VANCOUVER LINKS
MIX SEASIDE MOOR,
FOREST AND GLEN

Pacific High Tides Almost Lap Veranda Steps in Outpost of Empire

RARE COMBINATION
AFFORDED GOLFERS

Marvellous Growth Clears
Away Trees and Builds
City in 40 Years

VANCOUVER, B. C., April 6.—Possibly nowhere else in the world is there a golf links with such a rare combination of seaside moor, forest, glen, tide flats and wooded hills as the Jericho Country Club course just outside the harbor at Vancouver, British Columbia.

All is rare in this Pacific outpost of the British empire, for only 40 years ago the site of this modern city was virgin forest.

MARVELLOUS GROWTH
Marvellous growth has cleared away the firs and pines, stretched the endless hills, and created a population of 100,000 persons, who have laid down this golf course among the many beautiful recreation places created for the delectation of the populace.

The peaceful clubhouse stands at the verge of the ocean reach, and at high tide the waters of the Pacific almost lap the steps of the veranda. With the ebb of the main, the "front yard" of the club is a vast expanse of sand on which the members frolic from beach fire to surf in gay bathing attire.

WIRELESS STATION
Nearby the original nine hole links was built on the shore of shifting sand, with tangled reeds and stiff seaweeds for hazards, now stands a large government wireless and aviation station an adjunct of the fortress of Esquimalt across the sound on Vancouver Island. To these primitive holes have been added nine others cut out of the forest and over the hills.

The first hole is one of the old ones over the seaside fen, but the next is a combination of the shore and the forest, as the second shot carries across a creek to a green among the firs. The next fairway is an arcade of trees with here and there a mighty stump that once was the base of a gigantic tree. Another hole of similar type and the account begins.

TO CREST OF LINKS
It is a short climb of 187 yards at first in a canyon of pines to the sixth hole, 382 yards carries the player to the crest of the links. The fairway is not only a right angled dog leg, but the green is apparently 200 feet above the tee, with the steep side of the hill catching the drive in full career. Out of breath, if one makes haste to reach the ball, the second shot to the hilltop green becomes difficult, but the view afforded from this pinnacle is inspiring.

The climb has also brought the player to a tee whence he looks down a steep grade 512 yards to the seventh green. A good drive here is a marvel to the ordinary player, as the ball may go 300 yards or more. The expert can not do much better, for a video eventually stops the ball. The second shot should get home if there is taken to keep to the right, for the fairway slants sharply to the left.

ALL BUT IMPOSSIBLE
The baby eighth, only 114 yards, seems all but impossible. The space from tee to green is one deep gully, and the carpet is a tattered cut in the side of a hill, with a drop of 20 feet on all sides except the embankment on the right. If the tee shot gets on the green and stays there, the player still has an undulating green to putt over.

The last hole of the out nine is similar to the seventh, but more en-forested, and is a double boomers. After four more holes through woods and hills, the drive from the fourteenth tee takes the ball back to the moor; and, when the sixteenth hole is reached, the player finds himself at the brink of the ocean. In fact, the seventeenth hole is so close to the water that spray will shower him on blustery days.

The home hole runs along the beach, and a hooked ball will carry the sea wall and land in the brine among the bathers. The first nine is 3,002 yards and the second 3,270 with a pair of 35 for each half.

LIQUOR FINES
Fines for infractions of the liquor laws during March totaled $2,500.

A Few Doses
of
Dr. Wood's
Norway
Pine
Syrup
May Stop That Cough

Mr. Frank D. Conner, West Bathurst, N.B., writes:—"I had a very bad cold and cough that settled on my lungs, and I thought that I would never get rid of it.

One day a friend spoke to me about your wonderful remedy, so I sent and got a bottle of it, and after the first dose I took I got relief, and by the time I had finished the bottle I was completely relieved of all my trouble."

King's Yacht Undergoes
Many Alterations

LONDON, April 7.—If you want alterations being made to the King's racing cutter Britannia to increase her speed in light winds and give her a better chance of success against her more modern rivals.

A new mast, 100 feet long, one of the longest ever in the country, is being fitted, the sail area is being increased, and a quantity of inside lead is being removed from the keel.

The Britannia is entered for all the chief regattas this year, and will be put in commission in May so that the alterations in her rig may be thoroughly tested before racing starts.

R. EDGAR ADAMS IS AGAIN PRESIDENT

Re-elected Head of A. Y. P.
A. of St. Luke's at Annual Meeting

R. Edgar Adams was re-elected president of the A. Y. P. A. of St. Luke's church at the annual meeting last night at which he presided and the chief matter discussed at the meeting was the holding of a summer camp.

A committee consisting of Rev. Canon H. J. McKim, the rector; Rev. Cecil Harcourt, the curate, and Mr. Adams was appointed to bring in a report on the summer camp project to a later meeting.

Mr. Adams gave a comprehensive report of the year's work and reports were also submitted by the retiring officers, Messrs. May, Miss Gladys Martin, and treasurer, Joseph Henley. The treasurer's statement showed a balance of $14.47 after an expenditure of more than $196 and all bills paid.

Canon McKim thanked the members for assistance in decorating the church at Easter and on other occasions. The new executive elected consisted of the president, Honorary president, R. E. Harcourt; president, R. Edgar Adams; vice-president, Miss Ida Solomon; secretary, Miss Muriel Thompson; treasurer, Percy B. Naze; committee conveners, program, Miss Rosemary Adams; Miss Helen Adams; attendance, Clifford Seely; badminton, Burton Plewelling.

PROGRAM ENJOYED

Women's Missionary Society of Coburg St. Church
Has Pleasant Evening

A very interesting program, arranged by Mrs. H. H. Gillis, was given at a meeting of the Women's Missionary Society of the Coburg street Christian church held last night at the residence of Mrs. W. J. Johnston, president, in the drawing of the coat of arms of Saint John, done by Harrison Ellis.

The program was a very good review of local industries, including the dry dock, pulp and paper mills and brush factories. Examples of the excellent work of the pupils in drawing, painting, needlework and woodcarving were given and there is a very good illustration of the work of the pupils in drawing, painting, needlework and woodcarving.

The example of wood carving by Norval Melville is a perfect gem of craftsmanship. The work of the pupils of grades I to VII, has for its cover a pen and ink drawing of the coat of arms of Canada, also by Harrison Ellis, which is a splendid piece of work. There is a brief introductory article in the portfolio telling of the work done in each of the grades, then come various sections each devoted to the work of one grade.

BRITAIN IS BUILDING
NEW GIANT AIRSHIP

Will Be Double Size of R.33
and Employed in India
Service

LONDON, April 7.—A start is being made this week with the construction of the new airship R.101, which will be airworthy on the air service to India, and possibly to Australia.

The airship, the largest yet attempted, will be built by the Airship Guarantee Co., at Howden, Yorkshire, and will take two years to complete.

The new airship will be 160 feet high. The gas capacity of four million cubic feet will give a lifting power of about 15 tons. R.33, it is interesting to recall, had a gas capacity of two million cubic feet and a disposable lift of twenty-nine tons.

5,000 HORSE POWER
The new airship's horse-power will be more than five thousand, and her average flying speed fifty miles per hour.

There will be accommodation for 122 passengers, each of whom will be allowed 40 lbs. of baggage. The ship will also have a special room in which to carry fifteen tons of mail.

It is estimated that the voyage from England to Sydney will take eleven days. There will be three fuel stations and calling places on the route—Heliopolis (near Cairo), Karachi, and Singapore.

The consumption of oil fuel by the new ships five engines during her flight will average roughly three hundred weight per hour. Non-inflammable.

3 PORTFOLIOS

FINE EFFORTS

Prepared By Red Cross Members

School

EXCELLENT WORK
SUBJECT OF PRAISE

Shown In Toronto and Will
Be Sent To Porto
Rico

Saint John, New Brunswick, and Canada can reckon among the excellent public efforts on their behalf, the three fine portfolios which have been prepared by the Junior Red Cross members of New Albert School in West Saint John to go forward to Junior Red Cross members in Porto Rico.

The portfolios have just been received at the Junior Red Cross office and are to be sent at once to Miss Jessie I. Lawson, junior supervisor for New Brunswick, to be exhibited at the national conference of Junior Red Cross supervisors in Toronto next week.

In the meantime many teachers and other interested people called at the office yesterday and spent some time examining the portfolios. Every visitor marvelled at the excellent work and the completeness of the review of Canadian and local affairs which the three represented.

ALL WORK OF PUPILS.

One portfolio was entirely the work of the pupils of the Opportunity class in New Albert school, another represented the work of the pupils of grade VIII, and the pupils of the home and brush factories. Examples of the excellent work of the pupils in drawing, painting, needlework and woodcarving were given and there is a very good illustration of the work of the pupils in drawing, painting, needlework and woodcarving.

The example of wood carving by Norval Melville is a perfect gem of craftsmanship. There is a brief introductory article in the portfolio telling of the work done in each of the grades, then come various sections each devoted to the work of one grade.

LOCAL COAT OF ARMS.

The portfolio made by the pupils of grades VIII, and the pupils of the home economics and manual training classes, has for its cover a pen and ink drawing of the coat of arms of Saint John, done by Harrison Ellis.

WORK OF THE GRADES.

Grade I. Is represented by some nice printing and some pasted cut outs. Grade II. Pupils have neatly written arithmetic exercises, health rhymes and paper toys. Grade III. Exhibits a map of Saint John county, nicely drawn.

Waving and
Curling Dries
Life from Hair

The constant curling and waving demanded by present styles in bobbed hair, slowly burns the color, lustre and very life from the hair, leaving it dry, faded, brittle, and full of dandruff; then the hair roots shrink and the hair falls out fast.

"Since girls just must curl and wave the hair to attract their pretties," "Dandruff" to offset any bad effects. After the first application your hair will take on new life and that healthy, youthful lustre, become incomparably soft, wavy and appear twice as thick and abundant. Falling hair stops and dandruff disappears.

A 35-cent bottle of refreshing "Dandruff" from any drug store or toilet counter will do wonders for any girl's hair. It goes right to the roots, invigorates, nourishes and strengthens them, helping the hair to grow thick, healthy and luxuriant.

PRINCE AND BEATTY
SLANT HATS ALIKE

Only Two in British Empire
Who Slant Headgear
of Uniforms

LONDON, April 6.—The tilt of Lord Beatty's hat is the copyright of two persons only in England—the Prince of Wales and Lord Beatty himself.

Lieutenant-General Sir William Furse is advising the boys of the Church of Wales, who are to be inspected by the Prince in June, to remember to put their hats on straight and keep them straight.

"There are only two officers in the whole of the Empire," Sir William said, "who are allowed to wear their uniform hats on one side of their heads. One is the great Admiral Lord Beatty and the other the Prince of Wales."

"From the little I know of the Prince of Wales, if he sees anybody mimicking him, he will not give them such a nice report as he might otherwise," the speaker added.

SAINT JOHN SKETCHED.

Grade VII. gives illustrated articles on Canadian winter sports, shows examples of the fur of fur-bearing animals in New Brunswick and gives a great variety of pictures of Saint John with two historical sketches of the city.

Grade VIII. pupils show some more of the city and have articles descriptive of the hydro-electric development in New Brunswick, the maple sugar industry and New Brunswick fisheries. Drawings by the pupils, a page of pressed flowers and leaves and a Junior Red Cross page complete the portfolio.

English Girls Gain Fame
As Interpreters At Geneva

LONDON, April 6.—The most talkative woman in London lately was Miss M. Curtis, a rosy-cheeked Gorton girl, who for the last four years has been in the International Labor Office at Geneva.

It has been her task to attend daily the international eight-hour day conference, at the Ministry of Labor, and interpret the speeches for the benefit of foreign delegates.

Every speech in German or French had to be cross-interpreted and then reduced to English, and as matters of detail and technical knowledge constantly cropped up, the work was by no means light. For every speech made Miss Curtis had to make two.

A pleasant-faced woman with dark shingled hair, wearing a business-like green knitted frock and large horn-rimmed spectacles, Miss Curtis stood at the back of the speaking statesman taking notes in abbreviated long hand—she does not use shorthand—and at the end of the oration gave a rapid interpretation, with only occasional glances at her notebook.

"Miss Curtis can literally get into the mind of M. Albert Thomas, the Director of the International Labor Office,"

Gas Causes a Serious Condition

Brooklyn, Mr. O. H. H. writes:—"I want you to know that no day passed for months that did not find my stomach bloated with gas and shooting pains through my abdomen. I felt hungry at times but as soon as I started eating I became bloated. My tongue was coated and I always had a bad taste. I never thought this could all be from constipation. It must have been for the very first day after taking Carter's Little Liver Pills I felt free."

Carter's Little Liver Pills move the bowels free from pain. Druggists, 25¢ and 75¢ red packages.

ran under Jockey Club rules, this being the greatest total on record. In 1887 only 1,166 horses ran during the season.
