I remarked that we had anticipated all these criticisms in the third clause of enclosed report, by providing that the three members should give their whole; there members should give their whole; there office under the ordinance or authority of the said city, therefore they would not be looking out for the popular vote, and would thus have no interest in ward grabbing. In Toronto, Says Mr. S. W. Galatian

At the Grand Union Hotel last evening was Mr. S. W. Galatian of New York, one of the directors of the great Plant system of railways and hotels in the Southern States. Mr. Galatian is a man of a little under the medium heighth, with a keen, clean-shaven face, wears a fashionable brown suit, and like all successful Americans, has any amount of steam up. What the Palace Hotel Should Be

What the Palace Hotel Should Be Like.

Being a man concerned in nine hotels, one of which, at Tampa Bay, cost $2,500,000, and has an opera house attached, the director knows something of palace hotels. Asked what he thought of the proposed one for Toronto, Mr. Galadian replied promptly: "A good modern house ought to be an immediate success here. About 200 rooms, four storeys high, and $2.50 up, according to the location, is my idea. People have a holy horror of sky scrapers, and it has been proved in New York that they are a thing of the past."

Why the Hotel is Sure to Succeed.

"Way do you think the hotel would be a success?"

"Because it is of vast importance for Toronto to catch the tourist travel. The southern travel is going to be something phenomenal next summer, the whole Northwest will be overrun by them. The reason is that they have an extraordinarily heavy cotton crop this year, and whenever the southerner makes money on his cotton he takes a run off to spend it. These southerners," exclaimed Mr. Galatian, with the emphasis of the man who knows what he is talking about, "are God's own people. They were the making of New York, and they will do the same for Toronto if you can keep them here."

Canadians Going to Porto Rico.

Asked if his trip to Canada was on pleasure or business bound, Mr. Galatian explained that it was in connection with a Canadian excursion to Porto Rico. A party of 100 had applied for transportation. The majority were speculators, but he expected a fashionable rush to the island next summer.
