HE OBSERVED HIS ORDERS.

John was the new English butler in the employ of a Philadelphia family. When John first came he was told by the mistress of the house that she was always at home to her sister, who was a frequent visitor to the house. John on her next visit, and the mistress was satisfied in her mind that John would obey his orders.

Every time the sister called John would admit the welcome guest with reverent respect. It was her custom to ask before entering if her mistress was in, and it always happened that she was, so John would nod and proceed to her in.

But one day it happened that his mistress was out when the sister called. When John went to the door, she, as usual, asked if her sister was in, to which John nodded in the affirmative and bowed her in. John's business at that moment took him out into the yard, and he left her in the parlor. Discovering herself of her wraps, the visitor began to look for her sister, but seeing no signs of her downstairs, concluded she was on one of the upper floors, and went upstairs. Of course, she failed to find her, and thinking that the butler might be mistaken, went down stairs to inquire of him again. She found him out in the yard, and calling to him asked if he thought his mistress had gone out, as she could not find her in the house.

John, after meditating a moment, replied—

"Yes, Mum, she's 'bout."

"Oh!" exclaimed the sister, "why, I thought you said she was at home!"

"Yes, Mum," came the solemn reply, "but she told me that she was always at home to you!"—September Lippincott.

ABSENT-MINDED.

An old gentleman who was very absent-minded often had to ring for his servant and say—

"James, I am looking for something, and now I can't remember what it is."

And then James would suggest—

"Your purse, sir, or spectacles or checkbook?" and so on, until the old gentleman would say at last—

"Of course, that's it. Thank you, James."

One night the old gentleman had gone to his room and all were in bed when James was startled by hearing his master's bedroom bell. He rushed up stairs and threw open the door.

"James," said the old gentleman, "I came up here for something and now can't remember what it was."

"Wasn't it to go to bed, sir?"

"Of course," said the old gentleman, "so it was. Thank you, James."

BITTEN BY DOGS.

Death of Several Animals Demanded.

During the past few days there have been several complaints lodged with the police to the effect that dogs have been biting children. In one instance the dog was shot by a police officer, but in at least two instances the owners refused to allow the dog to be killed.

In the police court this morning, Wm. T. Wolf was charged with allowing a vicious dog to run at large. Mr. Wolf denied the charge.

James F. King said his little girl had been bitten and the little one offered to show the wound to his honor.

Mr. Wolf stated that the animal in question was a house dog and a family pet and instead of being a vicious beast was a little Yorkshire terrier.

Questioned by the magistrate, the little King girl admitted that she was in the hall where Mr. Wolf resides when the dog bit her.

His honor called attention to the fact that a man may have a ferocious dog and not conflict with any law as long as he does not let the dog to run at large. In this case the dog was in the owner's home and he would not do anything in the matter.

The dog is valued at one hundred dollars by the owner, and is considered to be the best dog in the city.

During the hearing of the case it came out that Mr. Wolf is the owner of two dogs but only has a license for one.

The young men are being wished well on all sides. They leave this week for Moose Jaw, where they will make their new home.

A GREAT PICNIC.

Grocers With a Large Crowd of Friends are Having a Big Time Today.

The grocers were greatly favored as regards weather in connection with their picnic at Watters' Landing today. The arrangements have been very thoroughly made, and so far everything has been very successful and promises to be so to the finish. About two hundred went up on the Champlain at 8:30, and six hundred more followed at ten o'clock. The majestic at noon and the Champlain at 1:30 took up some hundreds more. In the afternoon the crowd was so great that a second boat had to be chartered to accommodate the party. Dinner was served and afterwards the large party settled down to enjoy themselves in true picnic fashion. An excellent programme of sports was arranged, and there will be few dull moments before the picnicers return at 7 and 7:30 p. m. The Artillery band played excellent selections on the Champlain on the ten o'clock and 1:30 trips. The band remains on the grounds for the afternoon.

The committees in charge were as follows:

DYNAMITE CAP EXPLODED.

Young Man Poked At It With a Match and Had His Hand Badly Shattered.

Last night people residing in the vicinity of the corner of British and German streets were startled by a loud explosion. Many rushed to doors and windows, and for a time there was considerable excitement. A crowd soon collected about two young men, one of whom was groaning with pain caused by a severe wound to one hand. He was at once taken to P. J. Donohue's drug store and from there to Dr. Bernard's office. The doctor at once ordered his removal to the hospital, where the injured hand was dressed.

Dr. Grant, who attended the patient, found that the tops of two fingers were missing and that the palm of the hand was badly lacerated.

The young man, who gave his name as John Adams of Detroit, and his friend William Holm, who was with him at the time of the accident, said that the accident was caused by the explosion of a dynamite cap. Holm says that he had the cap in possession for some time and did not know what it was. He and Adams, who is on a visit here, were examining it and Adams put a match into the cap to see if there was anything in it. He first lit the match outside and then put the match in the shell. He was pushing the match in rather hard when suddenly the explosion occurred. The shock threw him backwards and he nearly fell.

Holm has a narrow escape from injury the other day as he was going to put the cap on a gun and explode it. The cap was one of the kind used for the explosion of dynamite and contained a small charge of fulminate of mercury.

At the hospital this morning it was announced that young Adams was doing as well as could be expected under the circumstances.

ONE TRUE BILL FOUND.

Dixon Will Be Tried for Theft—Logan Goes Free—Jury Congratulates Judge Carleton.

The county court resumed business this morning. Judge Carleton presiding. Some delay was caused by the lateness of some of the grand jury.

Dressing the jury said they were to be congratulated on having only two criminal cases, neither of which were very serious. The judge then very briefly outlined the two cases.

While the grand jury was called, E. R. Chapman appeared for the plaintiff. The defendant after entering an appearance did not appear to plead.

After proof of judgment and presentment a verdict was given for the plaintiff for $141.60, being amount of a bill found.

In the case of King vs. Dixon a true bill was found, but the grand jury failed to find a bill in the case against Logan.

The grand jury then read an address congratulating Judge Carleton on his advancement to the bench. H. A. McKown and Daniel Mullin also expressed themselves in accord with the address. E. S. Ritchie was also going to speak, but the judge said it was getting too overpowering and in a few apt words thanked the grand jury and the members of the bar.

H. A. McKown then moved for the discharge of Logan, which was granted.

As some of the jurymen wished to go to the grocers' picnic, the court was adjourned until ten o'clock tomorrow, when the case of King vs. Dixon will come up. The Littlejohn appeal case will come up tomorrow afternoon.

JUNK DEALERS REPORTED.

Police Take Action Against Unlicensed Dealers—Inspector Not Yet Appointed.

At a meeting of the safety board on Monday a motion was passed to the effect that an inspector should be appointed to look after junk dealers and second hand goods. It was decided that the inspector should be a member of the police force and that he should be appointed by the chief of police.

In the past Detective Killen has kept a close eye on the junk dealers, while he has secured a list of articles purchased by the second hand dealers each day. It is now generally understood that Mr. Killen will get the appointment, which will give him a small percentage on all licenses paid. This junk business has been one that has caused considerable confusion of late. Several dealers say that they applied at the mayor's office for a license, but were told to call again. The new license is being carried on. Those reported are Ernest Williams, Nathan Haller, David Bolt and Daniel Doherty.

This is not the first time that boxes in this locality have been monkeyed with, and if the authorities locate the parties who are doing this work they will be severely dealt with.
