to 800 metres, according to the official communication issued at Paris this evening. Gains also were made by the French near the Villages of Maurepas and Hem. which were held against a proposition of the powerful German counter-attacks. The mmunication says:
"North of the Somme the day was marked by a series of desperate ac-tions. On the front between Hill 139, northeast of Hardecourt, and the river, our troops, passing to the attack, captured this morning a whole system of enemy trenches on a depth varying from 300 to 800 meters. We reached the outskirts of the Village of Maure-

"We hold the wood north of Hen station and the quarry north of this wood and Monacu farm.
"In the afternoon the Germans delivered powerful counter-attacks, particularly in the region of Monacu farm, where the fighting was particularly violent. Everywhere our fire shattered the enemy's efforts and inflicted heavy losses on him. We have retained the whole of the conquered ground and taken over 200 prisoners. "On the right bank of the Meuse we repulsed a German attack directed against our positions west of Thianagainst our positions west of Thiau-mont work. There has been an intense bombardment in the sectors of Fleury-Vaux-Chapitre. "On the rest of the front there was Prospects of Brightest.

The opening of the present week finds the prospects of the allies per-haps brighter than in any previous period of the war, according to the iews heled here, and the position of the central powers more discouraging. Gen. Brusiloff's striking victories present the German general staff with Von Linsingen, who was sent by the allowing to aid the shattered Aus trians, has now been completely thrust back from the Lutsk sallent.

the same problem is presented on the western front, where, says an less battle seems steadily to gain in intensity. Doubtless the constant arrival of fresh German troops and guns." he adds, "has everything to do with this result. The enemy shows an increasing tendency to counter-attack." These counter-attacks have failed to stem the steady allied advance and altho at the present moment the fighting on the Somme is mainly devoted to securing mastery of small strategic positions, which will be the keys to further progress, there is yet no sign of the Germans making any effective

Russians' Great Victories. The Russians' remarkable victories reveal a most interesting situation. The army of the German general, Count von Bothmer, holding the Stripa, near Lemberg-Tarnopol Railroad, was a few weeks ago being outflanked on the south by Gen. Letchitzky's suc-cessful advance, when the Dniester floods prevented Letchitzky's further progress. This enabled Von Bothmer to hold onto the threatened positions. Gen. Sakharoff then devoted himself enveloping Von Bothmer's forces on the north, with what success is seen in his double at Brody. able victory west of Lutsk and

Von Bothmer can longer delay extri-cating himself from his precarious po-sition, even if he can now do so without serious losses. The Russians at Brody are at present nearer Lembers than Von Bothmer's forces, which are entrusted with Lemberg's defense, and altho the country between Brody and Lemberg is very difficult, it becomes a question whether the evacuation of both Kovel and Lemberg will not soon become necessary.
