NO MAIL ORDERS FOR BALL TICKETS

Get In Line At The Gate Only Way GREAT INTEREST AGAIN Complaint In Philadelphia About Rule Requiring Purchase For Three Games—Players Likely to Write Reports Despite Decision (Canadian Press) New York, N. Y., Oct. 1.—Baseball players who write world's series will have the support of the Baseball Players' fraternity, it was announced today by David L. Fultz, a lawyer, who is president of the organization. Fultz made a statement regarding the rule laid down by the National Commission prohibiting players of the competing teams from writing on the championship games or allowing their names to be signed to articles written by others. "We do not pass upon the status of the player-author, as in our opinion, the matter rests entirely with the player and the paper itself," said President Fultz, referring to the fraternity's attitude toward the National Commission's rule. "But if our support should be necessary to enable one of our members to carry out a contract which he has had a perfect right to enter into, and which another has entered into with him in good faith we would back him up to the limit."

Fultz characterized as "absurd" all talk that the series would be called off by the National Commission if players refused to heed the ban against their efforts as writers. The attitude of the players toward the rule, will be taken up on Monday, when the National Commission will meet here, to complete arrangements for the world's series. L. E. Constance, secretary of the Pittsburgh National League club, and representative of the National Commission, arrived here today to prepare the way for the meeting of Chairman August Herrmann of Cincinnati, Ban Johnson, president of the American league, and Thomas J. Lynch, president of the National League. The three members of the commission. Officials of the New York club announced that they had received 800,000 to persons who sent money to tickets to the championship games. Under the rules, no mail orders for tickets are to be honored, and would-be purchasers must await their turns at the gate. The applications came from all parts of the country. John B. Foster, secretary of the New York club, said the indications point to an attendance of 40,000 persons at the opening game on next Tuesday, if the weather is fair.

In Connie Mack's Town Philadelphia, Pa., Oct. 1.—"Philadelphia fans, who are anxious to secure tickets for the approaching world's series, are engaging boys to stand in line all night before the public sale for the contest in this city on Monday, October 6. Companies which furnish messengers, boys, are making preparations to meet the unusual demand, and one company announced that the rate would be raised from 20 to 30 cents an hour for the way for the meeting of the coveted pasteboards had engaged twenty boys to stand in line from nine o'clock Sunday night, until nine a.m. Monday, when the gates are opened. Under the rules adopted this year, no mail orders will be honored and each purchaser must buy tickets for three games in this city, and no one is permitted to buy more than two for each game. In case three games are not played here, money for tickets not used will be returned to the purchasers. The requirement that even those who desire to witness only one game must buy tickets for three is causing some unfavorable comment among the local baseball followers. Washington, D. C., Oct. 1.—Connie Mack, manager of the Athletics in a statement here last night, declared that he would not prevent two of his players, Baker and Collins, from writing special newspaper articles on the world's series, against which a ruling was recently issued by the National Baseball Commission. "It seems that the commission is making the ruling entirely too late," said Mr. Mack, "and if any such action is contemplated, the players should have been notified long since." He expressed the opinion that the players would go ahead with their plans without serious opposition.

LOOKS FOR BIG YEAR IN IMMIGRATION FROM STATES

During May and June, it showed a distinct falling off in comparison with last year, but as soon as the facts about the crop in western Canada became known, it suddenly jumped up, showing an income of 60 to 70 per cent over preceding weeks.
