect. He was the fourth son of the late James Hamilton and was born in Peterboro about 40 years ago. At an early age he became associated with the agricultural insurance business of his brother, Mr. Peter Hamilton, and became thoroughly acquainted with every detail. A few years ago he was admitted as a partner into the firm, and has looked after the office work of the company, and his experience in this department has caused the Hamilton office system to be looked upon as an excellent model. About 18 years ago he married Miss Maggie Parks of Toronto, who, with two children—a boy and a girl—survives him. His three brothers, Mr. Peter Hamilton and Mr. William Hamilton of this town and Mr. James Hamilton of Lindsay, as well as his sisters, Mrs. Robert Innes and Mrs. John Cameron, also survive him. The funeral will take place to-morrow to the Little Lake Cemetery here.

TOM WAS SPLITTING WOOD

When the Uncontrollable Impulse to Kill His Sister Seized Him.

Mayor Renaud of Joliette Was Called by the Defence in the Nulty Murder Trial, But Proved a Good Crown Witness—The Murderer Confessed to Him in the Presence of Two Reporters.

Joliette, Que., Jan. 26.—One of the witnesses called by the defence yesterday was Mayor Renaud of Joliette, but who, however, proved a very good Crown witness. Mayor Renaud is a lawyer, and is the party who at was first thought would defend the prisoner. His testimony covered the confession made to himself in the presence of a couple of reporters. Tom had told him that he was in the act of splitting firewood in his father's yard when the uncontrollable impulse seized upon him to murder his sister Lizzie, whom he saw going to the barn. He went to the barn and struck Lizzie with the ax, while she was feeding pigs. Seeing his sister Annie coming towards the barn he went out and felled her also. The prisoner then said that he did not remember killing the third sister, but had a hazy recollection of striking little Pat. When he came to himself he was in the bush two miles from home.

In cross-examination Mayor Renaud gave as his reasons for not conducting the case for the defence that he had not the necessary time. He also had private reasons. To another question witness stated that he did not think that the prisoner was insane. He was then asked if that was not the real reason why he had dropped the case, but the question was not allowed. Witness further swore that the prisoner would not admit having a motive for the crime. Nothing of any importance was elicited at to-day's sitting.

THE POIRIER CASE.

Woman Prisoner Told McCaskill That Parslow Killed Her Husband.

St. Scholastique, Que., Jan. 26.—In the Poirier murder trial to-day Detective McCaskell testified that the female prisoner voluntarily confessed that Parslow, her paramour, was the slayer of her husband. The witness was severely cross-examined by Advocate Poirier, but the evidence was not shaken.

At 2 o'clock Mr. Poirier continued his cross-examination of Detective McCaskill. It has been decided that the trial of Sam Parslow will be held in July.

The first witness was Mrs. Noe Bourvette of St. Canute. She stated: "I used to go to Mrs. Perrier's, and often saw Sam Parslow there washing the dishes and the floor. Everyone in St. Canute used to say that the prisoner and Sam were lovers." This witness gave very strong evidence against the prisoner, and all the efforts of Mr. Le Duc in his cross-examination were unavailing.

Eddie Brennan, a youth of St. Canute, corroborated this evidence; then came Edward Parslow, brother of Sam, who stated nothing important, as he was very sick at the time of the murder.

SLEEP WAS DENIED HER!

Smothering spells and difficulty of breathing made sleep impossible.

The Heart again at Fault!

The Means of Cure described.

Mrs. Richard Gill, 270 Church-street, Toronto, Ont., says: "My good opinion of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills has been confirmed because the heart troubles from which I formerly suffered entirely disappeared through their use, and have not since returned.

"For twelve years I suffered with violent palpitation, accompanied by sharp pains in my heart. I often experienced great difficulty in breathing, and was subject to smothering spells both day and night. Many a night sleep was denied to me; my nervous system was completely shattered and my physical strength very weak.

"These valuable pills restored my heart to health and strength in every way. My nervous system is as strong and steady as ever it was. The smothering spells and lack of sleep are a thing of the past, and my breathing is as regular and free as when I was a girl.

"Only those who have suffered as I did for twelve years, and been restored to health as I was by MILBURN'S HEART AND NERVE PILLS can appreciate how thankful I am to this great medicine for all heart and nerve troubles. I think it is invaluable."
