Convention of N. B. and P. E. I. Union Is Opened at Sackville

SACKVILLE, Oct. 12.—The New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island Women's Christian Temperance Union opened their 20th annual convention in the United Church at Sackville, on Tuesday, October 12. There was a large representation from various sections of the provinces which comprise 18 unions and 448 members. During the year four new unions were organized—at Sunny Brae, Salisbury, Jacques River and Plaster Rock.

At the morning session Mrs. Mary Seymour, of Saint John, evangelistic superintendent, led the devotional service and gave an address entitled "The Secret of Eternal Life." Mrs. Edie Bruce, the president, took the chair and declared the convention opened for the transaction of business.

A pleasing feature of the morning session was the presentation of a life membership pin of gold, with pearl settings, to Mrs. Edie Bruce, the provincial president, thus making her a life member of the Canadian National W. C. T. U. The presentation was made on behalf of the Provincial W. C. T. U. by Mrs. Mary Seymour and Mrs. M. E. O'Neill.

Buy them by the Carton

THE most satisfactory way to buy Edison Mazda Lamps is by the carton of six. Then, when a lamp burns out, there is no frantic scramble to replace it with a lamp stolen from some other socket. The time to buy lamps is before you need them. When you do need them it is often too late to buy them.

On your way home tonight—on your next shopping expedition—make a point of stopping in at the Edison Mazda Lamp agent and laying in a supply of genuine Edison Mazdas. Measured by light and service, they are the most economical lamp to buy. See that the name MAZDA is on every lamp.

THE NEW LAMP

PENNILESS AT 79, RETURNS RICH FIND

Aged New Yorker, Down and Out, Talks it Over With Minister

NEW YORK, Oct. 13.—On Wednesday of last week a destitute, seventy-nine-year-old man walked into the office of the Rev. Harry Emerson Fosdick at the Park Avenue Baptist church. Dr. Fosdick looked up and recognized a friend, an aged, cultured, unshakable and -outer whom he had converted nearly two years before.

Then he glanced at a wallet the old fellow held in his hands. When Dr. Fosdick had signified his interest, the old man explained that he had picked the wallet up in the street. It contained $1,200, including two $500 notes, and the address of the owner. The man said he had come to talk the matter over with the pastor who had converted him, and soon decided that he wished to see the money back in the rightful owner's hands.

All this Dr. Fosdick has just made public. The man's name he refused to reveal.

"When I was a special preacher at the First Presbyterian Church," said Dr. Fosdick, "he wandered in and listened to my sermon. He had experienced misfortune, he told me afterwards, and said frankly that he had lost his faith because of the hard knocks he had received. But in due time he regained his faith. During the fifteen months I was out of the country he got down and out financially. He had no one to fall back on. It is not easy for a cultured man of 79 to get work in New York. He became a 'sandwich man' and walked the streets. He served as an usher in a theatre at night for $5 a week. It is not easy for a gentleman to exist in New York on $5 a week. It meant living in a vile hole and getting a square meal only occasionally."

Dr. Fosdick said he would see to it that the old man suffered no longer.
