AN UNBEATEN GERMANY WOULD CONTROL WORLD

Boston, Nov. 20.—"The only hope of the allies in the war is to crush the mad dog of Europe," declared Representative Hale, U.S. senator from Maine, in an address to the Merchants' Club tonight. "For a German victory, and anything but a real beating for the central powers will be a German victory, means this: it means that no matter what terms Germany offers in settlement of the war, she will be from now on, the dominating, controlling power in the world. She will have proved to the world the advantage of her autocratic form of government, because thru it she was able to withstand and practically to whip the whole world in arms."

WAR SUMMARY
THE DAY'S EVENTS REVIEWED

FIELD MARSHAL HAIG gained some advantages in a series of operations on the front between St. Quentin and the Scarpe in an attack yesterday.
The British captured a considerable amount of booty and a considerable number of prisoners. The Germans describe the British assaults as taking place between the Bassaine and the Peronne roads, and in the direction of Cambrai.
The section under British pressure is one which the enemy has to defend at all costs, for the loss of Cambrai would bring with it the loss of a considerable section of territory, including St. Quentin and La Perre, and would also imperil the existence of the German front between Lens and the new Ypres salient. The section assailed is within the Hindouburg line. The object of the attack is probably to distract the German attention from the operations in Belgium.

The British in Palestine have reached, apparently without further resistance, points 15 miles northwest and 15 miles west of Jerusalem. They are thus flanking the Holy City. The disaster inflicted on the Turks has apparently delivered Palestine from the oppressor. Palestine, geographically, is part of Egypt, for the division between Asia and Africa is purely an arbitrary line. Its retention by Britain is deemed essential by experts for the protection of the Suez Canal. It has been projected to extend the Cape to Cairo Railway to Jerusalem and Damascus, and thence eastward to Bombay.
The British therefore may contemplate the making of an isthmus to Damascus.

The reports which have come from fully to establish the fact that a counterrevolution is breaking out against the Bolsheviks. Even the fact that the reported them in Petrograd are who support the streets with banners describing their regime as more tyrannical than the absolute regime of the czar. Kaledines, the situation. He controls the opposing regions of Russia. Kerenyky, it is reported, is at Lwow with an army of 100,000.
He is requesting the aid of more men from the front. Meanwhile the aid of the government has refused to recognize the Bolsheviks, and it has put an embargo upon all supplies to Russia. This is to ensure that no shipments from America will go to the revolutionaries.

President Wilson is treating the Bolsheviki in the manner as the treating Huerta. Before allowing further supplies to go forward to Russia he will see that Russia has secured a settled government.

The Bolsheviki at Petrograd, it is currently reported, have declared that Russians are a beligerent. They resolutely refuse to make a separate peace. This junta, however, will not respond, perhaps, result disastrously on the Russian government, and its supplies will be cut off. It is not improbable that the enemy will make a trade if they can control the Russian army, but until the present of the army has accepted the Bolsheviki as the government.

The news from Italy grows better.
The German tide in the Trentino has apparently reached its highest mark and has receded a little. The fight has become a contest for Monte Tomba. The Germans had apparently captured the whole of this peak, but the Italian counter-stroke has driven them to its northern slopes. The Italians are still maintaining strong assaults. The enemy has failed terribly in his attempt to force the line of the Piave by force.
The allied artillery fire, supporting counter-attacks, swept the assaulting Austrians out of existence. British and French batteries have apparently arrived wherever the enemy's further advance.
Owing to the checking of his advance everywhere, the enemy will probably try some new plan to force the Italian position. A successful resistance of the allies would, perhaps, result disastrously on the German internal situation. The riding in Berlin has certainly been on a large scale, for has compelled the police to fire on the disturbers.

HAMILTON TO HEAR
CHIEFS OF UNION

Two Mass Meetings Will Be Held on Thursday to Discuss Issues.

Special to The Toronto World.
Hamilton, Nov. 20.—Hon. Sir George E.
Foote and Hon. N. W. Rowell, and possibly other cabinet ministers, will be the speakers at two huge mass meetings to be held in the A. O. F. Temple Thursday afternoon and evening in the interests of the Hamilton and Cornwall Homeland. The afternoon session will be for the women electors of the coming election. The evening will be a public meeting.
After 15 months overseas Capt. (Dr.) Hilker, the well-known local physician, has returned home and while non-committal on the subject it is believed he will take charge of the Brant Homeland Military Hospital and Convalescent Home.
The Great War Veterans' Association of Hamilton has passed their following resolution, which has been wired to Sir Robert Borden and copies forwarded to Hon. N. W. Rowell and Hon. J. D. Reid.
"That a serious situation has arisen in East and West Hamilton.
"That this association assures the prime minister that both Col. Wm. Hend-rie and Lieut.-Col. John L. McLaren are acceptable to the returned soldiers and to the great mass of women who will have voted at the coming election.
"That this association expresses its conviction that, if the prime minister recognizes either Col. Wm. Hendrie or Lieut.-Col. John L. McLaren the one so recalled will carry the riding." There is a possibility that from now the Hydro lights in the centre of the city will be turned on earlier in the evenings. Numerous complaints have been made against the city being in darkness, which culminated in the retail merchants complaining to Controller Wright.

SOLDIERS RESIST POLICE.

Children's restaurant was the scene of another scrap between the police and the soldiers early this morning when two soldiers tried to interfere with a policeman called in by the management to remove a man who was making himself objectionable, by passing remarks and behaving in an objectionable manner.

SOME TRIBUNALS TRANSGRESS LAW

Prime Minister Announces Appeals Will Go to Highest Court.

DISCOVERS EVASIONS

Borden Advises Those Having Legitimate Claims to Appeal Decisions.

Ottawa, Nov. 20.—The prime minister having received communications from many parts of the country respecting difficulties which have arisen by reason of inconsistent decisions of tribunals in dealing with exemptions, considers it advisable that the following statement should be made public:
(1) The Military Service Act is being administered under the direction of a vast amount of labor in dealing with necessary details, prepared a proclamation, which was issued on the 18th of October, calling out for service class "one," which comprises British subjects between the ages of 20 and 24, both inclusive, if unmarried or widowers without children.
(2) To facilitate the administration of the act through the Dominion, and upon application to the minister of justice. There should, however, be no unnecessary delay in taking out the appeal in any case where it has not already been done.
(3) In cases where exemption has been granted without sufficient grounds or in an indiscriminate manner the representatives appointed by the minister of militia will see that all necessary appeals are lodged to prevent the intention of the act from being defeated by the default of any tribunal or tribunals. In some cases it appears that these officers have not been sufficiently diligent in asserting appeals for this purpose. The minister of militia is taking steps to enforce the lodging of appeals in such cases.
(4) To enforce appeals.
(5) Finally, to ensure consistency of decisions and impartial administration
to afford the greatest possible protection to the national interest, an appeal is provided to the central tribunal at Ottawa, consisting of Mr. Justice Duff as central appeal judge, who has the power, to secure the appointment of assistants to him in the discharge of his duties in the various parts of the Dominion. It is the intention of the government to enforce appeals on its own behalf to the central appeal judge and to assist in the lodging of such appeals by any persons who have just ground of complaint, so that there may be uniformity of decision in the application of the act throughout Canada.
(6) The attention of those who are included within Class I is directed to the importance of the category within which they have been classed upon their medical examination. It is only men who have been included within category A who can be called out for active service in the trenches. The need at present is for infantry to serve at the front. As men included within categories B, C, D and E are not considered suitable for this service there is no likelihood of their being drafted. The best service which they can give to the state is in Canada rather than at the front. This statement is exempt until men of their respective categories are required.
(7) The last preceding paragraph does not, of course, apply to defaulters, that is to say, contumacious persons who defy the law, and who may be punished by civil or military process.

persons having legitimate claim to exemption have not appealed, when exemption is denied. The appeal should be made within three days, but the time for appeals can be extended on application to the minister of justice.
There should, however, be no unnecessary delay in taking out the
already been done.
(8) In cases where exemption has
cases.
(9) To enforce appeals.
(10) Finally, to ensure consistency of
to afford the greatest possible pro-
is provided to the central tribunal at
application of the act throughout Canada.
