PORT HILL.

Rev. Mr Swabey, reports that during the past summer, a public tea party was given at New Bideford, for the purpose of putting the glebe school house in a proper state of repair for divine service; that it will be shortly occupied, and thus become a valuable addition to the Church buildings of the Parish, the seats will be open and free. In lieu of a bell, the plan adopted here (as it is believed is the case in Newfoundland,) is to hoist a flag on the day appointed for divine service, and for this emblem of unity and peace, they are indebted to a Lady in Charlottetown. The appearance and the comfort of the Churches at Port Hill, and Lot 11, respectively have been much improved by the addition of vestries. The parsonage house is still unfinished, and as the original design was bad, it will probably never become a comfortable house. The Sunday Schools, at Port Hill, and Lot 11, particularly the former are tolerably well sustained, and many of the children manifest a laudable desire for instruction, while their biblical knowledge is proceeding; this desirable end has been attained by the self denying efforts of several lay coadjutors, to whom the missionary is under great obligation. The interest in the Society remains unabated. Subscription to D. C. S. £8.

CASCUMPEC AND KILDARE.

The Rev. Mr Dyer, reports with thankfulness the steady progress of the Church's work in this extensive mission, and that, notwithstanding the inclemency of the weather, he has been enabled to attend at all the stations, and has performed divine services twice on every Lord's-day throughout the year. He would wish that these services were more numerous attended, but under all the circumstances of the case, the average attendance has been grati-
