LOGGER KILLED WOMAN HE LOVED AND ATTEMPTED TO END HIS OWN LIFE

Tragedy in Seattle Was Result of Jealousy--The Murderer Will Recover.

Seattle, Nov. 4.—Death was the reward that came to Mrs. Flora M. Shannon for her kindness to one in affliction. Sympathy for him as he lay injured in her home, mistaken for a feeling of deeper affection, led James Brady to commit an act that robbed the woman of her life and brands him a murderer. To Brady, during his sickness, Mrs. Shannon ministered to his every want, but in health she spurned his love and declared that she was to marry another, and this admission fired the spark of mad jealousy in the bosom of the man that took her life.

The killing of Mrs. Shannon occurred in the D. B. Denny way, some time yesterday afternoon. Her dead body and the unconscious form of Brady, who attempted to end his own life, were discovered in the house shortly after 2 o'clock by A. B. Currie, affianced husband of the woman. Mrs. Shannon had recently been dead only a short time for her.

Clothing Had Been Set on Fire by the powder from the weapon of her lover, and it was blazing when Currie entered.

Currie extinguished the fire and telephoned at once to the police. When Corner Carroll and Sergeant of Detectives Tennant arrived it was found that Mrs. Shannon had met her death as the result of two gunshot wounds inflicted with a .33 caliber revolver. One bullet entered her throat and lodged in the right shoulder. The second bullet struck her just above and in front of the left ear, penetrated the brain and came to rest in the right ear. In the opinion of Dr. Carroll and Dr. Buckley, assistant city health officer, who made examination, death.

Almost Instantly followed the firing of the second shot. After shooting Mrs. Shannon Brady turned the weapon on himself, inflicting a serious, though not necessarily a fatal, wound in the head. One bullet entered on the right side of the head, followed the curvature of the skull and emerged at the top. Shortly after the coroner and the police arrived. Brady covered his eyes with his hands and made a brief statement, in which he admitted he committed the deed. "She threw me down," he said, "and I wanted to end it all."

The murderer walked to the ambulance unassisted and after entering the Wayside Emergency hospital was able to sit up in bed. In reply to a question as to his condition, Matron Major said: "The man is not getting any better. According to court reporter James Brady, who is a logger, sustained a broken leg while working at Kerston about two months ago. During the time he was ill he roomed at the home of Mrs. Shannon at 1310 Denny way, and she nursed him and took unusual care in ministering to his wants. The injured man became Greatly Attached to His Nurse and by the time he was able to leave her home, which was about eight days ago, he was madly in love with her. From his own lips Brady stated that he loved Mrs. Shannon loved A. B. Currie, an employee of the J. B. Fowler Commission Company, and in his mad- ness he determined to learn the truth and end her life and his own.

He met the woman down town about noon yesterday and went to her home with her. Once inside the house Brady asked Mrs. Shannon if she loved him, and she replied that she did not, but was the promised wife of Currie. Without a moment's warning Brady drew his pistol and fired at her, and the time Mrs. Shannon was standing near a bed in a room back of the parlor, which is in front of the house. She staggered past the man and crossed a hallway into a small closet, the rear of the rear of a staircase. As she entered this closet Brady sprang to her side, and almost placing the weapon against her head sent a bullet

Crashing Into Her Brain. She fell forward into an open trunk and it was in this position that her dead body was found. Then Brady turned and fired a third shot, which penetrated her own head, and fell face downward. Although several persons were occupying rooms in the same building none of the shots were heard, and it remained for Currie to discover the tragedy. Currie was taken to the police station, and after relating his story was allowed his liberty pending further hearing. He stated that he had known Mrs. Shannon for several months, and had been rooming at her house for some time.

Brady first became acquainted with Mrs. Shannon when she and her husband, who is now divorced from her, were living at Burlington. In her opinion for divorce Shannon named Brady as a co-respondent, but the latter declares that his acquaintance with the woman at the time was slight. The dead woman was 45 years of age. She is survived by a daughter of 17, who resided with her. Brady is 35 years of age.

BARING ESCAPE OF TERRORIST

CONCEALED HIMSELF IN A WATER BARREL

Former Head of Fighting Organization, Who Was Sent to Mines, Gains Freedom.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 1.—Gerschum, one of the most famous terrorists and head of the fighting organization during the Siplagunine and Von Plehve times, has escaped from Siberia, concealed in a water cask. His disappearance is a serious menace to personages whose lives the terrorists are now seeking, as he is a skilled organizer, and one of the most remarkable men the revolution has produced.

Gerschum, who is a Jew, was condemned to perpetual imprisonment for complicity in the assassination of Siplagunine, late minister of the interior, and the attempt on the life of Pobedinitsoff, ex-procurator of the Holy Synod. He was sent to the Siberian mines at Akatui on the Mongolian frontier of Siberia when the Schusselburg fortress was closed, as a prisoner for political offenders on February 3rd.

One of Gerschum's comrades, a man named Melnikoff, escaped from the mines two months ago and the governor of Akatui says he cannot guarantee the safe-keeping of Sasonoff and Sikorsky, the other terrorists implicated in the assassination of Von Plehve, because the revolutionary agents who arranged the escapes of Gerschum and Melnikoff were supplied with money and have the sympathy of the whole population.

Lieut. Dalgeiff, of the Kuskha regiment, has been sentenced to twelve years' imprisonment in the mines for organizing a mutiny at the fortress of Kuskha.

The surgeons at the hospital were amazed at the endurance the man displayed and say it was the first time in their experience that a person was able to keep his feet for twenty-four hours with such injuries as the athlete had received.

Ellier received his injuries in a collision between a patrol wagon and a street car at 8 o'clock on Tuesday night. After going to the station to make a complaint with his prisoner he went back and patrolled until midnight when he reported off duty and went home and slept until 5 o'clock yesterday morning and reported for duty again at six. He patrolled until noon, slept until five in the afternoon and went back on duty at six o'clock last night. At nine he went to his station house and told the sergeant that he was feeling ill. "I've got a pain in my stomach and I think it comes from my hurt in the collision last night," he said. The sergeant was about to reply when Ellier fainted and fell senseless. He was carried to the hospital, where the surgeons said last night that his condition is critical.

A ROYAL ROMANCE.

PRINCE ARTHUR OF CONNAUGHT. LADY MARJORIE MANNERS.

Prince Arthur of Connaught, whose visit to this city is still fresh in the minds of all, in connection with the "Garter" mission, has, according to the London correspondent of the Manchester Dispatch, overcome the obstacles that lay in the way of his union to one of the most charming of England's daughters. The same correspondent has excellent authority for stating that his engagement to Lady Marjorie Manners, the daughter of the Duke of Rutland, will be announced before the end of the year. More than three months ago Prince Arthur's strong attachment to the daughter of an English peer had aroused great opposition from members of the court, and from members of the lady's own family, who did not wish her to contract what might appear to be a morganatic marriage. Steps, indeed, were taken to betroth him to a foreign Princess, but the Prince declared that he would either have the lady of his choice or remain unmarried.

Prince Arthur and Lady Marjorie are the eldest daughter of the Duke of Rutland, better known as the Marquis of Granby, who recently succeeded his father in the dukedom. Her mother is the grand-daughter of the twenty-fourth Earl of Crawford.

What Other People Think

BETTER TERMS.

To the Editor:—May I be allowed an opinion on the part acted by our Premier at the recent conference of Premiers at Ottawa, as one who has presented on more than one occasion to the Dominion government and parliament the financial standing of this province, all of which must be well known to these two public bodies, and the provincial Premiers to whom the Premier has so often forwarded. Our right to special financial consideration was clearly shown. No doubt, the intention of the Premiers was to discuss the claims of the provinces with a committee of cabinet, Dominion ministers for adjustment, and not solely by themselves, and not that any group of Premiers should recommend what any special province should receive. How, or why the deliberations took this form, or why our Premier acquiesced in taking that turn, as he went to place his claim before the Dominion government, and not to have it subject to the opinions, or whim of the provincial Premiers, I do not understand. Sir Wilfrid Laurier being desirous the Premiers should be unanimous in their recommendations so that all provinces should receive uniform treatment, but the case of British Columbia being one for special treatment, and not for uniformity, Mr. McBride did not say in his speech on arrival in Victoria that on the Premiers not agreeing to his proposition for a sliding scale of increased subsidies, that on withdrawing from the conference he laid his case, and claim, before Sir Wilfrid Laurier, hoping for fair and just treatment. This may have done but I do not know. Nor did he mention the $15,000 which was recommended by the conference as well as the one million dollars payable in ten annual instalments. If these two sums could be had in the same amount going down on your knees, it would be a great help to the province, and would aid in establishing schools in new districts, and in opening many miles of roads. The refusal of one, or of both these sums was unwise and regrettable. The door for some years to the reopening of "better terms" case. As a British Columbian with a deep interest in the welfare of the country, I do sincerely think the recommendation (for that is all we should have been accepted, and trust that as time went on that changes and additions of a substantial character would be made. Will either or both of the amounts mentioned be granted to the province next year? Who knows? It is not often refusals are forced on persons, or on countries. At the reception Mr. McBride promised, or threatened, increased taxation consequent on the opening up of new districts by railways, and population coming in regarding schools and roads, unless increased subsidies were received. Would it not be more statesmanlike to say there is no legal claim on the Dominion government to increase the provincial revenue by the sale of land, and legitimate taxation from mines, timber and other sources, which governments so well know how to secure. In his speech he referred to a probable appeal to the Imperial government on the question of "better terms," and that should an amendment to the British North America Act be passed, that is all we should have special views given effect to in an Imperial amendment. The wishes of the Dominion government would prevail over that of any provincial government. When Judge Walkers appeared to the colonial office some years ago on the non-fulfillment of the conditions on which the province joined the federation, he had a good case—a breach of contract. In the present case there is no breach of contract now, so that our Premier would have no breach with which to come before the colonial office.

Without entertaining any such appeal the Premier thus gained a very important point, an admission that his province is entitled to special consideration, and if he had played his cards wisely the province would most likely have fared better. My advice is to follow up this admission in a statesmanlike way, setting for this purpose the colonial office to one side, which the most could only recommend, but could not command.
