Besides the leaders of the expedition the Libertador has on board 300 volunteers, and it is understood that she will embark a number of o.her volunteers while on her way to the coast of Venezuela.

The behavior of Gen. Malos and his adherents while they were at this port was most correct, and when they left here they had the sympathy of the whole population. Gen. Malos is well known at Fort de France, where he has many friends. The local newspapers have published articles of the expedition and the downfall of President Castro, whose attitude, the papers add, has earned for him the eamity of the whole world.

add, has earned for him the whole world.

Previous to his departure from Fort de France, Gen. Malos issued a manifesto calling on all his fellow-countrymen to take up arms. While the Libertador was a this port her sides were strengthened by light armor, and her gun positions were protected. Her armament is of the modern type.

The Venezueian Fieet.

The Venezuelan Fleet.

It was announced in a despatch to the Associated Press from Willems ad, Island of Curacoa, Dec. 28, that the Venezuelan government believed the Ban Righ (Libertador) was in the vicinity of the Island of Margarita, an island of Venezuelan fleet had been concentrated the Venezuelan fleet had been concent er service.

The fleet is under command of Gen. Alejandro Ybarra, and until recently had been stationed at Port of Spain, Trinidad, for upwards of a year.

The Libertador a Pirate, The Restaurador was at Fort de France, Dec. 24, on which date she left that port. Her destination was unknown to the peomations as published in to-day's World, in which it is stated that 20 denominations now in Toronto had no existence in this city 10 years ago. At least five of them were in existence 20 or more years ago. The Swedenborgians had their church building on Elm-street, the Reformed Eniscopal on Simcoe and Caer Howell-streets and the Catholic Apostolic near Victoria and Gould-streets. The Mormons held their meetings near the St. Andrew's Market, and the Plymouth Brethren included a number of the most respected citizens of Toronto 15 or 20 years ago. Several others, of those menitoned in the report were here in the year 1891; but, i appears, that there was no provision made in the census papers for recording or reporting them.

"Have a Look" at the Grand. Every exposition of note brings into vogue one or more slang expressions, so with the Pan-American Exposition. It served to bring into popular use at least two expressions that to-day are being passed around the entire country. The spieler who did not employ the expression "Have who did not employ the expression "Have a Look" was not in the running. It was shouted thru megaphones until it came naturally and easily to lips unaccustomed to slang. Appreciative of the widespread use of the expression, William Lorraine, composer of the music for "A Trip to Buffato," has written "Have a Look," a song being used with the production with immense success. You will whiste and hum "Have a Look," when you have heard it at the Grand next week.

Red Flash, the famous indian runner, who carried Custer's last message, is one of the most interesting of a group of famous red men who form the attacking party on the fort in Go-W-n-tio-Mohawk party mantic play, "The Flaming Arrow," which is the attraction at the Toronto Operat House next week. Red Flash, an old mannow, was once and indeed for a full decade, the fastest of all Indian runners. It is said that a sprint of 100 mi'es a day as the bearer of important messages, between the forces of the regular army, was but a trifle. Previous to his employment by the United States government he had been one of the most noted and blood-thirsty warriors of the Dakota Indians.

An Original Play. An Original Play.

After a fong line of dramatized novels the people of our city are going to see au original comedy, which will be the attraction at the Princess Theatre for one week, beginning Monday, Jan. 6. The new play is entitled "Her Lord and Master," and will be produced by Herbert Kelcey and Effie Shannon, for whom it was specially written by Martha Morton. For the pass several years many playwrights have tried to fit Mr. Kelcey and Miss Shannon with a play, but they, knowing so well several years many playwrights have tried to fit Mr. Kelcey and Miss Shannon with a play, but they, knowing so well their peculiar individualities and valuing so highly the public approbation which they so much enjoy, after reading hundreds of manuscripts, chose "Her Lord and Master as the most fitting vechicle, and happilly for the new play, both press and public have given a verdict of highest approvat. The company with which Mr. Keicey and Miss Shannon have surrounded themselves this year is said to equal in strength that of the old Lyceum Stock Company with which they were connected for many years. The cast includes Mr. Morton Seiten, Mr. Charles Stokes, Mr. Percy Brooke. Mr. Douglas Fairbanks, Mr. William Elliott, Miss Hattle Russell, Miss Winona Shannon, Mrs. Isabel Waldron and Miss Ida Darling.

NEW KING'S STAMPS.

New York, Jan. 2.-A despatch from Lon don to The Herald give the following a count of the manner in which London re ceived the new King Edward stamps: There was an enthusiastic demand and a ready supply, but King Edward coins were miss e ing. Many people got up early and went considerably out of their way to make purchases of the pretty new penny and half-penny stamps. Quite a number of ardent philatelists waited until midnight on Tuesday at the general postoffice, and began asking for the new samps, which were on sale immediately after 12 o'clock struck for New Year's day. In the majori y of cases the stamps were promptly affixed to letters and postcards, which were forther with posted at the nearest available letter box. There is no doubt whatever from the gossip heard at the postoffices that the public is highly pleased with the new King Edward stamps, especially the penny red ones. Many people got up early and wen
