LED TO ALTAR
PRINCE IN MONTH
BY STABLE BOY

Miss Suffern Aged 64 Years,
Married to Robert Hiscock
Aged 23, at Greenwich,
Conn.

Greenwich, Conn., Oct. 23.—For the second time within a month Miss Jeanette Suffern, of Glen Rock, N. J., an heiress, 64 years old, whose affairs of the heart have made her conspicuous within the last few weeks, has been led to the altar by Robert Hiscock, 23 years old, formerly a stable boy, who disappeared shortly after the first marriage ceremony was performed at Paterson, N. J., last month.

The second ceremony took place here today after Miss Suffern and the youthful bridegroom arrived from New York city, where Miss Suffern has been stopping at the Alliance House,
No. 25 West Forty-fourth street. The couple would give no information concerning their plans, and departed together after the double knot had been tied by Frederick A. Hubbard, Deputy Judge of the Greenwich Borough
Court. Miss Suffern did not explain how she found Mr. Hiscock and gave no details of the ceremony.

Rush of 200,000 To Dakotas To Snap Up 20,000 Free Farms

Smart Young Women, Old Women, Salaried City Men and Farmers' Boys
All Take Part In the Registration For Free Land In the Standing Rock and Cheyenne Districts--- Sioux Indians To Be Routed From Their Old Hunting Grounds.

In the Registration Line at Aberdeen, S. D.

By J. H. McKeever.
Aberdeen, S. D., Oct. 23.—When 200,000 people want a chance to win homes in a free land drawing where 20,000 can be satisfied, somebody is bound to lose. The great influx of home seekers here to register during the past week or so has brought to Aberdeen the title of "the city of anxious hearts."

Hundreds come on every train, register, then depart on the next train east. As a consequence there is much gloom among the citizens.

Excitement in Air.
But there is something doing every minute here these days. There's excitement in the air. Even the stolid Sioux, whose old hunting grounds are to be ripped open soon by the settler's plow, show it as they hunch themselves along the streets, drawing their blankets close about them as protection from the chilly winds.

They furnish the most pathetic part of the big land show which Uncle Sam is staging here and at Moberly, Pierre, Le Beau, Lemmon and Bismarck. For, with the passing of the Standing Rock and Cheyenne river lands goes the last stand of the Indian in the great northwest.

Where once the rifles of Rain-In-The-Face and Sitting Bull cracked, fields of waving grain soon will grow on 20,000 farms.

Seen Everywhere.
Young men, sons of eastern and middle west farmers, are seen everywhere. Other youths, too, are in the crowds which tramp up and down Main street and crowd around the registry office at the Dakota National bank.

The clatter of horses' hoofs over brick streets is as likely to be made by riders as cowboys. The women here are great riders, and a pretty Aberdeen belle mounted astride a full tilt is as common a sight on the streets as a rubber tired buggy in the cities farther east.

The first lodgers in the Masonic temple's temporary hotel were three young girls: Esther Babcock, Maude Hoover and Bess Richmond, all of Cedar Rapids, Ia.

"My! Isn't it lonely here!" said Miss Babcock, as she found the three the only guests at the place. "But I suppose we will have to get used to being lonely, if we're going to make good farmers."

Miss Nora Brown and her "ahh," she expects to win a farm and live on it.

live on a pancake diet and coax out of the soil for at least 14 months before Uncle Sam will give them title to their farms.

One of the luckiest young women is Miss Eleanor Brown, a T. schoolmarm. When she registers and was asked her name, she said: "Put it down just plain Nora. The folks named me Eleanor, but if I'm to be a farmer I must as well start farming now."

Built Shack.
She bought a fine saddle horse and built a shack at the border of the Cheyenne reservation.

Despite the frost that fell on the night of the registration here, Geo. R. Graham, of Cleveland, Miss. Elsie, a sister of the late John D. Rockefeller, who had not met for 25 years found each other the same way.

The oldest woman to apply for a home was 78 years old. There have been many aged only 21 to register.

Winners of Voting Contests and Prizes at E. D. C. Autumn Fair.

Dr. Emery and Dr. F. C. Bonnell Most Popular in Voting Contests—Drawings for the Special Prizes This Week.

The Autumn Fair of the Every Day Club, which was successful far beyond the anticipation of the club, closed Saturday night with a large attendance throughout the evening.

Before the close, Alderman Potts sold at auction what was left on the fancy table, and his running fire of humorous comment kept the crowd in a buying order.

In the contest for the most popular physician, the friends of Dr. G. A. B. Addy were out in force but could not pull down the great majority polled for Dr. A. F. Emery the night before.

Mr. Morrison's Estate.
Frederick, Oct. 23.—It is understood the late Frank L. Morrison left an estate valued at $75,000, and perhaps even more. It is stated that he carried life insurance to the amount of about $20,000, while he held 38 per cent of the total stock of the Frederick Gas Light Company. Mr. Morrison left a will. One of the executors, Stewart L. Morrison, manager of the Hart-Morrison, Limited, grocery business, will succeed his late brother as

WHITE SLAVE TRAFFIC AND TAMMANY HALL

A New Issue is Introduced Into New York's Civic Contest
---Magazine Out With Vigorous Arraignment.

CANDIDATES DECLINE TO DISCUSS MATTER

New York, N. Y., Oct. 23.—Slavery became a live issue in the municipal campaign today—not the slavery which produced Uncle Tom's Cabin, and the denunciatory eloquence of the 60's—but that nineteenth century system known as the White Slave Traffic, which has afforded so much material for the present day reformers. The growth of this system under Tammany Hall, according to a writer for the current issue of McClure's Magazine, has lately been the subject of a local press, hostile to the Democratic ticket, headed by William J. Gaynor, conducting a new attack, while the Republican Fusion outsiders and the supporters of W. B. Hearst have found new fuel for a heated campaign.

Daughters of the Poor.
The article is printed in McClure's under a sub-title which says: "The Daughters of the Poor—A Plain Story of the development of New York as a leading center of the white slave trade of the world, under Tammany Hall."

And this is a sample of the charges made: "The story of the introduction of this European business into New York, under the protection of the Tammany Hall political organization would seem incredible if it were not thoroughly substantiated by the records of recent municipal exposures in New York; the great American cities, by two independent investigations by the United States Government during the past year and by the common knowledge of the people of the east side tenement district of New York, whose daughters and friends' daughters have been chiefly exploited by it."

A Double Influence.
The introduction of this system has a double influence upon our cities. On the one side it has great political importance, for the reason that more and more with the growing concentration of the slum population upon this field, the procurer and marketer of women tends to hold the balance in city elections. This is true, not alone in New York, but in Philadelphia and Chicago have been convinced that the registration and casting of fraudulent votes in disorderly places in those cities may be a serious factor for the future. A close contested election for the city of New York, for instance, may be won by the thousands are cast from these resorts."

Charles J. Murphy, leader of Tammany Hall, characterized the charges as "nonsensical" this afternoon. "Too big drawing will be worth at least $30,000. No farm of 160 acres in the reservation but what will be worth at least $15 an acre."

So it means something to be a winner in the land lottery.

Friends long apart have been reunited through the registration here. Geo. R. Graham, of Cleveland, Miss. Elsie, a sister of the late John D. Rockefeller, who had not met for 25 years found each other the same way.

The oldest woman to apply for a home was 78 years old. There have been many aged only 21 to register.

Mrs. Turner Is Given 15 Years In Kingston

MRS. MABEL TURNER.

Toronto, Oct. 23.—Mrs. Mabel Turner, who was on Thursday found guilty of manslaughter in strangling the infant of Mrs. Atmore, which she had been paid $100 to do, was this afternoon sentenced by Judge Masse to serve 15 years in Kingston penitentiary.

Mr. G. T. Blackstock, K.C., who conducted the Turner case for the crown, described the verdict as being most extraordinary and absurd. "The jury's verdict was absurd, perfectly absurd. It was a terrible fall down but I don't see how anything can be done about it. The jury's verdict is irrevocable."

GERMAN POLICE FIND CLUE TO ISLIP VICTIM

May Be Anna Mueller, All Trace of Whom, With Her Husband, Was Lost After They Arrived from Prussia.

Hamburg, Oct. 23.—The Hamburg police, who under instructions from the German government have been investigating the various clues in connection with the finding of the body of a young woman near Islip, L. I., are convinced that the body is that of Anna Latter, who formerly lived in Altona in Schleswig-Holstein, Prussia. She was married in February, 1908, to an architect named Mueller and the couple started for New York. The police state that both are missing.

The theory of the authorities here is strengthened by the fact that the initials "A. L." on the watch found in the woods stand for Anna Latter.

Anticipated News.
Islip, L. I., Oct. 23.—Coroner Savage when informed that the German police had partly identified the dead woman as Anna Latter, of Altona, Schleswig-Holstein, who married an architect named Mueller, was pleased.

"I believed from first to last," he said, "that the identification would come from Germany. Everything pointed to the clothing, jewelry and receipts bills having come from there. It should now be possible to pick up the clue after the arrival of the couple in New York."

In this country one finds ahead of coming fresh from Germany would likely seek friends and acquaintances, and from them we may obtain the clues we need now.

"District Attorney Furman's men will give all the aid they can, and the New York police will probably give us aid. Then, too, fuller details from Germany may enable us to pick up the trail."

Not a Suicide.
"I am fully convinced the woman was murdered and was not a suicide. The absence of any revolver near the body shows that. Then there was a second bullet. The one which entered the jaw fell out onto the ground and was found where the head had lain. Where the other entered may never be known, but the bones will be examined carefully for any mark."

The second bullet was found yesterday in the box in which the bones lay while in the undertaking establishment.

Much interest attaches to the story of a road house keeper whose identity remains a secret, but who, it is believed, may prove a most important witness.

He sent word to the authorities that a year ago or so two men and a woman visited his place in an automobile and drank long and freely. They talked excitedly and angrily at times about some money and land. They sometimes used English and sometimes German, and all three seemed to be Germans. The woman wore a yellowish or drab automobile veil and had jewelry on. All three were pretty well under the influence of liquor when they left his place, around ten o'clock. He was closing up again at night, when the men rode up again and wanted gasoline. He had none, and he told them the nearest place to get it was at Babylon. This the woman retorted, because they did not

ALLAN AND FURNESS LINES IN NEW PACT

Business of Former, With the Exception of the Liverpool Service, To Be Handled by the Latter.

Halifax, N. S., Oct. 23.—The business of the Allan & S. S. Company with the exception of the direct Liverpool service, will be handled by the Furness, Withy and Co., after November 9th. This important change has been made public today. Messrs. S. Cunard and Co. will retain the agency of the direct Liverpool steamers, but Furness, Withy and Co., will be joint booking agent with the old agent, the Glasgow, London and Havre boats will be handled exclusively by the Furness people as well as the "all-year-round" fortnightly service from Liverpool and Glasgow to Halifax and Philadelphia via Newfoundland.

The Furness company have been looking towards inaugurating a passenger service in connection with its business. The change has doubtless been made to avoid competition.
