The corner stone of the new Royal that the building will be completed in May.

A special meeting of the board of works was held yesterday afternoon, for the purpose of considering the permanent pavement question. The board cost and durability of the pavement Gallagher, the man arrested early in the week for being drunk, breaking a window and threatening to assault his wife, and whose wife informed the court that she would not live with him again, went to jail with the thoughts of a long sentence before him. This morning the wife came home to find him in court pleading for his liberty.

His employer promised to take him back to work, and he was allowed to go under a suspended sentence and liable to arrest if seen entering a liquor store.

Mrs. Tobias Cross, a respected resident of Beaver Harbor, committed suicide at her home last Wednesday by drinking carbolic acid. Mrs. Cross has been subject to fits of melancholy since the death of a sister, about a year and a half ago. About six months ago she was placed in the Provincial Hospital very much improved in health. On Wednesday her husband came home to find his wife unconscious from the effects of the drug. Although medical help was secured the woman died that night.

NEW HOTEL IN CARLETON.
Some weeks ago the Blue Rock and with a thorough renovating has been made an up-to-date place.

The new hostelry will be known as the hotel has been wired and the rooms all lighted by electric lights.

For years past the large building was known as the Blue Rock House, and the proprietor was Charles Shan-

MRS. MCCONNELL MAY

BE ONE OF THE HEIRS

To the Estate of a Former St. John Woman Who Recently Died
In Boston

A firm of lawyers in Boston are anxious to discover the whereabouts of the relatives of Lucy Hopkins, who lived here some twenty odd years ago. This lady died lately and left an estate which will fall to the surviving relatives, some of whom it is believed are in this province.

The deceased woman is known to have been the daughter of Wm. and Catherine Hopkins and to have been born in this city. She, however, left here and went to the United States, locating in Lincoln, Mass., where about twenty years ago she married a man by the name of Joseph Underwood.

A short time ago Mr. Underwood passed away, and his death was soon followed by that of his wife. They left no family, and the administrators of the estate wish now to find traces of the St. John relatives.

In connection with this, Mrs. Robert McConnell, of 601 Main street, is inclined to the belief that she may be one of the persons sought. Mrs. Mc-Connell previous to her marriage was Miss Elizabeth Hopkins, daughter of Solomon Hopkins, formerly a well known St. John citizen. Her father had a brother named William, who lived here for the greater part of his life. Mrs. McConnell at one time had a complete record of the family, but it was destroyed some years ago, and she is not certain as to the names of the members of her uncle William's family. She knows however that the name of Underwood is involved in some way, and think the person thus distantly related to herself may have been the Joseph Underwood referred to by William Young, the letter carrier, who was an intimate friend of Mrs. Mc-Connell's father, and it is possible that he may recollect more particulars as to the members of the different families.
Mrs. McConnell will be hired by Mrs. Rogers, of Moncton, is another daughter of Solomon Hopkins.

A BUNCH OF QUEER ONES IN POLICE COURT

There were ten prisoners on the police court bench this morning.

Charles Diggs, a well known commercial traveller for shoe laces, matches, etc., has slumped back to laboring yesterday he had a contract in which he claimed to the court this morning was to carry "a little bit of furniture" in his dinner can. He could not carry the bag and engaged a room in a Mill street vestibule. Policeman Mc-Namee took charge of Charles and the can of ale and they were only separated, when they reached the Water street lockup. Separation was not proper according to Diggs for he repeatedly asked that his can of tea be passed in to him as he was thirsty. An investigation of the dinner can showed that it was partly full of ale and not tea.

Diggs informed the magistrate this morning that this was the first time he had been in court since he wore the "goose house plaster" on his back and if let go he would not again bother about liquor on the street but would wait and tackle it at home.

Charles was fined $8 which was allowed to stand pending his good behavior in the future.

Wm. Kain, Jack Caffery, Wm. Mc-Namee, and Alphonse Ried were fined $4 or 10 days jail. Patrick Cahillan was drunk and raising a disturbance on Sheffield street last evening. He was fined $12 or 40 days jail for both offences.

Cornelius Sheehan was remanded to jail for wandering about King street early this morning and not giving a satisfactory account of himself.

Mary Ann Brooks was charged with being drunk and re-avering on Frederick street. She was fined $15 or four months jail.

Fred Keith, the drunk who escaped from the police early yesterday morning, was retaken by Policeman Mc-Namee, who last evening found him drunk and in bed with a flask of liquor in a Pond street boarding house. Keith tried to throw in a story to the magistrate that he had been wrecked on a vessel near Musquash, that his weakness was not from liquor but from fatigue he received on the cruel rocks.
The story didn't work and the prisoner was fined $8 or two months on the charge of drunkenness and remanded on the charge of escaping.

Edward Cook, a big tough looking fellow answered his name like a consumptive, the court surroundings having taken his breath away. He admitted being drunk but did not remember wallowing Tom Burchill the policeman on the mouth, or resisting the police so violently that the good natured officer was obliged to play ping pong on his head with the baton so hard that the prisoner and his angry passions could be bundled together on a sloven. The policeman has a sore mouth from the crazy drunk who was fined $5 or two months with hard labor.

POLICE REPORTS.

Contractor Hamilton was reported in the police court this morning for not complying with the law regarding having staking, etc., properly lighted at night on the public street. Policeman Marshall explained that the contractor was reported twice on Waterloo street and once on Brussels street, and also for allowing a lumber wagon to remain on the street over night. Mr.
Hamilton explained that he had lighted lighters against the staking, but did not know it against the law regarding the wagon. He was excused for he latter but held liable for the wagon.

The civil court case of Mrs. Addie Campbell of Fairville vs. Brager & Sons of Mill street was resumed in the court this morning, and after the evidence for the defense was received Judge Ritchie reserved judgment. Mrs.
Campbell sued for $4 and for goods not alivered.

The makers of 20th Century Brand Gavemans pay a Designer a salary that not a single Custom Tailor in Canada could afford to pay. It equals the total sales of some Custom Tailors for a year. They divide his salary into so many Suits and Overcoats that the cost of his talent is only a few pennies on each Garment. Most Custom Tailors buy in Drug Store quantities at Jewelry Shop prices. The 20th Century Brand Makers buy Cloth by the Hun-
