WHAT FOR?

A rather personal question when it comes to asking it about one's clothing. But, in shoes, it's the question. It may be answered in various ways: "For hard work," "to wear in wet weather," "for a dance," "for a formal wedding," "for tired feet," etc. It's easy, and it may make all the difference in the world in the satisfaction you derive from your purchase. Some leather stands moisture better than others; some leather will "give" more than others; some feet need flexible arches, some stiff. Our experience of years is concentrated on giving you the shoe best adapted to the use you intend putting it to. Therefore when we fit your foot we stand squarely back of the shoe you get. It pleases you, or we replace it—and in this latter case we ask no questions.

JACK O'BRIEN, OF MOVIE FAME, VISITING CITY

Leading Man Enthuses Over Rich Scenery of New Brunswick

SEES FIELD HERE FOR SCREEN TALES

Says U. S. Producers Turning Their Eyes Towards Canada

New Brunswick's magnificent scenery has won another enthusiastic visitor in the person of Jack O'Brien, brother of Eugene O'Brien and himself a well-known motion picture actor who arrived in the city today on a motor trip through the Maritime Provinces. Mr. O'Brien flew by airplane from Mitchell Field, New York to Old Orchard, Maine, and from there has motored through Maine to Woodstock and down the valley of the Saint John to this city. Mr. O'Brien said this morning he was impressed with the scenery and with the hospitality accorded him. Although on a holiday trip, Mr. O'Brien is on the lookout for stories and reports regarding the scenic beauty of the Maritimes to take back to the scenario writers.

16 YEARS WITH CAMERA.

Mr. O'Brien, although still a young man, is a veteran in the motion picture game, having entered it 16 years ago when just a lad. He has been leading man for Norman Shearer, the Montreal girl, in "The Stealers," Marjorie Clark, Hope Hampton, Edythe Roberts, Carmel Myers and Anna Q. Nilson. He holds the honor of having produced the first picture made in Alaska, "The Lure of the Yukon," in which Eva Novak starred. Mr. O'Brien has done considerable work in serials and westerns and was starred in "Bride 19" a serial made during the war. He had a prominent part in "The Iron Horse" and his latest appearance was in "Once Upon a Time." He is due back in Hollywood, California, by January 1 when he will commence work on a new picture.

LOOK TO CANADA.

In conversation with Mr. O'Brien, he revealed the interesting fact that American producers looking toward Canada for new material for stories. If Canada, he said, could bring freshness to the screen in new stories, it would be well worth while because pictures made in foreign countries were in much demand in the United States now. From what he had seen of New Brunswick, he was convinced that something in the way of historical type could be developed successfully.

DEER HUNT SEASON OPENS TOMORROW

Good Months Ahead For Sportsmen in New Brunswick Woods is Outlook

The hunting season for deer in the Province of New Brunswick will open tomorrow. The Department of Lands and Mines is taking the policy of distributing game licenses several days before the opening in order that vendors would have the opportunity of issuing the licenses before the opening of the season and thus permit sportsmen to get a start at the very opening. Chief Game Warden L. A. Gason, sent out the licenses on the 10th.

DEER AND DUCK PLENTIFUL

Advance reports are that deer and duck are plentiful. The districts frequented by them have had them in large numbers. Moose also are reported to be as numerous as usual and a good moose-hunting season is the expectation. The season for moose opens on Oct. 1.

CLOSE SEASON ON PARTRIDGE.

There is a close season on partridge. The Department is taking precautions to enforce the regulations against the killing of that game bird rigidly and having partridges in possession is an offense as well as the killing of them.

SEE THE FALLS

At high tide the water of the Bay of Fundy reaches a higher level than the water of the Saint John River and forces its way through the gorge of the Falls, creating a "fall" running up river.

At low tide the water in the Bay becomes so much lower than that of the river, that the fall of water is reversed and flows down river into the Bay.

At half tide, when the level in the Bay and River are about equal, the water at the Falls becomes a smooth surface of a lake.

The fully exposed bed of the river at this stage.

The best time to view this phenomenon is:

As Hiram Sees It

THE SETTLEMENT: Hanner had me pickin' high bush cranberries yesterday. Every fall she makes cranberry jelly in little glass jars—and in the winter—when anybody's been sick an' gittin' so they kin take a little nourishment—you'll see her goin' with one of them jars.

She says the jelly sort of tempts the appetite. She has blackberry jelly, too—an' cherry jelly—an' some mixed jellies. She says the Good Lord sent the fruit fer us to use an' if we had to do without somethin' else to git the money to buy the sugar we'd feed the good of it at supper time all winter. You ort to see some o' Hanner's canned vegetables. She staided how to do 'em—an' I guess she improved on what she learnt by readin'. I wonder how many folks in town thinks its worth while to see preservin' an' cannin' when things is cheap—an' gits the good of it in the winter. Maybe they think they kin buy 'em cheaper—but Hanner don't—when she puts 'em up herself she thinks they're a lot better. I mind the time when folks in the country had to put away things for winter or go without. It's most too easy now to go the store an' buy 'em. I haint got nothin' agin the storekeepers—but we're travelin' a little from the old-fashioned ways a little faster'n we ort to—yes, sir.

DEATH IS MOURNED BY MANY FRIENDS

Miss Helen G. Thomson, of Rothesay, Was Held in High Esteem

With sorrow and regret, friends learned yesterday of the death of Miss Helen G. Thomson, which occurred at her home, Rothesay, after an illness of many weeks' duration. She was a charter member of the Women's Auxiliary and, until obliged to resign on account of failing health, had been the organist of the Rothesay Presbyterian Church for 30 years and also superintendent of the Sunday school. In church and philanthropic work she was an active and interested worker and she gave willingly of her talents and time in her efforts for every good cause. She was a member of Knox Presbyterian church, Saint John.

To her sister, Miss Elizabeth W. Thomson, heartfelt sympathy is extended in her bereavement. The funeral will be held from her late home tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Rev. Douglas Guest of Vermont, a nephew of Miss Thomson, arrived today to be present at the services.
